South African Race Riot Deaths Mount

Negroes Burn Buildings, Draw Police Gunfire

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Negro rioting against South Africa's white supremacy laws erupted again Tuesday. Negroes burned buildings near Cape Town, then stoned firemen who fought the blazes. Police fired on the mobs for the second day in a row.

New casualty figures were coming in, but there was no firm estimate of how far they would rise above Monday's toll of at least 66 dead. This is a police figure admittedly incomplete.

There were also several hundred injured.

None of the reports mentioned any whites killed in the outbreaks that erupted during what had been planned as a nonviolent protest against the passes Negroes must carry day and night.

Thousands of police enforced an uneasy truce on the Negro quarter of Sharpeville in the coal mining district south of Johannesburg. Sharpeville was the scene of Monday's major riot where at least 50 Negroes died.

The new outbreaks centered around the black settlement of Langa, outside Cape Town, where at least six Negroes were killed Monday.

Resentful Africans hid in the bush around their villages. One police patrol near Langa was ambushed by a number of Negroes. A police sergeant opened fire and wounded one of the attackers.

The situation also set off a political uproar. Opposition parties demanded a searching investigation of the violence. The Johannesburg Star said South Africa's world standing is being undermined and demanded "an end to this drift to disaster."

The police violence also brought an extraordinary denunciation from Washington. The State Department said the United States "cannot help but regret the tragic loss of life resulting from the measures taken against the demonstrators in South Africa."

During the night, Negroes in Langa set fire to at least eight buildings including churches, the library, a recreation hall, a reception center, an office building and Negro settlement workshops. Street lights were smashed.

The battle between the police and the mobs was waged by the light of the fires and the piercing beams of searchlights.

The rioters first stoned the firemen, who retreated and returned later under police escort to continue fighting the blazes.

Reports of rioting also came from Nyanga West, another Negro settlement near Cape Town. Police fired on Africans who tried to set fire to an electrical department building, the reports said.

Negroes in Langa and Sharpeville also resorted to labor pressure—a potentially potent weapon in this nation where 10 million Negroes provide the low-cost labor base for three million whites.

In Sharpeville, Negro sit-down strikers were reported trying to keep others from going to work. In Langa, a police official charged that Negroes wanting to go to their jobs "have been intimidated by terrorists."

Mamie Van Doren Divorces Bandleader

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Mamie Van Doren divorced bandleader Ray Anthony Tuesday, testifying he would "stay away months at a time without telling me where he was going."

And when he was home, she said, he was uninterested in his family.

Spring Storm Packs Winter's Full Punch

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A spring storm packing winter's full punch hit wide areas of the eastern half of the nation Tuesday with road-blocking snow and ear-tingling cold.

Icy winds swept the area, sharpening the sting of the unseasonal cold. Indiana had wind gusts up to 51 m.p.h., Ohio 52 m.p.h., northern Illinois 66 m.p.h. and western Michigan 77 m.p.h.

The snow and whipping winds caused blizzard conditions in some areas.

Hundreds of schools closed in Michigan when snow drifts blocked rural roads. Munising in the Upper Peninsula was snowed in temporarily with all roads blocked. Power failures forced two Flint hospitals to switch to emergency service.

Swirling winds piled up snow drifts 5 and 6 feet deep in northeastern Ohio. Rural schools closed in some counties. Poor visibility made travel hazardous both for motorists and pedestrians. Up to a foot of snow fell in the northeastern part of the state.

Some main highways were blocked in Indiana. U.S. 41 was closed north of Boswell between Chicago and Terre Haute.

The storm spread snow from Michigan and Ohio eastward into the Middle and North Atlantic States.

Wind gusts between 40-50 m.p.h. blocked some rural roads in Pennsylvania. Some schools closed and others opened late. Western Pennsylvania had 1 to 8 inches of snow.

Some schools along the West Virginia border closed down for the 10th time this season because of snow. Up to an inch fell in Highland County.

Light snow fell in New York City.

12 Negro Boys Held In Slaying Of White Youth

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 17-year-old white honor student, knifed to death outside his house, apparently was the innocent victim of a revenge attack by a group of Negro boys.

"Smash him," one shouted, and a fist hit the white youth in the mouth. Then, in the general scuffle that followed, he was stabbed in the chest.

Chief Inspector John J. Kelly said Norman Wilson Jr., 17, admitted in a signed statement, that he wielded the knife.

Campiglia's father, a night worker at a factory, was reading in his bedroom when he heard the street noise. Only partly dressed, he ran outside and found his only son lying near the front step.

Twelve boys were arrested, eleven on homicide charges. One was charged with being an accessory after the fact. All were held for a hearing Wednesday.

Ex-Grid Coach Has Top Fashion Design Winner

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "I have more girl friends than any man alive,'" says tall, dignified Clifton Wilhite, beaming at a bevy of adoring teen-agers vying for his attention.

"But my two best girl-friends are my two daughters, Carmen, 16, and Gay, 11. They like me best when there's a party coming up."

Wilhite, a native of Dallas, is a former high school history teacher and football coach who switched to the fashion business in 1953, and now is reviving the tradition of the Southern belle, complete with hoop skirts.

"Making beautiful dresses for beautiful girls is much more fun than coaching tough young football players. And it's great, too, to be the most popular father in Texas," he said.

Wilhite's preview of his latest collection of dance confections was a highlight of Tuesday's Press Week showings by the Dallas fashion manufacturers. His most sought-after models are dreamy debutante ball gowns made of countless yards of tulle in tender pastels, with multiple petticoats and king-size hoops. A girl wearing a Wilhite formal needs the whole back seat of a car all to herself.

Even case-hardened fashion editors here to review the current crop of Texas fashions gasped with purely feminine delight as a lovely blonde teen-ager appeared on the runway wearing approximately a mile of pale blue tulle ruffles cascading from a rose-trimmed Basque bodice and caught up in a bustle effect in back.

Herter Calls Big 4 Summit Talks Gamble

Secretary Expects Little Progress In Resolving Disputes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter conceded Tuesday the summit meeting is a gamble and said he is not optimistic it will yield much progress toward settling East-West disputes.

But in this era of pushbutton weapons "there are too many chances for miscalculation, of misunderstanding to risk taking the position that we will not sit down and talk with anybody," Herter told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Discussion of the coming summit meeting overshadowed Herter's main reason for appearing—to urge approval of President Eisenhower's $4,175,000,000 foreign aid program.

No Formal Agenda

Under sharp questioning by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn), Herter said Eisenhower is going without a formal agenda to the May 16 meeting in Paris with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and British and French leaders.

But Eisenhower is ready to discuss the Berlin stalemate, German disarmament or other issues, Herter said.

Gore told Herter he was deeply disturbed that the United States is going to the summit "without purpose, without plan, without hope of success."

"It's a gamble," Herter acknowledged.

"You are gambling with high stakes and it seems to me in a rather reckless manner," Gore retorted.

Herter said he was "very frank to admit I'm not too optimistic that the summit will produce very great results."

1955 Meeting Discouraging

The 1955 summit conference at Geneva was "a very discouraging one," Herter said.

"There seemed to be agreement at a high level which never filtered down to lower-level negotiators," he added.

Supporting Herter, Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan) contended a no-agenda conference would be better than Yalta and Tehran where he said there were "high hopes and an agenda," but failure nevertheless. The Yalta and Tehran conferences, during World War II, were attended by Democratic President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Soviet Premier Due To Arrive In Paris Today

PARIS (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev flies into Paris Wednesday for a presummit visit. His every movement throughout France for 12 days will be protected by police and soldiers.

President Charles de Gaulle will personally greet Khrushchev, the first government chief of Russia to visit France since Czar Nicholas II called here with Czarina Alexandra Oct. 6, 1896.

Until Khrushchev's return to Moscow April 3 they will have a dozen hours of conference on such delicate subjects as disarmament, nuclear standstill Berlin and German reunification.

About 200,000 of France's five million who vote Communist expect to help welcome Khrushchev at his last important meeting with a Western official before the East-West summit conference opens here May 16.

During his 12-day stay, he will make a quick tour of 17 French cities and towns. Despite its political importance, many Frenchmer treated the visit almost as a part of the spring's entertainment.

"I am going to show you something you never expected to see," said a taxi driver, and he swung his cab over by De Gaulle's Elysee Palace. "Voila, the hammer and sickle flying over the Elysee Palace."

President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan already have had official meetings with Khrushchev. De Gaulle forced postponement of a summit conference last fall so he would not have to go into the conference in a position less elect than theirs.

Penalty Trial Of Motherwell Goes To Jury

DOWNIEVILLE, Calif. (UPI)—The prosecution urged in closing arguments Tuesday that a jury send Larry Lord Motherwell to the gas chamber for slaying wealthy Washington, D. C., widow Mrs. Pearl Putney.

"Let us not mince words," said Prosecutor Lynn D. Compton, "kill him."

The jury of nine women and three men which found Motherwell guilty a week ago, got the issue of his sentence at 2:30 p.m. in the Superior Court of Judge Warren Steel after arguments by prosecuting and defense attorneys.

A few years ago there would have been no question of Motherwell's sentence, Compton said. But, since then, "we have become coddlers of criminals." He said the state had uncovered "a cesspool in this man's life." When people became problems for Motherwell "they just seemed to die," Compton said.

Defense counsel John Reges told the jury that Motherwell never admitted the murder of Mrs. Putney. "We will be back in Downieville with appeal after appeal," he said. If given life the 43-year-old convict would probably be imprisoned for at least 30 years instead of the seven claimed by the prosecution, Reges said.

Motherwell was convicted for the slaying of Mrs. Putney whose remains were found buried on a mountainside near here a year after she disappeared in 1958. She was last seen alive with Motherwell at Marysville, Calif.

Titan Is Fired 5,000 Miles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force successfully fired its Titan intercontinental range missile Tuesday over a 5,000-mile course for the second time.

An announcement shortly after launch reported that all test objectives were met and that the nose cone landed in the intended impact area in the South Atlantic.

The Titan covered the 5,000-mile distance for the first time on Feb. 24. The only Titan launched since then fizzled in flight when the second stage failed to ignite.

The success probably will relieve some of the pressure exerted on the program by a rash of troubles that have plagued the Titan in the last 10 months.

Propelled by the 300,000 pounds of thrust generated by its first-stage engine, the 98-foot rocket rose smoothly from its pad and streaked across the sky. Two minutes later, the missile's huge 41-foot second stage ignited with a puff of fire visible to ground observers.

Remains Of 63 Plane Dead May Be Left In Crater

TELL CITY, Ind., (UPI)—Digging crews Tuesday unearthed a mass grave of the 63 persons who died in the crash of a Northwest Orient Electra airliner Thursday.

The broken bodies were discovered beneath twisted debris in the 50-foot crater which the exploding fuselage dug in a muddy Indiana farm field near the Ohio River.

At the crash site, officials debated what to do about the mass grave. Local authorities were to meet at 1 p.m. Wednesday to decide whether to continue digging or bury the victims as they lay.

The discovery added new tragedy and horror to memorial services scheduled for the dead at Tell City Wednesday.

A Northwest Orient plane carrying 65 persons to the Tell City services was delayed 40 minutes after someone telephoned the airline and said a bomb had been placed aboard an airliner at Wold Chamberlain Field.

9 Marines Rescued By Japanese Vessel

TOKYO, Wednesday (UPI) — The U. S. Marines said nine Marines were rescued Tuesday night by a Japanese fishing boat as they drifted helplessly off Formosa.

Marine officials here said the men were probably taking part in the giant military maneuvers now being held on Formosa.

The men were picked up Tuesday by the 153-ton fishing boat Kotoshiro Maru No. 3 under the command of Capt. Saburo Hamak about 15 miles off southern Formosa.

It was not known immediately how long the Marines had drifted or in what physical condition they were.

Six Killed When Train Plows Into School Bus

COY, Ala. (UPI)—A Frisco freight train ripped open a school bus at a crossing on a rural south Alabama road Tuesday killing six teen-age pupils. Fifteen others were injured, three critically.

Shifting gears frantically in an effort to stop the bus, then stepping on the accelerator trying to beat the train, Jackson slid the bus into the locomotive's path.

"There was a jarring crash and the bus came apart," he said.

"There was no panic. Most of the children didn't even scream."

State highway patrol Sgt. C. E. Canterbury said the train ripped the bus almost in two pieces. wreckage and bodies of the pupils all Negroes, were strewn 1,500 feet along the tracks.

Jackson, who suffered only a thumb injury, and some of the older students with minor injuries, picked up the bodies of the dead and critically injured pupils and carried them in their arms to a nearby house.

There were no telephones within 15 miles of the tiny, unincorporated farming town in the Alabama river bottomlands 17 miles south of Camden, Ala. Residents drove over rural back roads to Camden to summon help. Those in critical condition were moved from a Camden Hospital to Selma, Ala., 45 miles away.

Plane Carrying Four Missing In Elkins Area

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Civil Air Patrol reported Tuesday night that an Air Force C45 with four men aboard is missing in the mountainous Elkins area of West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle.

The twin-engine plane was en route from Richmond, Va., to Lockbourne Air Force Base outside Columbus, Ohio.

"We're assuming it is down," Lt. E. H. Chieves said. He is the public information officer for the CAP. He said this was all the other information available:

The last report from the plane was made at 5:30 p. m., when the position was given as 30 miles east of Elkins. There was trouble in one engine.

The C45, which carries up to seven passengers, can get by on a single engine in normal weather, but it was icing up in a heavy snow.

The report was that it had descended to 5,200 feet. That was the last that was heard.

The takeoff from Richmond had been at 3:15 p. m. The scheduled arrival time at Lockbourne was not known by the CAP in Charleston, only that it was long past.

Lt. Chieves said that preparations were being made to get radio-equipped cars and trucks searching the area starting at daylight. Elkins, like much else of the mountainous part of West Virginia, is blanketed with a heavy snow.

Whether any planes could be put up Wednesday would depend on the weather.

MONTREAL (AP) — Cancer killed a record 22,089 Canadians in 1958, the Canadian Cancer Society reports. The toll was 350 higher than 1957.

Civil Rights Bill Set Up For Passage

Provision Designed To Protect Negro Voters Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House adopted the administration's voting referee section of the civil rights bill Tuesday and moved toward early passage of the whole measure.

The vote, 199-104, could mark the beginning of the end of the long congressional battle over civil rights which began in earnest more than a month ago.

However, the House adjourned at 4:31 p.m. without getting to a final vote on the bill. It may come Wednesday.

Court-Appointed Referees

It would provide for federal agents, called referees, to be appointed by federal judges to oversee registration, voting and vote counting in areas where systematic discrimination against Negroes is found. It would apply to state and local elections as well as federal.

The administration asked for the referee plan, and its backers contended it was necessary to permit all qualified citizens to vote. They said it had been established that in some Southern areas Negroes had been clearly prevented from voting.

Opponents, most of them Southerners, argued that the proposal would mean unconstitutional federal interference with local affairs. They charged it was pushed primarily to attract political support from Negroes.

Senate Awaits House Actoin

Similar legislation is pending in the Senate, which has appeared to be awaiting House action before pressing for final passage. The Senate might adopt the House bill so as to bypass its Judiciary Committee which has not cleared civil rights legislation in this Congress.

Tuesday's House vote was on a teller count, which does not show how individuals voted. A technical confirming vote was 192-112.

The section as approved is based on a single finding of a pattern of discrimination under which all thereby discriminated against could apply for protection of a referee.

The referee plan was presented by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers as a substitute for last year's proposal by the Civil Rights Commission that federal registrars handle the job of helping Negroes vote.

Russia Would Accept A-Arm Ban Controls

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin said Tuesday, without spelling out details, that his government will accept international controls over nuclear disarmament.

Zorin suggested to the 10-nation disarmament conference that nuclear disarmament could come either early or late in a phased program for complete abolition of weapons of warfare.

Interest was aroused in the Western delegations by the unexpected flexibility the Soviet Union appears to be following in its approach to the nuclear problem.

Western delegation sources offered various theories as to why Zorin was following this tack. The most generally accepted one was that Zorin was trying to get his government's program for total disarmament within four years accepted as the basis for negotiations rather than the three-stage Western plan which mentions no time limit.

The five Western powers — the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada — would find it difficult to make radical shifts in their own program. The briefs of their delegations are closely tied to expert military advice.

There is a difference of approach, however, in the Western camp. It was spotlighted in a speech by French Delegate Jules Moch.

Moch said France believes that something more comprehensive than a suspension of atomic and hydrogen weapon tests is needed to open the road to nuclear disarmament.

"Let us not mince words," said Prosecutor Lynn D. Compton, "kill him."

The jury of nine women and three men which found Motherwell guilty a week ago, got the issue of his sentence at 2:30 p.m. in the Superior Court of Judge Warren Steel after arguments by prosecuting and defense attorneys.

A few years ago there would have been no question of Motherwell's sentence, Compton said. But, since then, "we have become coddlers of criminals." He said the state had uncovered "a cesspool in this man's life." When people became problems for Motherwell "they just seemed to die," Compton said.

Defense counsel John Reges told the jury that Motherwell never admitted the murder of Mrs. Putney. "We will be back in Downieville with appeal after appeal," he said. If given life the 43-year-old convict would probably be imprisoned for at least 30 years instead of the seven claimed by the prosecution, Reges said.

Motherwell was convicted for the slaying of Mrs. Putney whose remains were found buried on a mountainside near here a year after she disappeared in 1958. She was last seen alive with Motherwell at Marysville, Calif.

Titan Is Fired 5,000 Miles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force successfully fired its Titan intercontinental range missile Tuesday over a 5,000-mile course for the second time.

An announcement shortly after launch reported that all test objectives were met and that the nose cone landed in the intended impact area in the South Atlantic.

The Titan covered the 5,000-mile distance for the first time on Feb. 24. The only Titan launched since then fizzled in flight when the second stage failed to ignite.

The success probably will relieve some of the pressure exerted on the program by a rash of troubles that have plagued the Titar in the last 10 months.

Propelled by the 300,000 pounds of thrust generated by its first-stage engine, the 98-foot rocket rose smoothly from its pad and streaked across the sky. Two minutes later, the missile's huge 41-foot second stage ignited with a puff of fire visible to ground observers.

Remains Of 63 Plane Dead May Be Left In Crater

TELL CITY, Ind., (UPI)—Digging crews Tuesday unearthed a mass grave of the 63 persons who died in the crash of a Northwest Orient Electra airliner Thursday.

The broken bodies were discovered beneath twisted debris in the 50-foot crater which the exploding fuselage dug in a muddy Indiana farm field near the Ohio River.

At the crash site, officials debated what to do about the mass grave. Local authorities were to meet at 1 p.m. Wednesday to decide whether to continue digging or bury the victims as they lay.

The discovery added new tragedy and horror to memorial services scheduled for the dead at Tell City Wednesday.

A Northwest Orient plane carrying 65 persons to the Tell City services was delayed 40 minutes after someone telephoned the airline and said a bomb had been placed aboard an airliner at Wold Chamberlain Field.

9 Marines Rescued By Japanese Vessel

TOKYO, Wednesday (UPI) — The U. S. Marines said nine Marines were rescued Tuesday night by a Japanese fishing boat as they drifted helplessly off Formosa.

Marine officials here said the men were probably taking part in the giant military maneuvers now being held on Formosa.

The men were picked up Tuesday by the 153-ton fishing boat Kotoshiro Maru No. 3 under the command of Capt. Saburo Hamak about 15 miles off southern Formosa.

It was not known immediately how long the Marines had drifted or in what physical condition they were.

Plane Carrying Four Missing In Elkins Area

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Civil Air Patrol reported Tuesday night that an Air Force C45 with four men aboard is missing in the mountainous Elkins area of West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle.

The twin-engine plane was en route from Richmond, Va., to Lockbourne Air Force Base outside Columbus, Ohio.

"We're assuming it is down," Lt. E. H. Chieves said. He is the public information officer for the CAP. He said this was all the other information available:

The last report from the plane was made at 5:30 p. m., when the position was given as 30 miles east of Elkins. There was trouble in one engine.

The C45, which carries up to seven passengers, can get by on a single engine in normal weather, but it was icing up in a heavy snow.

The report was that it had descended to 5,200 feet. That was the last that was heard.

The takeoff from Richmond had been at 3:15 p. m. The scheduled arrival time at Lockbourne was not known by the CAP in Charleston, only that it was long past.

Lt. Chieves said that preparations were being made to get radio-equipped cars and trucks searching the area starting at daylight. Elkins, like much else of the mountainous part of West Virginia, is blanketed with a heavy snow.

Whether any planes could be put up Wednesday would depend on the weather.

Cancer Toll Mounts

MONTREAL (AP) — Cancer killed a record 22,089 Canadians in 1958, the Canadian Cancer Society reports. The toll was 350 higher than 1957.

Six Killed When Train Plows Into School Bus

COY, Ala. (UPI)—A Frisco freight train ripped open a school bus at a crossing on a rural south Alabama road Tuesday killing six teen-age pupils. Fifteen others were injured, three critically.

Shifting gears frantically in an effort to stop the bus, then stepping on the accelerator trying to beat the train, Jackson slid the bus into the locomotive's path.

"There was a jarring crash and the bus came apart," he said.

"There was no panic. Most of the children didn't even scream."

State highway patrol Sgt. C. E. Canterbury said the train ripped the bus almost in two pieces. wreckage and bodies of the pupils all Negroes, were strewn 1,500 feet along the tracks.

Jackson, who suffered only a thumb injury, and some of the older students with minor injuries, picked up the bodies of the dead and critically injured pupils and carried them in their arms to a nearby house.

There were no telephones within 15 miles of the tiny, unincorporated farming town in the Alabama river bottomlands 17 miles south of Camden, Ala. Residents drove over rural back roads to Camden to summon help. Those in critical condition were moved from a Camden Hospital to Selma, Ala., 45 miles away.

Civil Rights Bill Set Up For Passage

Provision Designed To Protect Negro Voters Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House adopted the administration's voting referee section of the civil rights bill Tuesday and moved toward early passage of the whole measure.

The vote, 199-104, could mark the beginning of the end of the long congressional battle over civil rights which began in earnest more than a month ago.

However, the House adjourned at 4:31 p.m. without getting to a final vote on the bill. It may come Wednesday.

Court-Appointed Referees

It would provide for federal agents, called referees, to be appointed by federal judges to oversee registration, voting and vote counting in areas where systematic discrimination against Negroes is found. It would apply to state and local elections as well as federal.

The administration asked for the referee plan, and its backers contended it was necessary to permit all qualified citizens to vote. They said it had been established that in some Southern areas Negroes had been clearly prevented from voting.

Opponents, most of them Southerners, argued that the proposal would mean unconstitutional federal interference with local affairs. They charged it was pushed primarily to attract political support from Negroes.

Senate Awaits House Actoin

Similar legislation is pending in the Senate, which has appeared to be awaiting House action before pressing for final passage. The Senate might adopt the House bill so as to bypass its Judiciary Committee which has not cleared civil rights legislation in this Congress.

Tuesday's House vote was on a teller count, which does not show how individuals voted. A technical confirming vote was 192-112.

The section as approved is based on a single finding of a pattern of discrimination under which all thereby discriminated against could apply for protection of a referee.

The referee plan was presented by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers as a substitute for last year's proposal by the Civil Rights Commission that federal registrars handle the job of helping Negroes vote.

Russia Would Accept A-Arm Ban Controls

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin said Tuesday, without spelling out details, that his government will accept international controls over nuclear disarmament.

Zorin suggested to the 10-nation disarmament conference that nuclear disarmament could come either early or late in a phased program for complete abolition of weapons of warfare.

Interest was aroused in the Western delegations by the unexpected flexibility the Soviet Union appears to be following in its approach to the nuclear problem.

Western delegation sources offered various theories as to why Zorin was following this tack. The most generally accepted one was that Zorin was trying to get his government's program for total disarmament within four years accepted as the basis for negotiations rather than the three-stage Western plan which mentions no time limit.

The five Western powers — the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada — would find it difficult to make radical shifts in their own program. The briefs of their delegations are closely tied to expert military advice.

There is a difference of approach, however, in the Western camp. It was spotlighted in a speech by French Delegate Jules Moch.

Moch said France believes that something more comprehensive than a suspension of atomic and hydrogen weapon tests is needed to open the road to nuclear disarmament.

Evidence Indicates Airliner Dynamited

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Evidence was unfolded Tuesday indicating that a National Airlines DC6B was blasted from the sky Jan. 6—killing 34 persons—by a sudden dynamite explosion.

And testimony, heard during a formal inquiry by the Civil Aeronautics Board, indicated the blast occurred near the seat occupied by a young New York lawyer, Julian Andrew Frank, who had taken out over a million dollars worth of life insurance in the year prior to the crash.

Up until minutes before the crash the big New York to Miami airliner had "operated normally in all respects," the CAB board of inquiry was told.

CAB technical experts told of intensive studies made of the wreckage of the plane which was rounded up and painstakingly reassembled in a hangar at the Wilmington Airport. They also told of studies of the plane's repair and maintenance records.

These studies "indicated the aircraft was in an airworthy condition at the time of the flight," said Frank T. Taylor, air safety investigator for CAB's Bureau of Safety.

Taylor also said nothing was found in examination of the plane engines and propellers to indicate the plane crew had taken any emergency measures prior to the crash. This seemed to indicate that whatever happened to the plane happened suddenly. Radio messages from the plane also indicated nothing untoward had happened minutes before the crash.

Alexander G. Hardy, National Airlines senior vice president, told newsmen a portion of Frank's body was found among the reassembled wreckage only three weeks ago. He said a doctor found part of a leg wedged in a luggage rack opposite Frank's seat. Hardy also said that part of a zipper from a canvas bag Frank was believed to be carrying was found.

ARRESTED—Hewitt D. McCrorry (above), 37, of Kansas City, Kan., was arrested by the FBI in Baltimore yesterday. Agents said he is wanted in Kansas for a knife slaying. (AP Photofax)

Knife Slaying Suspect Seized At Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)— A man wanted for a knife slaying more than a year ago in Kansas City, Kan. was arrested here Tuesday by FBI agents in a hotel where he had been employed as the night manager.

James J. Kelly, special agent in charge of the Baltimore FBI office, said that Hewitt Dock McCrorry, 37, was taken into custody while making a telephone call from a booth in the hotel.

Kelly said several persons recognized McCrorry from his photograph on a wanted notice issued by the FBI and alerted authorities.

McCrorry had been sought by Kansas City, Kan. police since November, 1958, for the fatal stabbing of Joseph Woodside during a fight, Kelly said. McCrorry was arrested at the time of the attack and charged with assault by cutting and released under $1,000 bond.

Four days later Woodside died, and a warrant charging McCrorry with murder was issued, Kelly said.

The FBI said McCrorry, who had been working here in hotels for about a year under the name of Richard Roberts, also was wanted in San Francisco, Calif. as a probation violator. He was sentenced there in Dec. 1954 to a probationary term for interstate transportation of a stolen auto and a warrant was issued for his rearrest March 30, 1955.

Kelly said McCrorry had worked for a time as a bartender in Kansas City under the name of Richard Dean Roberts. The FBI determined that he obtained the job for which it was necessary to be fingerprinted by having a friend go through this formality.

Jobless Pay Benefits Drop Slightly In Md.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A return to normal production schedules in many industries following the post-Christmas lull resulted in a slight drop in jobless pay benefits during February, the Department of Employment Security said Tuesday. The total benefits paid also were under February, 1959, the DES said.

Resumption of work in the industries more than offset reduced February employment in construction and other outdoor work due to bad weather, the department said.

Air Force Investigators Collecting Jet Wreckage

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Wreckage of a B57 jet bomber which went out of control and crashed into a Maryland home killing a woman and her two grandchildren will be brought to the Dover Air Force base for examination.

The jet piloted by Capt. William F. Smith, 32, of Los Angeles, and the one-story Brown home were demolished. The school, another home and two parked cars were damaged. Smith was injured when he bailed out from between 2,000 and 5,000 feet.

Windows in a new wing of the Lockerman Consolidated School for Negroes were shattered by the blast and 12 students were slightly injured by flying glass. There were about 200 youngsters in the wing at the time.

Maj. H. L. Tracy, public information officer at the Dover AFB, said the plane apparently went out of control at 15,000 feet.

"It didn't seem to be a human failure," Tracy said. "We do know that he (Smith) tried to gain control of the aircraft and only when he couldn't he bailed out."

A board of Dover officers has been named to investigate the accident.

The plane had recently been modified by the Martin Co. in Baltimore and was taken up by Smith for an acceptance test flight. The company said its own pilots had tested the plane.

Case Of Moldy Applesauce Aired In Court

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Washington distributor claimed Tuesday it bought and sold "in good faith" moldy applesauce still in the jars and labels of a well-known chain store.

Harvey Rosenberg, defense attorney for Rivolanne Inc., told a federal court judge and jury his client had been offered the store's (American) "highest brand of applesauce" on a routine business trip to a Baltimore jobber.

"The price was ridiculously low" and Rivolanne "purchased it in good faith and in a few days disposed" of 400 cases to retail stores in the District of Columbia, Rosenberg said.

"It never touched the labels or contents," the lawyer said.

On trial on a government information are Rivolanne and two of its officers, Saul Sacks, 37, of Silver Spring, and Frank Locastro, 34, of Beltsville.

According to the outline of the case by William J. Evans, assistant U. S. attorney, American Stores Co. sold 1,500 cases of apple sauce from its cannery at Hurlock, Md., to Empire Jobbing House of Baltimore in October of 1958.

Empire, a few days later, sold 400 cases to Union Fish Co. of Washington, a trade name for Rivolanne. The Washington company in turn sold all except a few cases to retail outlets.

American Stores and Empire pleaded no defense to Food and Drug Administration charges that the applesauce was moldy. American Stores (Acme) was fined $400 and two officers of Empire $250 each.

Rivolanne chose to stand trial. "We intend to prove that Acme is the sole liable source and possibly Empire jobbing," Rosenberg said.

He said Rivolanne "at no time attempted to sell" the apple sauce after it was told it was "adulterated."

Joseph R. North Jr., inspector for the Food and Drug Administration, testified, however, that he inspected 80 remaining cases of the 400 lot at the Rivolanne warehouse and told its two officers they contained mold. Eleven days later, he said only 10 cases remained and he was told that 50 had been "inadvertently" sold to a super market.

Nine Youths Held For Fatal Beating

ARLINGTON, Mass. (AP)—Nine youths accused of beating and stabbing to death a 26-year-old former Army medic who sought to avert trouble in a corner variety store were held without bail Tuesday on murder charges.

The stabbing was the climax of a three-day rumble between two groups from neighboring Watertown and Arlington suburbs of Boston.

The stabbing victim, Franklin K. Theall, had no part in the rumbles and only got mixed up with the Watertown youths when they refused to leave the variety store.

Police said Theall, a husky, amateur weightlifter, was dragged out of the store, beaten and stabbed. He was found in a gutter a short distance from his rooming house.

Triple Slaying Lead Checked

STARVED ROCK STATE PARK, Ill. (UPI) — A key case found in the snow of a canyon pathway extended the search for the killer of three society matrons all the way to Canada Tuesday.

State Police Superintendent William Morris said he found a brown, semi-folding leather wallet and key case on the trail leading into St. Louis Canyon, where the women's bludgeoned bodies were found in a cave Wednesday.

The case bore the letters "Windsor" on it.

State police said the word "Windsor" appeared to have been stamped on the case by the manufacturer and could refer to Windsor, Ont., rather than the owner's name. Royal Canadian Mounted Police had already been asked to check on a car bearing Manitoba license plates which was seen in the park on March 14, the day of the triple slaying.

Queen Elizabeth Names Little Prince Andrew

LONDON (AP)—At last the secret is out. Queen Elizabeth's month-old baby is to be christened Prince Andrew Albert Christian Edward. And he looks the image of his mother.

He will be known officially as his Royal Highness Prince Andrew. Unofficially the Buckingham Palace staff already are calling him Andy.

The palace announced the names Tuesday just as first pictures of the baby prince were flashed around the world for Wednesday morning newspapers.

Four names is the usual ration nowadays for British royalty. And the infant prince's four are an interesting collection.

The Queen clearly chose Andrew as a tribute to her husband, Prince Philip, whose father was the late Prince Andrew of Greece.

The choice of Christian emphasizes the British royal family's close links with Danish royalty. Christian IX of Denmark was an ancestor of both royal parents.

Albert was the first name of the Queen's father, George VI, and of Queen Victoria's consort.

King Edward VII, connoisseur of wine, women and racehorses, is the source of the baby's fourth name. The name was borne, too, by Edward VIII, the Queen's favorite uncle, who abdicated for love of an American divorcee. But his first name was David.

Army And AF Relieving GIs Of Detested KP Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army and the Air Force are beginning to relieve their enlisted men of long-detested KP duty.

Commanders are now authorized to hire civilians as mess attendants—if the commanders find they have enough money in their annual budget allotments.

The Navy and Marine Corps said Tuesday they have no intention at this time of abandoning mess duty for their men.

The Army, under regulations issued last December, told commanders they could either hire civilians directly or let out contracts for mess attendant service. However, the Army and the Air Force will continue to use enlisted men as expert cooks and bakers.

A preliminary check showed that civilian KP workers have been hired so far at a relatively few Army posts, including Ft. Sill, Okla., and Ft. Bliss, Tex.

The Air Force, within the past few days, started authorizing contracts for mess attendant service.

Doctor's Combination of Ingredients Stops Stomach Gas Before It Starts

Buffalo, N.Y. (Special)—Thousands of people who suffered for years from gassy stomach, heartburn, belching after meals and other symptoms of acid indigestion now report wonderful relief, thanks to a remarkable formula developed by a prominent doctor and known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Containing not just one or two, but a special combination of 7 ingredients, this famous medicine is designed to stop stomach gas before it even starts.

Instead of upsetting the delicate acid-balance of the stomach, as too frequent use of soda and alkalizers often does, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery actually promotes more normal stomach activity.

Taken regularly, it tones up your digestive system and helps you avoid gas pains, heartburn and sour stomach. Once your stomach is working properly, you can eat what you like without fear of distress.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has helped so many people that over 38 million bottles have been sold. Get it at your druggist's today in liquid or tablets. Your money back if not entirely satisfied.

"The price was ridiculously low" and Rivolanne "purchased it in good faith and in a few days disposed" of 400 cases to retail stores in the District of Columbia, Rosenberg said.

"It never touched the labels or contents," the lawyer said.

On trial on a government information are Rivolanne and two of its officers, Saul Sacks, 37, of Silver Spring, and Frank Locastro, 34, of Beltsville.

According to the outline of the case by William J. Evans, assistant U. S. attorney, American Stores Co. sold 1,500 cases of apple sauce from its cannery at Hurlock, Md., to Empire Jobbing House of Baltimore in October of 1958.

Empire, a few days later, sold 400 cases to Union Fish Co. of Washington, a trade name for Rivolanne. The Washington company in turn sold all except a few cases to retail outlets.

American Stores and Empire pleaded no defense to Food and Drug Administration charges that the applesauce was moldy. American Stores (Acme) was fined $400 and two officers of Empire $250 each.

Rivolanne chose to stand trial. "We intend to prove that Acme is the sole liable source and possibly Empire jobbing," Rosenberg said.

He said Rivolanne "at no time attempted to sell" the apple sauce after it was told it was "adulterated."

Joseph R. North Jr., inspector for the Food and Drug Administration, testified, however, that he inspected 80 remaining cases of the 400 lot at the Rivolanne warehouse and told its two officers they contained mold. Eleven days later, he said only 10 cases remained and he was told that 50 had been "inadvertently" sold to a super market.

Sukarno Tour Set

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno plans to leave on his two-month tour of the Middle East, Europe, Latin America and Africa April 1 or 2, informants said Tuesday. He also is expected to make unofficial trips to San Francisco and Cuba.

Nine Youths Held For Fatal Beating

ARLINGTON, Mass. (AP)—Nine youths accused of beating and stabbing to death a 26-year-old former Army medic who sought to avert trouble in a corner variety store were held without bail Tuesday on murder charges.

The stabbing was the climax of a three-day rumble between two groups from neighboring Watertown and Arlington suburbs of Boston.

The stabbing victim, Franklin K. Theall, had no part in the rumbles and only got mixed up with the Watertown youths when they refused to leave the variety store.

Police said Theall, a husky, amateur weightlifter, was dragged out of the store, beaten and stabbed. He was found in a gutter a short distance from his rooming house.

Triple Slaying Lead Checked

STARVED ROCK STATE PARK, Ill., (UPI) — A key case found in the snow of a canyon pathway extended the search for the killer of three society matrons all the way to Canada Tuesday.

State Police Superintendent William Morris said he found a brown, semi-folding leather wallet and key case on the trail leading into St. Louis Canyon, where the women's bludgeoned bodies were found in a cave Wednesday.

The case bore the letters "Windsor" on it.

State police said the word "Windsor" appeared to have been stamped on the case by the manufacturer and could refer to Windsor, Ont., rather than the owner's name. Royal Canadian Mounted Police had already been asked to check on a car bearing Manitoba license plates which was seen in the park on March 14, the day of the triple slaying.

Collision Kills Six

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Five children and a bus driver were killed as a diesel railcar and a school bus collided Tuesday on a crossing at Traralgon, 100 miles from Melbourne. Eighteen other children were injured.

Queen Elizabeth Names Little Prince Andrew

He will be known officially as his Royal Highness Prince Andrew. Unofficially the Buckingham Palace staff already are calling him Andy.

The palace announced the names Tuesday just as first pictures of the baby prince were flashed around the world for Wednesday morning newspapers.

Four names is the usual ration nowadays for British royalty. And the infant prince's four are an interesting collection.

The Queen clearly chose Andrew as a tribute to her husband, Prince Philip, whose father was the late Prince Andrew of Greece.

The choice of Christian emphasizes the British royal family's close links with Danish royalty. Christian IX of Denmark was an ancestor of both royal parents.

Albert was the first name of the Queen's father, George VI, and of Queen Victoria's consort.

King Edward VII, connoisseur of wine, women and racehorses, is the source of the baby's fourth name. The name was borne, too, by Edward VIII, the Queen's favorite uncle, who abdicated for love of an American divorcee. But his first name was David.

Blast Fatal To 23

TOKYO (AP)—An accidental dynamite explosion at a dam construction site in southwestern Japan killed 23 persons Tuesday night, police reported. Cause of the accident is under investigation.

Army And AF Relieving GIs Of Detested KP Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army and the Air Force are beginning to relieve their enlisted men of long-detested KP duty.

Commanders are now authorized to hire civilians as mess attendants—if the commanders find they have enough money in their annual budget allotments.

The Navy and Marine Corps said Tuesday they have no intention at this time of abandoning mess duty for their men.

The Army, under regulations issued last December, told commanders they could either hire civilians directly or let out contracts for mess attendant service. However, the Army and the Air Force will continue to use enlisted men as expert cooks and bakers.

A preliminary check showed that civilian KP workers have been hired so far at a relatively few Army posts, including Ft. Sill, Okla., and Ft. Bliss, Tex.

The Air Force, within the past few days, started authorizing contracts for mess attendant service.

Doctor's Combination of Ingredients Stops Stomach Gas Before It Starts

Buffalo, N.Y. (Special)—Thousands of people who suffered for years from gassy stomach, heartburn, belching after meals and other symptoms of acid indigestion now report wonderful relief, thanks to a remarkable formula developed by a prominent doctor and known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Containing not just one or two, but a special combination of 7 ingredients, this famous medicine is designed to stop stomach gas before it even starts.

Instead of upsetting the delicate acid-balance of the stomach, as too frequent use of soda and alkalizers often does, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery actually promotes more normal stomach activity.

Taken regularly, it tones up your digestive system and helps you avoid gas pains, heartburn and sour stomach. Once your stomach is working properly, you can eat what you like without fear of distress.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has helped so many people that over 38 million bottles have been sold. Get it at your druggist's today in liquid or tablets. Your money back if not entirely satisfied.

Four-County School Session Set Here Friday

A four-county Board of Education conference will be held Friday in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club to discuss problems dealing with a program for children, financial support for schools, public relations and a steady source of adequately trained teachers.

Represented will be Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties. The program follows:

General get-together at 10 a. m. for doughnuts and coffee; welcome and the stating of aims by J. Goodloe Jackson, president of the Allegany County board, and Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of public schools in the county, 10:30 p. m.

Discussion, "The Problem of Providing a Satisfactory Program for All Children," Ross V. Smith, head of the Frederick County board, presiding and Dr. James A. Sensabaugh, superintendent of Frederick County public schools, consultant, 11 a. m.

"The problem of Securing Adequate Financial Support for Schools and Meeting Criticism as to Costs," Dr. Ralph Calandrella, president of the Garrett County board, presiding and Willard L. Hawkins, public schools superintendent, consultant, 11:30 a. m.

Secretary of State Thomas B. Finan will speak at a "Dutch treat" lunch at noon. Mrs. Richard Winer, vice president of the county board, will preside and Kenneth R. Malcolm, a member of the board, will present a vocal solo, accompanied by his wife.

At 1:30 p. m. "The Problem of Maintaining Good Public Relations" will be aired. Dr. David R. Brewer, head of the Washington County board, will preside and William M. Brish, public schools superintendent, will act as consultant.

"The Problem of Providing A Steady Course of Adequately Trained Teachers" will be the discussion subject at 2 p. m. In charge are Jackson, presiding and Webster, consultant.

A summary of the conference will be given at 2:30 p. m. with Kenneth R. Malcolm, vice president of the Maryland Association of Boards of Education, presiding. Remarks and comments will end the session.

Board To Buy Bus

The Allegany County Board of Education will accept bids until Monday, April 4, at 2 p. m. for the purchase of a school bus.

This vehicle will be used to haul the machine and auto shop students from Allegany High School to the Allegany Trades School building on Spruce Alley.

The present bus is old and a new one is being ordered for use before the opening of school in September.

Detailed specifications may be obtained from the supervisor of bus transportation, Arthur G. Ramey, in the Board of Education office, 108 Washington Street.

Three Training Sessions Set For Census Takers

Three training sessions for census takers will be held next week, George R. Hughes, this city, supervisor for the Sixth Congressional District announced yesterday from the district office in Frederick.

The 1960 Census of Population and Housing starts April 1. Each census taker will receive nine hours' instruction from crew leaders. Emphasis will be placed on the importance of a systematic, thorough canvass of every dwelling unit to insure a complete count. Classroom training will cover the manner of asking questions, use of the census questionnaire, definitions and map reading. Each census taker will be provided a map of his district.

Advance Report Forms are to be distributed by Post Office employes to all households in the district. This is a new device designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics. The family is given a chance to assemble information in advance of the census taker's visit and it is urged the forms be filled out prior to the start of the census.

The forms contain seven questions about every person in the household and six about the household's dwelling. At every fourth household, the census taker will leave a Household Questionnaire which contains additional questions covering population and housing characteristics. Householders are asked to complete the questionnaire and mail it to the district office, 38 West Patrick Street, Frederick, within three days. A pre-addressed, postage free envelope is provided.

The "sample" population questions include inquiries on country of birth, mother tongues of foreign born, schooling, employment, income and related items. Additional housing questions relate to rent or value of dwelling, heating equipment, water supply and other facilities and equipment.

Information furnished the Census Bureau is kept confidential under federal law.

Census takers will be easily identified, Hughes said. Each will be provided with a red, white and blue identification card to be worn on the lapel. It bears the seal of the Department of Commerce and the words "Census Enumerator, Official Credential." They will be further identified by portfolios containing their supplies. The portfolio is brown and bears the legend in green ink "1960 Census of the United States."

Taxing Areas' Rates Okayed

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday approved the rates for special taxing areas in four Allegany County communities.

A tax rate of 30 cents per $100 of assessable property has been set by the Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association. This is a 10 cent cut from the rate for the fiscal year ending July 1. The rate was also cut by five cents the previous year.

The LaVale Sanitary Commission has set a rate of 10 cents per $100 of assessable property. This is the same as the current rate. The commission operates the area's water supply system.

A rate of 12 cents per $100 assessable property was set for the Mt. Savage Special Taxing Area to pay for street lights in the community.

The Citizens Committee of Potomac Park set a tax rate of eight cents per $100 for street lights and fire protection.

The Cresaptown notice was signed by John R. Shoup, an officer of the group, but did not give any reason for the tax cut.

Youth Ordered Held In Check Theft

William E. Leasure, 21, this city, was ordered held under $1,000 bond yesterday for action of the Federal Grand Jury.

Det. Lt. James E. Van said that Leasure took the check from the mail box on Bedford Street last Wednesday and then had a local youth sign it. The check which was for the amount of $58 was later cashed in the Oldtown area.

He was committed to the Allegany County Jail in default of bond.

Man Pardoned By Governor

Charles H. Smith, Oldtown, has received a pardon signed by Gov. Tawes, according to his attorney, Earl E. Manges.

Smith was given a year's term in the House of Correction on January 19, 1955, when he was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

He served four months and was paroled for the remainder of his sentence. A pardon restores his rights as a citizen, such as voting.

Board Receives Library Letters

Three letters were received by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday concerning the proposed countywide library system.

The Eckhart PTA endorsed the plan while Leslie Chaney of Westernport asked that it be rejected. The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce listed some of the costs in the operation of a mobile library plan. The group previously endorsed the library system.

Two Men Hurt In Crash On Route 220

One man was hospitalized and another injured in a one-vehicle accident early yesterday on U. S. Route 220, two miles north of Cumberland.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital was Frederick Miller, 22, of Bowman's Addition. Attaches reported he sustained severe head lacerations and reported his condition as "good."

The driver of the vehicle, Clifton Jackson Jenkins, 22, of 130 Main Street, Ridgeley, was treated at the hospital for a possible fractured nose and was released.

Trooper Joseph Helmstetter of the Maryland State Police said the accident occurred at 12:35 a. m. on Route 220 about 2.4 miles north of Cumberland.

Trooper Helmstetter said Jenkins was northbound on the highway when he lost control after making a left turn. The vehicle ran off the left side, rammed a utility pole and continued north, off the right side and came to rest against another utility pole.

The first utility pole struck ripped apart, knocking out communications between Cumberland and Bedford. The power was restored shortly after the mishap.

Gray Trial Set April 1

The re-trial of Raymond R. Gray on a charge of armed robbery has been set for Friday, April 1, in Allegany County Circuit Court.

A jury to try the man arrested after the robbery of a local service station owner was summoned yesterday after the date was scheduled by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

The local man was originally tried last May on charges of armed robbery, assault and receiving stolen goods.

He was found guilty by a jury of armed robbery and the two lesser counts were dropped. However, on appeal to the Court of Appeals, his case was ordered back here for a re-trial.

On March 9 he entered a plea of guilty to receiving stolen goods and was given ten years. However, it was found that this charge had been dropped and the motion was withdrawn.

Finally, he will receive the re-trial on the armed robbery count.

Another man arrested as a result of the robbery of William Cover, Howard Iser, was sentenced to ten years for armed robbery, with an additional three years for escaping from the County Jail.

County And Its Towns Got Million From State In '59

Allegany County and its incorporated municipalities and taxing districts received $1,092,069 in state tax funds shared with the various other political subdivisions during fiscal year 1959.

The county commissioners received a total of $814,896 in tax money while seven cities and towns and three taxing districts had an income of $277,173 from these sources.

The county's total includes $105,666 from horse racing receipts, but the commissioners did not get all of this as the money is divided up among the county and seven cities and towns.

This division was not available, but it is figured on a population basis, with the City of Cumberland getting slightly more than the county commissioners.

The city has 42.07 per cent of the county's population; Frostburg, 7.6 per cent; Westernport, 3.83 per cent; Lonaconing, 2.55 per cent; Luke, .91 per cent; Midland, .99 per cent; Barton, .77 per cent, and for the remainder of county, 41.17 per cent. The latter goes to the county commissioners.

The receipts, with horse racing not included, were as follows in the various political subdivisions:

Cumberland — Income tax, $83,179; admissions, $3,221; corporation franchise, $1,872; motor fuel, $77,827; motor vehicle, $17,610. Total, $183,711.

Frostburg — Income, $12,020; admissions, $391; corporation franchise, $236; motor fuel, $16,827; motor vehicle, $3,807. Total, $33,314.

LaVale Sanitary Commission — Income, $15,416.

Lonaconing — Income, $4,561; admissions, $153; corporation franchise, $2,375; motor fuel, $3,959; motor vehicle, $895. Total, $9,593.

Midland — Income, $864; admissions, $35; motor fuel, $1,870, motor vehicle, $423. Total, $3,192.

Mt. Savage Taxing District — Income, $2,040.

Allegany County Commissioners — Income, $220,415; admissions, $2,952; corporation franchise, $2,707; horse racing, $105,666; motor fuel, $344,144; motor vehicle revenue, $77,871. Total, $814,896.

Income, $354,770; admissions, $7,106; corporation franchise, $4,915; horse racing, $105,666; motor fuel, $455,421; motor vehicle, $103,051; distilled spirits, $61,137. Total, $1,092,069.

Flood Units To Meet

A meeting of the flood emergency committees set up for the Town of Ridgeley will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Ridgeley Fire Hall, Mayor Charles Fryer said.

He appealed to all those who have been assigned to committees, plus church groups and interested residents to attend.

Board Receives Library Letters

Three letters were received by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday concerning the proposed countywide library system.

The Eckhart PTA endorsed the plan while Leslie Chaney of Westernport asked that it be rejected. The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce listed some of the costs in the operation of a mobile library plan. The group previously endorsed the library system.

Two Men Hurt In Crash On Route 220

One man was hospitalized and another injured in a one-vehicle accident early yesterday on U. S. Route 220, two miles north of Cumberland.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital was Frederick Miller, 22, of Bowman's Addition. Attaches reported he sustained severe head lacerations and reported his condition as "good."

The driver of the vehicle, Clifton Jackson Jenkins, 22, of 130 Main Street, Ridgeley, was treated at the hospital for a possible fractured nose and was released.

Trooper Joseph Helmstetter of the Maryland State Police said the accident occurred at 12:35 a. m. on Route 220 about 2.4 miles north of Cumberland.

Trooper Helmstetter said Jenkins was northbound on the highway when he lost control after making a left turn. The vehicle ran off the left side, rammed a utility pole and continued north, off the right side and came to rest against another utility pole.

The first utility pole struck ripped apart, knocking out communications between Cumberland and Bedford. The power was restored shortly after the mishap.

Gray Trial Set April 1

The re-trial of Raymond R. Gray on a charge of armed robbery has been set for Friday, April 1, in Allegany County Circuit Court.

A jury to try the man arrested after the robbery of a local service station owner was summoned yesterday after the date was scheduled by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

The local man was originally tried last May on charges of armed robbery, assault and receiving stolen goods.

He was found guilty by a jury of armed robbery and the two lesser counts were dropped. However, on appeal to the Court of Appeals, his case was ordered back here for a re-trial.

On March 9 he entered a plea of guilty to receiving stolen goods and was given ten years. However, it was found that this charge had been dropped and the motion was withdrawn.

Finally, he will receive the re-trial on the armed robbery count.

Another man arrested as a result of the robbery of William Cover, Howard Iser, was sentenced to ten years for armed robbery, with an additional three years for escaping from the County Jail.

County And Its Towns Got Million From State In '59

Allegany County and its incorporated municipalities and taxing districts received $1,092,069 in state tax funds shared with the various other political subdivisions during fiscal year 1959.

The county commissioners received a total of $814,896 in tax money while seven cities and towns and three taxing districts had an income of $277,173 from these sources.

The county's total includes $105,666 from horse racing receipts, but the commissioners did not get all of this as the money is divided up among the county and seven cities and towns.

This division was not available, but it is figured on a population basis, with the City of Cumberland getting slightly more than the county commissioners.

The city has 42.07 per cent of the county's population; Frostburg, 7.6 per cent; Westernport, 3.83 per cent; Lonaconing, 2.55 per cent; Luke, .91 per cent; Midland, .99 per cent; Barton, .77 per cent, and for the remainder of county, 41.17 per cent. The latter goes to the county commissioners.

The receipts, with horse racing not included, were as follows in the various political subdivisions:

Cumberland — Income tax, $83,179; admissions, $3,221; corporation franchise, $1,872; motor fuel, $77,827; motor vehicle, $17,610. Total, $183,711.

Frostburg — Income, $12,020; admissions, $391; corporation franchise, $236; motor fuel, $16,827; motor vehicle, $3,807. Total, $33,314.

LaVale Sanitary Commission — Income, $15,416.

Lonaconing — Income, $4,561; admissions, $153; corporation franchise, $2,375; motor fuel, $3,959; motor vehicle, $895. Total, $9,593.

Luke — Income, $3,047; admissions, $41; corporation franchise, $3 75; motor fuel, $1,966; motor vehicle, $444. Total, $[illegible]503.

Midland — Income, $864; admissions, $35; motor fuel, $1,870, motor vehicle, $423. Total, $3,192.

Mt. Savage Taxing District — Income, $2,040.

Allegany County Commissioners — Income, $220,415; admissions, $2,952; corporation franchise, $2,707; horse racing, $105,666; motor fuel, $344,144; motor vehicle revenue, $77,871. Total, $814,896.

Income, $354,770; admissions, $7,106; corporation franchise, $4,915; horse racing, $105,666; motor fuel, $455,421; motor vehicle, $103,051; distilled spirits, $61,137. Total, $1,092,069.

Flood Units To Meet

A meeting of the flood emergency committees set up for the Town of Ridgeley will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Ridgeley Fire Hall, Mayor Charles Fryer said.

He appealed to all those who have been assigned to committees, plus church groups and interested residents to attend.

A letter from Miss Mary Wise on Extension Service was read at the meeting of the Flintstone Homemakers Club, and the group voted to give a demonstration and act as hostesses if invited for an open house in Home Demonstration Week, May 1-7. Mrs. Curtis Nash was named chairman for the demonstration, with Mrs. Eleanor Norris, Mrs. William Mauzy and Mrs. Kenneth McLaughlin serving with her.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Hazel Oster at the church, with Mrs. Nan Wigfield and Mrs. Lawrence Smtih hostesses. The Lord's Prayer was said. Mrs. Arthur Howard read the quotation of the month and Mrs. B. C. Robinette the history of "The Spacious Firmament on High," which was sung by the group.

Roll call was answered with experiences with wash and wear. Routine reports were given and it was announced that after the next quarterly payment, Blue Cross dues will be paid individually. Thank-you cards were received from Mrs. Harry Bender for cards she received during her recent illness; and from the 4-H Club for a cash donation. A report on "Food for Fitness" was given and a quiz was conducted. Mrs. Leah Twigg and Mrs. Howard Willison were named hostesses for the next meeting.

Secret sister gifts were given to Mrs. Lawrence Smith and Miss Lena Twigg. Mrs. Ruland Gilson received the gift of the month. The group sang, "There's Music in the Air," and refreshments were served. Others present were Mrs. Martin Fordon, Mrs. Homer Hout, Mrs. E. A. Kinton, Mrs. Caroyle Nixon, Mrs. Katie Oster, Mrs. Guy Thompson, Mrs. Oko Twigg and Mrs. H. K. Chaney.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

INFANT'S SLEEPING POSITION
- Quinsy
- Night Sweats

Q. When putting a young baby to bed should he be placed on his stomach or back?
A. Many doctors recommend the stomach position because it permits better drainage of mucus and food that might be spit up. The stomach position apparently has other advantages. A group of doctors who observed 281 newborn infants found that young babies kept on their stomachs had less diaper rash and cried less than infants kept face up. Hospital nurses who helped in this study and who had previously placed newborn infants only on their backs, switched to the stomach position.

Q. Why don't people have quinsy any more? It was quite common years ago.
A. Quinsy is a medieval English w d describing any throat infection, especially tonsillitis. In recent years the term quinsy has come to mean peritonsillar abscess (abscess around or about the tonsils). Quinsy is by no means rare today—it just goes under a different name.

Q. For the last several months I have experienced severe night sweats. What could cause this?
A. A complete physical examination is the only way to get to the bottom of your trouble. Night sweats can be due to a number of things. They very often occur as a result of an infection which produces off and on temperature, the fever and the sweats going hand in hand. Tuberculosis is a good example. Some infections, such as those caused by a virus, may leave a person so weak as to cause excessive sweating not only at night but during the day as well. However, this rarely lasts more than a few days or a week at most. By all means, see a physician without delay.

We point with pride to the thousands of prescriptions we have filled as evidence of our ability and readiness to serve your prescription needs skilfully, promptly, and economically.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

Instructions on the proper care of modern clothing will be given by Miss Mary Wise at the meeting of the Progressive Young Women's Club April 1, which will be at the home of Mrs. John Barton, Rawlings.

"Food facts and fallacies" was the topic of the last meeting at the home of Mrs. James Armstrong, Rawlings. Mrs. Barton gave a demonstration and conducted the program. Mrs. Garland Paxton presided and Mrs. Arthur Evans read the collect. Mrs. Nina Suder called the roll.

Others present were Mrs. Brownlee Armstrong, Mrs. Harry Grimes, Mrs. Dale Kelley, Mrs. Stanley Miller, Mrs. Hayden Phillips, Mrs. Clarence Walters, Mrs. Mabel White and two visitors, Mrs. Lois Wiles and Mrs. Norma Lester.

Kits To Be Completed

Members of the Christine Garnett Mission Circle of First Baptist Church were reminded that kits for migrants must be finished and brought to the church by April 7.

April 21 was set for a sewing day at the church. It will begin at 10 a. m. Each is to bring a box lunch. Hostesses were Mrs. B. L. Moreland and Mrs. Charles Nuzum. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Arnold Turner, Mrs. John Vandegrift, Mrs. J. E. Tritt and Mrs. Walter Alexander. Mrs. Wilbur Pullen gave the watchwords.

Complaint Is Heeded

Louis B. Young, president of the Allegany County Animal Welfare Society, reports that John L. Harvey, a deputy commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration, has said that plans for dog housing in the new Food and Drug Administration building have been revised following a steady stream of letters, telegrams and telephone calls from dog fanciers.

The local society participated in the demand for larger cages for the dogs kept for feeding experiments, and for exercise areas.

March 29 the group will meet at the Cumberland Public Library at 7:30. Plans will be formulated for the children's animal art show and observance of "Be Kind To Animals Week."

Allegany Bird Club will meet tonight at 7:30 at the Board of Education building, with Edgar H. Reynolds presiding.

Medical Mirror WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

- Quinsy
- Night Sweats

Q. When putting a young baby to bed should he be placed on his stomach or back?

A. Many doctors recommend the stomach position because it permits better drainage of mucus and food that might be spit up. The stomach position apparently has other advantages. A group of doctors who observed 281 newborn infants found that young babies kept on their stomachs had less diaper rash and cried less than infants kept face up. Hospital nurses who helped in this study and who had previously placed newborn infants only on their backs, switched to the stomach position.

Q. Why don't people have quinsy any more? It was quite common years ago.

A. Quinsy is a medieval English word describing any throat infection, especially tonsillitis. In recent years the term quinsy has come to mean peritonsillar abscess (abscess around or about the tonsils). Quinsy is by no means rare today—it just goes under a different name.

Q. For the last several months I have experienced severe night sweats. What could cause this?

A. A complete physical examination is the only way to get to the bottom of your trouble. Night sweats can be due to a number of things. They very often occur as a result of an infection which produces off and on temperature, the fever and the sweats going hand in hand. Tuberculosis is a good example. Some infections, such as those caused by a virus, may leave a person so weak as to cause excessive sweating not only at night but during the day as well. However, this rarely lasts more than a few days or a week at most. By all means, see a physician without delay.

We point with pride to the thousands of prescriptions we have filled as evidence of our ability and readiness to serve your prescription needs skilfully, promptly, and economically.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

W.Va. Retail Sales Show Increase

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Despite the steel strike and other economic problems, more than half of West Virginia's 55 counties registered higher retail sales in 1959 than in the previous year, it was reported Tuesday.

The State Chamber of Commerce said sales increases were recorded in 29 counties, with Jefferson County showing the largest gain, 20.6 per cent.

Pendleton had a 17.1 per cent increase, followed by Putnam at 17 per cent, Jackson 16.7 per cent and Hancock at 14.6 per cent.

Of the Mountain State's major industrial counties, Kanawha County showed the largest sales gain at 4.3 per cent. Ohio County had 2.3 per cent; Cabell 3.7 and Wood 3.4 per cent.

U.S. Officials, Electra Makers-Users Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government officials conferred Tuesday with makers and users of Electra turboprop airliners—the type that crashed last week in Indiana—but reported no conclusions.

E. R. Quesada, chairman of the Federal Aviation Agency, announced only that the meeting "will assist us materially in developing an appropriate action."

There was no indication of whether or when any action would be taken.

Quesada, whose agency two days ago imposed speed limits on Electras, had called the meeting. It was attended by about 60 representatives of the FAA, Civil Aeronautics Board, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Allison Division of General Motors and seven airlines that fly Electras.

Oops!

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A typographical error in the Huntington Advertiser Monday undoubtedly brought some smiles to certain readers.

The newspaper said Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) would open his West Virginia campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination with an address here Wednesday in "the main bathroom" of a local hotel.

The newspaper explained later that the story should have read "main ballroom."

Baltimore Firm Low Bidder On WVU Buildings

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — President Elvis J. Stahr of West Virginia University Tuesday announced a Baltimore, Md. construction firm was the apparent low bidder for the construction of four apartment buildings and additions to two women's dormitories.

John McShain Inc., submitted the apparent low bid of $4,384,000, and agreed to complete the construction in 450 days, Stahr said.

The apartments will house faculty and students and will be constructed on the University Medical Center campus.

Two of the apartment buildings will contain 62 efficiency apartments and 20 one-bedroom apartments each. The other two will contain 12 two and three bedroom apartments.

An addition to one of the dormitories will include 86 efficiency apartments and 113 dormitory rooms. The addition to the other dormitory will include 83 new double dormitory rooms.

The University Board of Governors authorized advertising of bids for $4,800,000 worth of self liquidating revenue bonds to finance the project.

Stahr said bids will be received at WVU April 13.

W.Va. To Furnish Christmas Tree For White House

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia will furnish an 80-foot high Christmas tree to the White House in 1963, the same year the Mountain State celebrates its centennial.

The West Virginia Christmas Tree Growers Assn. said Tuesday it was the first time the state had been given the honor. "It will be our purpose to obtain as near perfect a tree as possible," a spokesman said.

The tree will be picked out in the near future and taken care of until shipment to Washington.

Baltimore Firm Low Bidder On WVU Buildings

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — President Elvis J. Stahr of West Virginia University Tuesday announced a Baltimore, Md. construction firm was the apparent low bidder for the construction of four apartment buildings and additions to two women's dormitories.

John McShain Inc., submitted the apparent low bid of $4,384,000, and agreed to complete the construction in 450 days, Stahr said.

The apartments will house faculty and students and will be constructed on the University Medical Center campus.

Two of the apartment buildings will contain 62 efficiency apartments and 20 one-bedroom apartments each. The other two will contain 12 two and three bedroom apartments.

An addition to one of the dormitories will include 86 efficiency apartments and 113 dormitory rooms. The addition to the other dormitory will include 83 new double dormitory rooms.

The University Board of Governors authorized advertising of bids for $4,800,000 worth of self liquidating revenue bonds to finance the project.

Stahr said bids will be received at WVU April 13.

Governor Tawes To Sign State Budget, 81 Other Bills In Ceremony Today

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's 477-million-dollar budget and bills designed to give farmers tax relief are among 82 pieces of legislation scheduled for signing Wednesday by Gov. Tawes.

The bill-signing ceremony in the governor's 15th-floor suite of the State Office Building here will leave for later disposition only 10 more acts and resolutions cleared by the 1960 Legislature.

But among these are several controversial items, including an act to regulate the operations of savings and loan companies.

The batch of bills to be laid before the governor Wednesday illustrates the emphasis laid on money and natural resources in the 30-day legislative session which adjourned March 3.

Besides the $477,080,196 budget, there is an act covering loans of $20,268,000 to finance construction of new state buildings and other improvements. Under another, the state would borrow $1,250,000 and turn the money over to Johns Hopkins University for a new physics building.

Three bills deal with farm assessments, which are the subject of a case pending before the Maryland Court of Appeals. Two would set up amendments to the Constitution and Declaration of Rights; the other expresses a legislative intent to classify farmland apart from other property for tax purposes.

All are designed to protect farmers from higher tax assessments when land developers build on property next to farmland. As long as the farmland is actually used for agricultural purposes, it would continue to be assessed as such, instead of at the inflated rate caused by development of adjacent land.

The Court of Appeals has ruled once that it is not legal under present law.

One of the bills earmarked for signing Wednesday recognizes the potential danger of radioactivity to public health and natural resources. It provides for the appointment of a radiation control advisory board to recommend means of regulating sources of radiation.

Of special interest to boatmen and hunters are bills to require the licensing of all vessels except sailboats under 25 feet and powerboats of less than 7½ horsepower and to increase hunting license fees. County licenses will go from $1.25 to $1.75, and special $2 stamps for gunners and $3 stamps for bowmen will be required of deer hunters.

Other legislation scheduled for signing Wednesday would:

1. Require physicians to register every three years.
2. Give defendants in defective-delinquent cases the right to appeal from the decision of the circuit court.
3. Provide for a referendum on a constitutional amendment to require county governments to obtain legislative permission before borrowing money for the construction of railroads, canals and similar improvements.
4. Authorize cities, counties and the Department of Forests and Parks to lease private property as a means of preserving scenic beauty.
5. Set up a study of the Forest and Parks department's development of recreation areas.
6. Provide for a survey of public school financing.

Sailors Held In Car Theft

Two young sailors, stationed at Annapolis, are being held at State Police barracks in LaVale after they were picked up for questioning in the theft of two automobiles.

Police said the sailors, one 18 and the other 17, are believed to have taken an automobile belongto Paul H. Iliff, 510 Necessity Street, from Henderson Avenue. They abandoned the vehicle in Frostburg where they took a station wagon owned by Robinson's Plumbers, Kent Avenue, Cumberland, police stated.

The youths apparently then drove the car on Finzel Road to Pennsylvania Route 160 near Wellersburg where they became marooned in the drifting snow. Abandoning the second car, the two sailors hitched a ride into Maryland, where they were picked up by Trooper Willis Foreman and George Robinett.

The two will be questioned today in the state's attorney's office.

River Unit To Meet In Luray, Va.

The Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin will hold its spring meeting in Luray, Va., May 12 and 13 on the theme of "Conservation of Shenandoah Valley Water Resources."

Scheduled May 12 are discussions on municipal and industrial pollution control, clean water in relation to the tourist industry, and the recreational potentials of the Shenandoah Valley.

A tour is scheduled to an industrial plant and portions of the Skyline Drive that afternoon.

Friday morning's session will be devoted to a discussion on recent developments of the Corps of Engineers' Potomac Basin study.

Other cooperating agencies will explain their roles in the basin-wide study.

by 1970. The problem then is how the state can best prepare to meet its obligations to provide equality of education opportunity for Maryland residents and, at the same time, assure quality educational programs, efficiently and economically operated.

"I approve, in principle, the major recommendations of the commission. I am also confident that the establishment of university centers at Frostburg, Salisbury and Towson will increase the number of students interested in elementary education.

Says Teacher Program Safe

"Any proposal that would hinder the recruitment of prospective teachers, or would in any way hamper our program of teacher training in Maryland, would not receive my approval.

"Experience in other states where such conversions have been made indicate that the teacher-education program was not weakend, but, in most cases, was actually improved. Between 1935 and 1959, 26 states have converted one or more for a total of 90 normal schools or teacher colleges to state colleges or universities.

"I have therefore asked the University of Maryland to make detailed studies and plans for the conversion of Frostburg, Salisbury and Towson State Teachers colleges to centers of the university. These detailed plans will then be studied by me for possible submission to the General Assembly."

Expansion Planned

The Warfield Commission said while the university is building up its regional centers, facilities for undergraduate work at College Park also can continue to be expanded.

The commission said construction of facilities at the university's present College Park and Baltimore campuses for boarding students would cost $6,900 to $8,200 per student, compared with about $3,700 less for those at centers for commuting students.

In unveiling the report last Feb. 24, Warfield told a press conference:

"One thing we want to emphasize above all else is that the teaching curricula at the teachers colleges will most certainly be maintained, regardless of what anybody says. What we are doing here is moving education out to the people."

Gamble Meets Former Teacher At Convention

Dr. Frank E. Gamble, supervisor of music education in the Allegany County public schools, had a pleasant surprise this week when he appeared in a panel discussion with one of his former teachers at the Music Educators National Conference in Atlantic City, N. J.

The local supervisor explained that another participant in a panel discussion on supervision Monday at Atlantic City was John Keith, coordinator of music in the Pomona, Calif., public schools. Mr. Keith was college band director at Wayne (Neb.) State Teachers College when Dr Gamble was an undergraduate there.

Later, Dr. Gamble taught instrumental music at Pomona under the direction of Mr. Keith. The latter was a substitute in the panel for a music educator from Oregon, who was unable to attend the convention.

Miss Anita Dickens, Miss Dorothy Willison and Mrs. Alice F. Wheeler, all music teachers in this county, also attended the convention, as did Dr. Ward K. Cole, music teacher at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Youth Hostel Meeting Set Next Tuesday

Plans of the American Youth Hostel for this area will be explained at a meeting Tuesday, March 29, at 8 p. m. in Central YMCA.

The meeting will be sponsored by the tourist and convention committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce. Thomas F. Conlon Jr., committee chairman, will preside.

Invitations to attend the briefing session have been sent to members of the committee and to interested organizations of the area.

Officials from the national headquarters of the Youth Hostel group, Mr. Conlon said, will explain what the organization plans to do in this area for hostel members visiting the C & O Canal Historical Park project.

Interest in the C & O Canal project is national, Mr. Conlon said, citing a recent article on the great waterway in the National Geographic Society magazine.

The annual "Justice Douglas Hike," he added, will terminate in Cumberland for the first time this year on May 7.

The meeting was originally set late in January.

557 Sets Of Tags Sold At Court House

Some 557 sets of new Maryland automobile license tags were sold yesterday in the office of Tax Collector William B. Orndorff at the Court House amid signs that the big rush for tags is still yet to come.

To be of greater service to the public, Mr. Orndorff and his staff have decided to forego the Maryland Day holiday Friday which the county commissioners are granting to the rest of the county employes. A holiday Friday would simply add to the rush during the final week of March.

March 31 at midnight is the deadline for display of the expiring licenses on private automobiles. The collector's office is open from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a. m. until noon on Saturdays.

Governor Tawes To Sign State Budget, 81 Other Bills In Ceremony Today

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's 477-million-dollar budget and bills designed to give farmers tax relief are among 82 pieces of legislation scheduled for signing Wednesday by Gov. Tawes.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Is my boy friend right or am I? We hailed a taxi last night and my date saw two shiny dimes on the floor of the cab. He picked them up and slipped them into his pocket. He didn't think I saw him.

When we got out I told him I had seen him put the dimes in his pocket and, in my opinion, he should have given them to the driver. He insisted the dimes belonged to a previous passenger and, threfore, he had as much right to them as anyone. How about this?
—MISS M. BARRASSED

DEAR MISS M. BARRASSED: "Losers weeper," eh? Well — I doubt that a taxi driver is going to sit around and weep about a couple of dimes, but your boy friend should shed a few tears for the sad state of his moral health and personal integrity.

The dimes may well have been part of a previous passenger's fare — dropped in a hurry. It's a lead-pipe cinch the money did not belong to your boy friend.

Tell the last of the big spenders that he's my candidate for the March award for Small Potato of the Month—Cheapskate Division.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It is with a feeling of guilt and disloyalty that I write this letter. I wouldn't dare discuss this with anyone I know. I loathe women who speak disparagingly of their husbands, but maybe a stranger can help me.

We've been married 25 years, and I pray the Lord will grant us 25 more. I know I can't change him, but why does a man have to exaggerate everything to the point where he is a liar? I'm embarrassed to tears at the amused expressions on the faces of our friends when my husband blows up every story to ridiculous proportions.

If he owns four trucks, he makes it 24. If he invested $5,000 in a deal, he makes it $25,000. If he owns 10% of a company, he says he's a 50-50 partner.

Please, Ann, what can I do to help him?—NEWARKITE

DEAR NEWARKITE: Exaggerators (and they are legion) fall into the habit early in life. Everything multiplies in their mouths.

They are insecure people for whom the straight story or the accurate figure is never strong enough. They want to knock everyone dead with their importance, and they don't trust the truth to do it.

What the chronic exaggerator doesn't realize is that people catch on after a while. Then they believe NOTHING of what he says.

No one can help him. He must help himself.

DEAR ANN: I'm a girl 17 and my folks bought me a convertible for my birthday. There are four of us gals who have always been pretty close. I'm the only one who has a car.

One of the girls has been pestering me for my car ever since I let her use it to visit her mother in the hospital. Now she wants it for shopping, and I suspect taking her boy friend to the bowling alley on his league night.

I hate to say no but if my folks knew, they'd be furious. What can I do without losing her friendship? — HARD TOP

DEAR HARD TOP: Use your head for something besides a bobby-pin cushion. She's taking advantage of your generosity and you're a fool to permit it. A REAL friend wouldn't try to use you this way.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—Just a signature away is the deal for Jane Wyman to star in a 39-week TV series based on the life of Dr. Kate, the wonderful woman who inspired Adele Commandini's book, "Angel on Snow Shoes." It's such a sure-fire idea that Jane isn't being asked to make a pilot—and it doesn't hurt anything that her partner and producer is Joseph Shaftel who has made eleven of the "Untouchable" TV shows—the tops in rating.

The series will give Jane a subject of drama plus gentle comedy. Dr. Kate, whose full name was Dr. Kate Pelham Newcomb, gave up a successful practice in Boston when her husband's illness necessitated a move to the far Northwest. The need of a doctor in their little community soon became apparent and she started practicing in the snow country. In 1954 she was on Ralph Edwards' "This Is Your Life" show and many of us met her when she was in Hollywood.

After years and years of successful motion picture production at MGM, Joe Pasternak—with the studio's blessing—is going to take a flyer on Broadway. He is talking to Olivia de Havilland about "The Face of Love," a play by Dr. Maxwell Maltz, playwright and plastic surgeon. It's a story of a beautiful girl and an Italian count and it's to be assumed plastic surgery comes into the plot somewhere considering the author's sideline.

Joe is never happy unless he has all ten fingers in the pie, so he takes off next week to visit 30 cities plugging his "Please Don't Eat the Daisies." A riotous comedy starring Doris Day and David Niven, it is the sort of picture that will clean up at the box office.

I heard that 20th Century-Fox was trying to buy "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," from Sam Goldwyn. Danny Kaye made it for Sam some years ago as a movie. Sam said 20th hadn't talked to him.

"I have had many offers for this James Thurber story," said Sam, "also for 'Stella Dallas' and 'Hurricane'. I'm not saying I won't sell, but up to date I've sold nothing to television."

"Hurricane," which was Jon Hall's first movie, belongs to Sam's granddaughter Cricket. "You know Frances owns all my old pictures," Sam added, "and she gave 'Hurricane' to our son Sam, Jr's daughter."

"I made the most dramatic entrance of my life," Laurence Harvey told me, "when I went to London to pick up my award for "Espresso Bongo" from the Variety Club. I didn't tell my wife (Margaret Leighton) I was arriving, and just as I walked in she was accepting my award for me. I couldn't have timed it better—but I'll never frighten her like that again. She turned white she was so surprised.

"I made up my mind on the spur of the moment to go to England. I was there only three days, but I spent some of the time with Anatole Litvak discussing a new picture."

Laurence will be here until after the Academy Awards.

An authority on English nobility in our town says that when Queen Elizabeth confers a title on Antony Armstrong-Jones, it will not be that of duke. Her husband, Prince Philip is a duke (of Edinburgh) and he is of titled blood as royal as Elizabeth's. The highest title that can go to a commoner is that of Marquis—even though the commoner is the husband of Princess Margaret.

But, no two ways about it, Armstrong - Jones is already wrapped in the formality that cloaks the private affairs of royalty. His maternal grandmother, Mrs. Maude Messel, who was in her 80's, died last week in London and it did not get into the papers here.

An interesting letter from David ("Richard Diamond") Janssen who is in Okinawa with the "Hell to Eternity" company. Writes David: "This is quite an island, Louella. In the middle of great poverty you'll find Army and Air Force installations that are on a par with Los Angeles hotels. Marines, however, live on the northern part of the island and their quarters are far from luxurious.

"I have the feeling I signed enlistment papers intead of a movie contract. We eat with the Marines, sleep at the same camp, and although it's simulated, fight right along side of them. Well, if it makes a good picture—and we all feel that it will —it's worth it. I'll see you in two weeks."

Establish a correct eating schedule.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

When You Eat Is Important, Too!

With the martyrdom of Joan of Arc, you avoid the potatoes at dinner, pass up those mouth-watering desserts at lunch, eat everything your diet tells you to — and still can't lost weight?

Well, let's take another look at what you ate during the last twenty-four hours — and when you ate it.

When you were counting your calorie-consumption, did you add in that pastry that seemed to just sneak onto your tray during coffee break? Or that "just one piece" of candy that was passed around the office? Or those "few little bites" of left-overs you had just before going to bed?

After all, even those few tastes for approval you take while cooking adds to your calories for the day.

Add them up. You'll probably be amazed at how many calories these "few bites" amount to. A calorie-count means every one of them — and when you eat them means a lot, too.

Dieting can be pleasant enough if it's a way of eating, not starving as outlined in my special booklet, "Your Beauty Diet." For your copy, send 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me, c/o this newspaper.

I believe that a diet should contribute to good looks and a feeling of well-being while it's being followed. But it must be carefully scheduled, not hit-and-miss eating, to do this as well as to insure weight loss.

When you eat is part of it. If you eat oftener than every four hours, or heavily at bedtime, your system does not convert all the calories to energy, and they turn into fat.

If you're going to bother dieting at all, adhere to it strictly. You'll find your reward on the scales.

Man Posts Bond On Two Charges

John Yeager, Midland, posted $200 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court on charges of maintaining a gambling device and selling alcoholic beverages on Sunday.

Magistrate Paul Barnett set bond at $100 on each count after Edwin R. Lilya, criminal investigator, prayed a jury trial for the state. He will appear before the April term of Circuit Court.

Yeager was charged following an inspection of his business in Midland Sunday morning by the Sheriff's Office and two Allegany County liquor inspectors.

State Helps In County Survey

Robert B. Kimble, director of the State Department of Employment Security, yesterday informed the Allegany County Board of Commissioners that he would send a representative of the agency here to confer on plans for a job analysis and classification system for the county.

Kimble said Francis A. Kenney, local manager of the agency, channeled the board's request to him and that the department was willing to conduct the survey.

Kimble pointed out that the scope of the proposed survey would have to be decided and he would send D. L. B. Fringer, director of employment service, to meet with the board to decide what will be done in the survey.

Commissioner John J. Rowan, board president, instructed James G. Stevenson, board clerk, to have Fringer meet at the Court House on April 5 at 9 a. m. with the board to discuss the matter.

The county board decided some time ago to have the job analysis and classification survey to correct a number of inequities among county employes.

5 ♥	Pass	6 ♥	Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♠

North chose to make an introductory call of one club today for though his heart suit was biddable, he feared that the major suit opening might lead to rebid complications. South had the values for an immediate jump shift, inasmuch as his hand was worth 20 points in support of clubs, but he elected to make a temporizing response of one heart in order to permit a more natural rebid from partner. When North gave a direct raise to two hearts, South felt assured of a slam and proceeded to ask for aces. Over the five heart response, South decided that the hand would play better in hearts if North had four, as the clubs could then be used for discards, so he bid six hearts.

West was reluctant to cash his ace with no indication as to where another trick might be forthcoming, so he made the neutral opening of the ten of spades. Declarer could see nothing more to the hand than guessing the location of the diamond ace which he relegated to East when that card was not led at trick one. He therefore drew three rounds of trumps winding up in dummy and led a diamond toward his king. When West produced the ace and the queen, declarer was down one.

South's assumption concerning the location of the diamond ace was not particularly sound, but what is more important, he overlooked a line of play which virtually assures fulfillment. After winning the opening lead, 12 tricks can be won by making the dummy the master hand. The nine of hearts is overtaken by the ten to ruff a spade. Then the king of hearts is played over to the ace and the queen of spades is trumped with declarer's last heart. Now a club puts dummy in to draw the last trump after which the club suit is run. Two diamonds are discarded on the fourth and fifth clubs and declarer has only to concede a diamond at the end. Another case of dummy reversal.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Is my boy friend right or am I? We hailed a taxi last night and my date saw two shiny dimes on the floor of the cab. He picked them up and slipped them into his pocket. He didn't think I saw him.

When we got out I told him I had seen him put the dimes in his pocket and, in my opinion, he should have given them to the driver. He insisted the dimes belonged to a previous passenger and, threfore, he had as much right to them as anyone. How about this?

—MISS M. BARRASSED

DEAR MISS M. BARRASSED: "Losers weeper," eh? Well — I doubt that a taxi driver is going to sit around and weep about a couple of dimes, but your boy friend should shed a few tears for the sad state of his moral health and personal integrity.

The dimes may well have been part of a previous passenger's fare — dropped in a hurry. It's a lead-pipe cinch the money did not belong to your boy friend.

Tell the last of the big spenders that he's my candidate for the March award for Small Potato of the Month—Cheapskate Division.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It is with a feeling of guilt and disloyalty that I write this letter. I wouldn't dare discuss this with anyone I know. I loathe women who speak disparagingly of their husbands, but maybe a stranger can help me.

We've been married 25 years, and I pray the Lord will grant us 25 more. I know I can't change him, but why does a man have to exaggerate everything to the point where he is a liar? I'm embarrassed to tears at the amused expressions on the faces of our friends when my husband blows up every story to ridiculous proportions.

If he owns four trucks, he makes it 24. If he invested $5,000 in a deal, he makes it $25,000. If he owns 10% of a company, he says he's a 50-50 partner.

Please, Ann, what can I do to help him?—NEWARKITE

DEAR NEWARKITE: Exaggerators (and they are legion) fall into the habit early in life. Everything multiplies in their mouths.

They are insecure people for whom the straight story or the accurate figure is never strong enough. They want to knock everyone dead with their importance, and they don't trust the truth to do it.

What the chronic exaggerator doesn't realize is that people catch on after a while. Then they believe NOTHING of what he says.

No one can help him. He must help himself.

DEAR ANN: I'm a girl 17 and my folks bought me a convertible for my birthday. There are four of us gals who have always been pretty close. I'm the only one who has a car.

One of the girls has been pestering me for my car ever since I let her use it to visit her mother in the hospital. Now she wants it for shopping, and I suspect taking her boy friend to the bowling alley on his league night.

I hate to say no but if my folks knew, they'd be furious. What can I do without losing her friendship? — HARD TOP

DEAR HARD TOP: Use your head for something besides a bobby-pin cushion. She's taking advantage of your generosity and you're a fool to permit it. A REAL friend wouldn't try to use you this way.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—Just a signature away is the deal for Jane Wyman to star in a 39-week TV series based on the life of Dr. Kate, the wonderful woman who inspired Adele Commandini's book, "Angel on Snow Shoes." It's such a sure-fire idea that Jane isn't being asked to make a pilot—and it doesn't hurt anything that her partner and producer is Joseph Shaftel who has made eleven of the "Untouchable" TV shows—the tops in rating.

The series will give Jane a subject of drama plus gentle comedy. Dr. Kate, whose full name was Dr. Kate Pelham Newcomb, gave up a successful practice in Boston when her husband's illness necessitated a move to the far Northwest. The need of a doctor in their little community soon became apparent and she started practicing in the snow country. In 1954 she was on Ralph Edwards' "This Is Your Life" show and many of us met her when she was in Hollywood.

After years and years of successful motion picture production at MGM, Joe Pasternak—with the studio's blessing—is going to take a flyer on Broadway. He is talking to Olivia de Havilland about "The Face of Love," a play by Dr. Maxwell Maltz, playwright and plastic surgeon. It's a story of a beautiful girl and an Italian count and it's to be assumed plastic surgery comes into the plot somewhere considering the author's sideline.

Joe is never happy unless he has all ten fingers in the pie, so he takes off next week to visit 30 cities plugging his "Please Don't Eat the Daisies." A riotous comedy starring Doris Day and David Niven, it is the sort of picture that will clean up at the box office.

I heard that 20th Century-Fox was trying to buy "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," from Sam Goldwyn. Danny Kaye made it for Sam some years ago as a movie. Sam said 20th hadn't talked to him.

"I have had many offers for this James Thurber story," said Sam, "also for 'Stella Dallas' and 'Hurricane'. I'm not saying I won't sell, but up to date I've sold nothing to television."

"Hurricane," which was Jon Hall's first movie, belongs to Sam's granddaughter Cricket. "You know Frances owns all my old pictures," Sam added, "and she gave 'Hurricane' to our son Sam, Jr's daughter."

"I made the most dramatic entrance of my life," Laurence Harvey told me, "when I went to London to pick up my award for "Espresso Bongo" from the Variety Club. I didn't tell my wife (Margaret Leighton) I was arriving, and just as I walked in she was accepting my award for me. I couldn't have timed it better—but I'll never frighten her like that again. She turned white she was so surprised.

"I made up my mind on the spur of the moment to go to England. I was there only three days, but I spent some of the time with Anatole Litvak discussing a new picture."

Laurence will be here until after the Academy Awards.

An authority on English nobility in our town says that when Queen Elizabeth confers a title on Antony Armstrong-Jones, it will not be that of duke. Her husband, Prince Philip is a duke (of Edinburgh) and he is of titled blood as royal as Elizabeth's. The highest title that can go to a commoner is that of Marquis—even though the commoner is the husband of Princess Margaret.

But, no two ways about it, Armstrong - Jones is already wrapped in the formality that cloaks the private affairs of royalty. His maternal grandmother, Mrs. Maude Messel, who was in her 80's, died last week in London and it did not get into the papers here.

An interesting letter from David ("Richard Diamond") Janssen who is in Okinawa with the "Hell to Eternity" company. Writes David: "This is quite an island, Louella. In the middle of great poverty you'll find Army and Air Force installations that are on a par with Los Angeles hotels. Marines, however, live on the northern part of the island and their quarters are far from luxurious.

"I have the feeling I signed enlistment papers intead of a movie contract. We eat with the Marines, sleep at the same camp, and although it's simulated, fight right along side of them. Well, if it makes a good picture—and we all feel that it will —it's worth it. I'll see you in two weeks."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

When You Eat Is Important, Too!

With the martyrdom of Joan of Arc, you avoid the potatoes at dinner, pass up those mouth-watering desserts at lunch, eat everything your diet tells you to — and still can't lost weight?

Well, let's take another look at what you ate during the last twenty-four hours — and when you ate it.

When you were counting your calorie-consumption, did you add in that pastry that seemed to just sneak onto your tray during coffee break? Or that "just one piece" of candy that was passed around the office? Or those "few little bites" of left-overs you had just before going to bed?

After all, even those few tastes for approval you take while cooking adds to your calories for the day.

Add them up. You'll probably be amazed at how many calories these "few bites" amount to. A calorie-count means every one of them — and when you eat them means a lot, too.

Dieting can be pleasant enough if it's a way of eating, not starving as outlined in my special booklet, "Your Beauty Diet." For your copy, send 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me, c/o this newspaper.

I believe that a diet should contribute to good looks and a feeling of well-being while it's being followed. But it must be carefully scheduled, not hit-and-miss eating, to do this as well as to insure weight loss.

When you eat is part of it. If you eat oftener than every four hours, or heavily at bedtime, your system does not convert all the calories to energy, and they turn into fat.

If you're going to bother dieting at all, adhere to it strictly. You'll find your reward on the scales.

Man Posts Bond On Two Charges

John Yeager, Midland, posted $200 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court on charges of maintaining a gambling device and selling alcoholic beverages on Sunday.

Magistrate Paul Barnett set bond at $100 on each count after Edwin R. Lilya, criminal investigator, prayed a jury trial for the state. He will appear before the April term of Circuit Court.

Yeager was charged following an inspection of his business in Midland Sunday morning by the Sheriff's Office and two Allegany County liquor inspectors.

State Helps In County Survey

Robert B. Kimble, director of the State Department of Employment Security, yesterday informed the Allegany County Board of Commissioners that he would send a representative of the agency here to confer on plans for a job analysis and classification system for the county.

Kimble said Francis A. Kenney, local manager of the agency, channeled the board's request to him and that the department was willing to conduct the survey.

Kimble pointed out that the scope of the proposed survey would have to be decided and he would send D. L. B. Fringer, director of employment service, to meet with the board to decide what will be done in the survey.

Commissioner John J. Rowan, board president, instructed James G. Stevenson, board clerk, to have Fringer meet at the Court House on April 5 at 9 a. m. with the board to discuss the matter.

The county board decided some time ago to have the job analysis and classification survey to correct a number of inequities among county employes.

Opening lead: Ten of ♠

North chose to make an introductory call of one club today for though his heart suit was biddable, he feared that the major suit opening might lead to rebid complications. South had the values for an immediate jump shift, inasmuch as his hand was worth 20 points in support of clubs, but he elected to make a temporizing response of one heart in order to permit a more natural rebid from partner. When North gave a direct raise to two hearts, South felt assured of a slam and proceeded to ask for aces. Over the five heart response, South decided that the hand would play better in hearts if North had four, as the clubs could then be used for discards, so he bid six hearts.

West was reluctant to cash his ace with no indication as to where another trick might be forthcoming, so he made the neutral opening of the ten of spades. Declarer could see nothing more to the hand than guessing the location of the diamond ace which he relegated to East when that card was not led at trick one. He therefore drew three rounds of trumps winding up in dummy and led a diamond toward his king. When West produced the ace and the queen, declarer was down one.

South's assumption concerning the location of the diamond ace was not particularly sound, but what is more important, he overlooked a line of play which virtually assures fulfillment. After winning the opening lead, 12 tricks can be won by making the dummy the master hand. The nine of hearts is overtaken by the ten to ruff a spade. Then the king of hearts is played over to the ace and the queen of spades is trumped with declarer's last heart. Now a club puts dummy in to draw the last trump after which the club suit is run. Two diamonds are discarded on the fourth and fifth clubs and declarer has only to concede a diamond at the end. Another case of dummy reversal.

Was Khrush's Flu Diplomatic Virus?

The resumption of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's postponed visit to France is scheduled for today—provided Mr. K has recovered from his attack of the flu. Some observers have gone so far as to speculate that the illness was diplomatic rather than virus-caused, and that unless some of the controversy over arrangements can be resolved, the Russian leader's recovery might be less rapid than expected.

The maneuvering over Khrushchev's itinerary was conducted on the premise that one side could pull a fast propaganda trick on the other. Gen. Charles de Gaulle hoped to fly his guest to the Saharan oil fields (ergo, to make Khrush seem to countenance France's Algerian war). This was ruled out by the Russians.

The French likewise were throwing cold water on Soviet efforts to increase the propaganda possibilities of the trip by gaining for Khrushchev more opportunities for speechmaking and television appearances. French officials ruled out a proposed reception by the Communist-run Franco-Soviet Friendship Society and the inspection of certain historical monuments connected with the German occupation (reminders of less friendly ties between France and Germany).

Khrushchev's sudden illness threw all the arrangements open to rescheduling for the shorter visit—12 days instead of 14. The first, but indecisive, round in the battle of wits clearly went to Mr. K, possibly with the help of a benign germ of diplomatic origin.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

"East-West"

Words influence ideas and actions. The incorrect use of words produces incorrect ideas. It used to be that Soviet Russia was called Soviet Russia; that the satellites were called satellites; that the complex of Communist countries was referred to as Communist countries.

All of a sudden, the Communist nations are called East; the free nations are called West. For the Soviet complex, one might use the term, the Soviet Universal State, but that has not taken with the general public which has an insufficient grasp of history to recognize what it means. It is a good term because that is what Marxism seeks to establish, a single state based on one ideal of life and utilizing one technique of government and one control of the means of production and distribution.

The use of "East-West" is strictly fraudulent because it covers up a multitude of facts. For instance, are Greece, Turkey, Israel, Iran, West? Geographically, they are East but east of what? If we say that the West is representative of the NATO powers, is Nationalist China East?

Where is the line of demarcation? Is Cuba East or West? Is India, East, West, or nowhere? In the struggle for the control of men, there is no geographical line. The word, East, surely fits West Berlin as it fits East Berlin, but one is anti-Marxist and the other is Marxist.

The present struggle for survival is not geographical. It is essentially a struggle over ideas, over ways of life, over philosophies of existence. The struggle transcends geography, as President Eisenhower discovered in Uruguay, if nowhere else. The terms, "East-West," are propagandistically employed in the United States and elsewhere among our allies for the purpose of avoiding the constant use of the term Communist or Marxist. It is amazing how skillful the Russians have been in inventing self-serving words and phrases which become current in countries where they serve Russia's purposes.

The "Spirit of Camp David," a new device of confusion, apparently requires the avoidance of dirty words. But what is the "Spirit of Camp David?" It applies to a private conversation between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev at a Presidential retreat called Camp David. What they said to each other is a secret. Therefore we have no idea as to what the spirit is. Perhaps it is a kind of political ectoplasm that floats about catching Strontium 90 until we are all suffocated by it. The phrase was not first employed in the United States.

Although we do not know what the "Spirit of Camp David" is or means, we do observe that it has certain characteristics. It ushered in a go-easy-on quarrels with Soviet Russia; created an atmosphere favorable to the Summit Conference. Khrushchev seems to take kindly to this atmosphere personally, but Mikoyan came to Cuba to stimulate antagonism to the United States in Cuba, 90 miles off the coast of Florida; the Berlin question was raised to the state of a brink; the Arab-Israel crisis was elevated from a flicker to a flame; the Communists in South America gave President Eisenhower an unpleasant reception wherever they could. In a word, the deed did not quite follow the spirit.

The "Spirit of Camp David" is not altogether a smooth and kindly poltergeist laboring for the peace of the world. It looks more like one side has fallen for gentle talk while the other side does the same kind of business at the same stand—only a new sign-board has been put up.

Instead of the misnomer, "East-West," designed to mislead, let us use the simple terms, Soviet, Communist, Marxist for the euphemism some now call East, and for West, let us use the synthetic term, "Free World." This term is sufficiently descriptive although it is a misnomer, but it is our misnomer and we know what we mean. That is, we know that we mean those countries which are allied or associated with us and most of which have some form of constitutional government and pursue some kind of a capitalist or mixed economy.

It makes sense to be precise about language. It makes sense to strike down propagandistic terms designed to confuse our people.

Two Absent Nations May Force Atomic Agreement At Geneva

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Behind both the Soviet and American diplomats now discussing the banning of A-bomb tests are two potent, overriding worries. They have more to do with bringing the USA and the USSR closer together to end nuclear tests and radioactive fallout than any other single factors.

They are: 1, the fact that France has just tested its first atomic bombs; and 2, the fear that China will soon join the exclusive club of atomic nations.

There have been some important factors pulling for continued atomic testing inside the Eisenhower Administration, and doubtless Khrushchev has his own problems inside the Kremlin.

Our Defense Department, for instance, has long chafed against the Eisenhower moratorium on atomic tests. Secretary of Defense Gates wants tests in order to develop smaller warheads for Polaris submarine-launched missiles; also for the Minuteman intercontinental missile and for the Nike-Zeus anti-missile rocket. The moratorium has been handicapping American missile development, Gates has argued.

On the other hand, the State Department has warned that if irresponsible nations develop the hydrogen bomb anything could happen. While the State Department isn't worried about the French as long as De Gaulle is in power, it remains a fact that the Communist party is the strongest in France, while a certain amount of Fascism lurks below the surface. And De Gaulle is an old man.

Much more worrisome, however, is Red China. So far, Russia has withheld nuclear military information from the Chinese, and this is reported to have irked Peiping considerably. Scientists warn the State Department, however, that it will be only a matter of time before the Chinese develop a bomb of their own. And then—Peiping has already warned that it could afford to lose two or three hundred million people in atomic war!

That's why there's almost certain to be an agreement in Geneva.

The Yacht's Compass

Shortly after Chairman John Doerfer was fired from the Federal Communications Commission for being the guest on the Storer Broadcasting Company's private yacht and taking a trip to Miami on the Storer private plane, a frantic call came in to Broadcasting magazine to kill a four-color advertisement for Storer Broadcasting scheduled for that week. Money, Broadcasting was told, was no cost in canceling the ad.

In big type, the ad also said: "You Know Where You're Going With Storer."

Khrushchev's Flu

Western diplomats in Moscow have now reported on Khrushchev's mysterious "flu" which caused the postponement of his trip to Paris. They say he came back from his Asian trip slightly tired but otherwise in bubbling health. He did not have the flu.

What he did have was a lot of resentment against President de Gaulle for arranging such an ironclad schedule for Mr. K.'s trip through France. DeGaulle had banned a speech from the Hotel De Ville (City Hall) in Paris, also banned TV speeches and any mingling with the people.

So Khrushchev decided there was no reason for spending 15 days in France in an official prison surrounded by polite protocol. Result: He got the flu, forced a new schedule, and cut the visit down to seven days.

WASHINGTON.

In appearance, the Democratic pre-convention campaign is growing hotter by the moment. Before long, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri will announce his candidacy. In reality, the timing is the most interesting aspect of this formal revelation of a flagrantly ill-kept secret.

Over the weekend, one branch of the Symington high command was still insisting that the timing of the grand announcement remained uncertain. The other branch was equally insistant that the announcement would have been made last week, if certain little organizational details did not need straightening out first. In fact, however, the announcement evidently impends; and it is also being made substantially sooner than was originally planned.

A Symigton announcement at this time has some obvious disadvantages. For instance, it leaves the Missouri Senator with no good answer to inconvenient questions about the Indiana primary. Here, after all, is a big mid-western state where Symington has important organization support, and just the sort of state, too, which the Symington backers say Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts can never carry. Then why does the Symington announcement so emphatically not mean that Symington will fight the Indiana primary against Kennedy?

These disadvantages are apparently outweighed by the need to raise a Symington standard to which all good men can repair. Until now, being "everybody's second choice" and planning for a convention deadlock, has been the Symington strategy. But this semi-dark horse strategy is not worth much, if another candidate is the first choice of too many delegates. The possibility that Senator Kennedy may attain this enviable position has obviously spurred Senator Symington to announce now.

This motive is of course denied by the Symington managers, who claim to have a "list of 900 delegates who will never vote for Kennedy, no matter what." But the denial is unconvincing; and it is therefore necessary to look for some hidden feature of the political scene which has alarmed the Symington high command. California is one likely place to look.

The list of California delegates has already been drawn up by the state's Democratic leaders. The 81-man delegation, the convention's second largest, is committed to give a favorite son vote to Governor Pat Brown. And Brown and the Californians have always been just about the most vital elements in all the other candidates' plans to stop the front-running Senator Kennedy dead in his tracks.

By the same token, these plans are all but certain to go wrong if the chairman of the California delegation rises before the end of the first ballot, to announce a change of heart. "California now casts 60 votes for John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts." (Rising tempo, last syllable shrieked) could be a hideous bugle call, ending the drama almost there and then. This is precisely the nightmare, one suspects, that is now haunting the Symingtonites.

There are some reasons for the nightmare, too. In the words of one of the two or three men who should know best, "Pat Brown doesn't control the California delegation well enough to buck a trend, but he can do wonders to promote a trend." In other words, if the trend is still to Kennedy at convention time, Governor Brown can play the largest part in putting Kennedy over the top.

As yet, there is no certainty that Governor Brown will do anything of the sort. But once again in the words of the authority above-quoted, there is a new "atmosphere." There is even a "tendency towards an understanding" between Brown and Kennedy. The atmosphere grew perceptibly warmer, the tendency towards understanding grew somewhat stronger, when Governor Brown was recently in Washington. Brown's closest advisor and political chief of staff, Fred Dutton, also came to town, and devoted a notably long portion of his visit to conferences with the Kennedy managers. This was especially meaningful, since Dutton used to be marked anti-Kennedy.

If Kennedy stumbles really badly in Wisconsin or West Virginia, these signs and portents can quickly lose their meaning. But if Kennedy wins these two crucial primaries, a most important side result can be rather confidently forecast in California. Such, at any rate, is the conclusion of the Symingtonites—and this after their chief field-worker, Representative Charles Brown of Missouri, had his own chance to explore the future with Fred Dutton.

While firmly claiming rock-like solidity for their anti-Kennedy legion of 900, the Symingtonites also admit Kennedy "can have 58 to 60 California votes" after victories in Wisconsin and West Virginia. These facts in turn explain why the Wisconsin contest is growing more bitter by the hour, and why some people think the normally unimportant West Virginia primary may be the nastiest in this century.

READING HABITS — Government studies show that the popularity of television across the United States has not affected public reading habits. On the contrary, newspaper periodical and book sales continue to rise at a steady pace.

There was a time when educators and others expressed fears that television would change the nation into a huge mass of illiterates, but time and experience has disproved this.

The government study was made by the Department of Commerce, primarily to determine how the printing industry was faring. It found that television actually has stimulated public reading habits by arousing interest in current affairs and literature.

There is nothing new in the fear that an innovation will adversely affect public reading habits. The government report recalls that around the turn of the century book publishers were worried about the possibility that the craze for bicycles would eliminate reading as a pastime.

Later on the automobile and the motion picture replaced the bicycle as the great threat to reading. Still later came radio, and most recently television.

The fact is that the modern American economy is improving in its rate of productivity all the time, which means that we are producing what we need and want in fewer work hours. The new pastimes are taken out of new leisure time. More and more people have more hobbies and interests outside their work.

Food Ideas Differ But Basic Needs Don't

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

It is doubtful if the time will come when all the people of the world will eat the same standard diet. Their nutritional needs vary because of differences in physique, food patterns, mode of living, rate of growth, and climate. Inhabitants of colder parts of the world who work hard require more food than do natives of the tropics who like a midday siesta.

On the other hand, the body's demand for basic elements is the same regardless of where the individual lives, and his race, color, or creed. Human tissues thrive on calories and combinations of fats, carbohydrates, proteins, vitamins, minerals, and water. These food elements play a role in growth as well as in maintenance and repair of tissues.

Proteins are essential but it makes little difference whether they are obtained from beef, pork, horse, fish, polar bears, dogs, rats, snails, locusts, snakes, venison, or other meats. The type consumed depends upon availability and cultural patterns. It might be as difficult to change the eating habits of those living on the other side of the globe who consider fried snails or boiled snake the best yet, as to ask an American to give up filet mignon or lamb chops.

Nutritonists in various countries use different yardsticks to determine what diet is adequate for their people. All their recommendations are designed to maintain good nutrition under current conditions of living. Minimal standards are deemed adequate; those who eat less are endangering their health.

Food standards in the U.S.A. reflect our economy of waste. The allowances are generous and afford a margin of safety far above minimal requirements. This is done to take care of any possible need for more food in case of stress, increased height, or stepped up activity.

The Canadians are more frugal. In their opinion, the ingestion of excess food is harmful and undesirable in the face of scarcity. The Japanese, on the other hand, have modernized their standards to help their children grow taller. As the effects of World War II pass, they expect to raise their food allowances.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send a leaflet on the normal diet if a stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

TWITCHING EYELIDS

A. C. writes: Is there any help for the affliction called blepharospasm?

REPLY

Spasm or twitching of the eyelids stems from irritation, visual disorders, fatigue, overindulgence in tobacco, or infection. In some instances it represents a bad habit. Correcting the cause cures most cases. If the condition is obstinate, it may be necessary to deaden the nerve.

PHLEBITIS SYMPTOMS

W. V. S. writes: Does phlebitis of the right leg cause aching of the calf and the skin over it?

REPLY

SHOULDER PAIN

L. J. writes: Is it natural to have pain in the left shoulder after a heart attack?

REPLY

This happens occasionally, and sometimes the left hand is painful and tender along with shoulder distress.

PRESSURE AND HEADACHE

P. V. C. writes: Could headache in the back of the head be due to high blood pressure?

REPLY

Yes, more so when it is present in the morning on awakening. But why guess?

TOMORROW: Protect tots from poisons.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

A few gaffs that have sent TV personnel reeling: 1. A bee-you-tee-ful hostess was singing the praises of a strawberry pie for a gorgeously gooey commercial. A propman noticed at the last minute that the usual whipped-cream topping was missing, so he substituted shaving cream. The hostess took one fat bite . . . 2. An announcer declared a certain dog food was the delight of every pooch. "Watch Towser devour this," he urged. Some pranksters in the studio, however, had substituted sawdust for the dog food. Towser took one sniff, then bit the announcer in the ankle. 3. Two announcers fluffed. One, describing a dainty beauty, proclaimed, "Her breath will take your beauty away." The second attributed a news flash to "respected White House souses."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Dear Diary: This, my silent friend, has been a week. Not a weak week; a busy one. To bed at two every night, up at the crack of nine-thirty. The phone never stopped. I just left the dentist's office, where I dozed as Dr. Milton Ross filed the bridges and plates while my daughter sat in the waiting room mumbling: "What can they be doing to his two teeth? One good cleaning and he's down to the gums."

Talked to Leon Travis about Dale Yacht Works. I need a new boat like I need lessons in a Russian kazotsky, but, like most boat owners, I'm always thinking of something bigger. Drove up to Englewood to see my new friend, Miss Gita Krull. She slept through my kisses, but one must not expect too much of girls at the age of two months.

Mrs. Elinor Sullivan came over for lunch. She's one of the great pioneer pilots and has forgotten more aviation than some of the generals. Down to La Concha with Chief and a chance to look at Atlantic City from a penthouse. A full moon came up in burnt orange over the dark sea and what does my romantic friend say? He says: "Hey, it's going to be warm tomorrow."

Flew up to Boston to the Paulist Center. Flew home the same night in Eastern's Electra, which made it in 39 minutes. In New York at noon to tape a radio show for Howard Barnes and Sandy Sheldon.

Back home in time to shoot pool with my father, who made me welcome by trouncing me with those complicated combination shots. Got even with him by telling him the story of my life—my version. Sent a copy of "The Day Christ Died" to Miss Annie Bayless, celebrating her 91st birthday in Berkeley. Missed a lunch date with Miss Camelon of Second Sight Foundation, made one at the Root Beer and Checkers Club with Roscoe Allen.

Took time out to fit a big sectional couch around the fireplace. This taught me a valuable lesson: manual labor is not for me. Bought some Hawaiian records: "Na Mele of Hawaii," "Hawaiian Strings," "West of Hawaii," Webley Edwards' "Island Paradise" and "Taboo," and made the mistake of playing them in the middle of the day.

All work stopped around the house. Chief Dundas went into a hula. He's 220 pounds and 54 years old. My secretary began to dream out of the window and I said sarcastically: "Having a little trouble working on that check book?" "Working on it?" she said. "I can't even get it open." The housekeeper came into the dining room dancing with a broom. That ends the Hawaiian bit.

Called Nash Aluminum to make a few metal awnings with black-and-white striping. Wrote a column, neglected the new book. Had a date with William Wyler, director of the epic of all epics, "Ben Hur," but he was called to Washington. Made one with Roberto Considine, the living example that nice guys never finish last.

Stopped in to see Ginny and my three grandchildren. One of the twin girls waved bye-bye; wish I knew which one. Little Jim Bishop Frechette is so pleased with the world that he never cries, except when he's hungry, or being bathed. Back to New York to complete the CBS radio program.

Talked to Jayne Mansfield, who, with husband Mickey Hargitay, is off to Rome to make a picture about Hercules. He won't be so strong after the first long look at Miss M. Gave the last of the new shepherd pups away — to Deke DeLoache's boy, to Dwight Junger, Dan Healy, to Pamela Sullivan, and one is a birthday gift to Diane Hunter. Everyone was pleased but the mother.

Walked up Madison Avenue with Dick Rubin of MCA. Almost froze. When he left, I ducked into the first store I saw to get warm. Turned out they sell foundation garments. Asked for one for my purple nose; the clerk didn't think it was funny. In the evening to Jim Corrubia's spaghetti palace for meat sauce and hot Italian bread.

Talked to Ed Holland of the Boston Record long distance. As a TV personality, he lasted longer than Berle. Heard from Bill Scanlon; his frau Amanda had her pretty face remodeled when she was hit by another woman driver. It takes two to tangle.

Call from the shapely Gertrude Parker about a dinner date. The kid was born laughing. Wrote a note to Alan Ladd about a movie I'm writing about Custer. In this Western, my friends, the Indians win. . .

A new Air Force cook's manual, we hear, explains the purpose of knives, forks, spoons, refrigerators, mixing bowls, etc. Now, if someone will just explain to us the purpose of such a manual we'll all be happy.

Was Khrush's Flu Diplomatic Virus?

The resumption of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's postponed visit to France is scheduled for today—provided Mr. K has recovered from his attack of the flu. Some observers have gone so far as to speculate that the illness was diplomatic rather than virus-caused, and that unless some of the controversy over arrangements can be resolved, the Russian leader's recovery might be less rapid than expected.

The maneuvering over Khrushchev's itinerary was conducted on the premise that one side could pull a fast propaganda trick on the other. Gen. Charles de Gaulle hoped to fly his guest to the Saharan oil fields (ergo, to make Khrush seem to countenance France's Algerian war). This was ruled out by the Russians.

The French likewise were throwing cold water on Soviet efforts to increase the propaganda possibilities of the trip by gaining for Khrushchev more opportunities for speechmaking and television appearances. French officials ruled out a proposed reception by the Communist-run Franco-Soviet Friendship Society and the inspection of certain historical monuments connected with the German occupation (reminders of less friendly ties between France and Germany).

Khrushchev's sudden illness threw all the arrangements open to rescheduling for the shorter visit—12 days instead of 14. The first, but indecisive, round in the battle of wits clearly went to Mr. K, possibly with the help of a benign germ of diplomatic origin.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

"East-West"

Words influence ideas and actions. The incorrect use of words produces incorrect ideas. It used to be that Soviet Russia was called Soviet Russia; that the satellites were called satellites; that the complex of Communist countries was referred to as Communist countries.

All of a sudden, the Communist nations are called East; the free nations are called West. For the Soviet complex, one might use the term, the Soviet Universal State, but that has not taken with the general public which has an insufficient grasp of history to recognize what it means. It is a good term because that is what Marxism seeks to establish, a single state based on one ideal of life and utilizing one technique of government and one control of the means of production and distribution.

The use of "East-West" is strictly fraudulent because it covers up a multitude of facts. For instance, are Greece, Turkey, Israel, Iran, West? Geographically, they are East but east of what? If we say that the West is representative of the NATO powers, is Nationalist China East?

Where is the line of demarcation? Is Cuba East or West? Is India, East, West, or nowhere? In the struggle for the control of men, there is no geographical line. The word, East, surely fits West Berlin as it fits East Berlin, but one is anti-Marxist and the other is Marxist.

The present struggle for survival is not geographical. It is essentially a struggle over ideas, over ways of life, over philosophies of existence. The struggle transcends geography, as President Eisenhower discovered in Uruguay, if nowhere else. The terms, "East-West," are propagandistically employed in the United States and elsewhere among our allies for the purpose of avoiding the constant use of the term Communist or Marxist. It is amazing how skillful the Russians have been in inventing self-serving words and phrases which become current in countries where they serve Russia's purposes.

The "Spirit of Camp David," a new device of confusion, apparently requires the avoidance of dirty words. But what is the "Spirit of Camp David?" It applies to a private conversation between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev at a Presidential retreat called Camp David. What they said to each other is a secret. Therefore we have no idea as to what the spirit is. Perhaps it is a kind of political ectoplasm that floats about catching Strontium 90 until we are all suffocated by it. The phrase was not first employed in the United States.

Although we do not know what the "Spirit of Camp David" is or means, we do observe that it has certain characteristics. It ushered in a go-easy-on quarrels with Soviet Russia; created an atmosphere favorable to the Summit Conference. Khrushchev seems to take kindly to this atmosphere personally, but Mikoyan came to Cuba to stimulate antagonism to the United States in Cuba, 90 miles off the coast of Florida; the Berlin question was raised to the state of a brink; the Arab-Israel crisis was elevated from a flicker to a flame; the Communists in South America gave President Eisenhower an unpleasant reception wherever they could. In a word, the deed did not quite follow the spirit.

The "Spirit of Camp David" is not altogether a smooth and kindly poltergeist laboring for the peace of the world. It looks more like one side has fallen for gentle talk while the other side does the same kind of business at the same stand—only a new sign-board has been put up.

Instead of the misnomer, "East-West," designed to mislead, let us use the simple terms, Soviet, Communist, Marxist for the euphemism some now call East, and for West, let us use the synthetic term, "Free World." This term is sufficiently descriptive although it is a misnomer, but it is our misnomer and we know what we mean. That is, we know that we mean those countries which are allied or associated with us and most of which have some form of constitutional government and pursue some kind of a capitalist or mixed economy.

It makes sense to be precise about language. It makes sense to strike down propagandistic terms designed to confuse our people.

Two Absent Nations May Force Atomic Agreement At Geneva

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Behind both the Soviet and American diplomats now discussing the banning of A-bomb tests are two potent, overriding worries. They have more to do with bringing the USA and the USSR closer together to end nuclear tests and radioactive fallout than any other single factors.

They are: 1, the fact that France has just tested its first atomic bombs; and 2, the fear that China will soon join the exclusive club of atomic nations.

There have been some important factors pulling for continued atomic testing inside the Eisenhower Administration, and doubtless Khrushchev has his own problems inside the Kremlin.

Our Defense Department, for instance, has long chafed against the Eisenhower moratorium on atomic tests. Secretary of Defense Gates wants tests in order to develop smaller warheads for Polaris submarine-launched missiles; also for the Minuteman intercontinental missile and for the Nike-Zeus anti-missile rocket. The moratorium has been handicapping American missile development, Gates has argued.

On the other hand, the State Department has warned that if irresponsible nations develop the hydrogen bomb anything could happen. While the State Department isn't worried about the French as long as De Gaulle is in power, it remains a fact that the Communist party is the strongest in France, while a certain amount of Fascism lurks below the surface. And De Gaulle is an old man.

Much more worrisome, however, is Red China. So far, Russia has withheld nuclear military information from the Chinese, and this is reported to have irked Peiping considerably. Scientists warn the State Department, however, that it will be only a matter of time before the Chinese develop a bomb of their own. And then—Peiping has already warned that it could afford to lose two or three hundred million people in atomic war!

That's why there's almost certain to be an agreement in Geneva.

The Yacht's Compass

Shortly after Chairman John Doerfer was fired from the Federal Communications Commission for being the guest on the Storer Broadcasting Company's private yacht and taking a trip to Miami on the Storer private plane, a frantic call came in to Broadcasting magazine to kill a four-color advertisement for Storer Broadcasting scheduled for that week. Money, Broadcasting was told, was no cost in canceling the ad.

In big type, the ad also said: "You Know Where You're Going With Storer."

Remarked one Senator: "Wonder if John Doerfer knew where he was going with Storer? He went—out."

On the other hand, the body's demand for basic elements is the same regardless of where the individual lives, and his race, color, or creed. Human tissues thrive on calories and combinations of fats, carbohydrates, proteins, vitamins, minerals, and water. These food elements play a role in growth as well as in maintenance and repair of tissues.

Proteins are essential but it makes little difference whether they are obtained from beef, pork, horse, fish, polar bears, dogs, rats, snails, locusts, snakes, venison, or other meats. The type consumed depends upon availability and cultural patterns. It might be as difficult to change the eating habits of those living on the other side of the globe who consider fried snails or boiled snake the best yet, as to ask an American to give up filet mignon or lamb chops.

Nutritonists in various countries use different yardsticks to determine what diet is adequate for their people. All their recommendations are designed to maintain good nutrition under current conditions of living. Minimal standards are deemed adequate; those who eat less are endangering their health.

Food standards in the U.S.A. reflect our economy of waste. The allowances are generous and afford a margin of safety far above minimal requirements. This is done to take care of any possible need for more food in case of stress, increased height, or stepped up activity.

The Canadians are more frugal. In their opinion, the ingestion of excess food is harmful and undesirable in the face of scarcity. The Japanese, on the other hand, have modernized their standards to help their children grow taller. As the effects of World War II pass, they expect to raise their food allowances.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send a leaflet on the normal diet if a stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

TWITCHING EYELIDS

A. C. writes: Is there any help for the affliction called blepharospasm?

REPLY

Spasm or twitching of the eyelids stems from irritation, visual disorders, fatigue, overindulgence in tobacco, or infection. In some instances it represents a bad habit. Correcting the cause cures most cases. If the condition is obstinate, it may be necessary to deaden the nerve.

PHLEBITIS SYMPTOMS

W. V. S. writes: Does phlebitis of the right leg cause aching of the calf and the skin over it?

REPLY

SHOULDER PAIN

L. J. writes: Is it natural to have pain in the left shoulder after a heart attack?

REPLY

This happens occasionally, and sometimes the left hand is painful and tender along with shoulder distress.

PRESSURE AND HEADACHE

P. V. C. writes: Could headache in the back of the head be due to high blood pressure?

REPLY

Yes, more so when it is present in the morning on awakening. But why guess?

TOMORROW: Protect tots from poisons.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

A few gaffs that have sent TV personnel reeling: 1. A bee-you-tee-ful hostess was singing the praises of a strawberry pie for a gorgeously gooey commercial. A propman noticed at the last minute that the usual whipped-cream topping was missing, so he substituted shaving cream. The hostess took one fat bite . . . 2. An announcer declared a certain dog food was the delight of every pooch. "Watch Towser devour this," he urged. Some pranksters in the studio, however, had substituted sawdust for the dog food. Towser took one sniff, then bit the announcer in the ankle. 3. Two announcers fluffed. One, describing a dainty beauty, proclaimed, "Her breath will take your beauty away." The second attributed a news flash to "respected White House souses."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Dear Diary: This, my silent friend, has been a week. Not a weak week; a busy one. To bed at two every night, up at the crack of nine-thirty. The phone never stopped. I just left the dentist's office, where I dozed as Dr. Milton Ross filed the bridges and plates while my daughter sat in the waiting room mumbling: "What can they be doing to his two teeth? One good cleaning and he's down to the gums."

Talked to Leon Travis about Dale Yacht Works. I need a new boat like I need lessons in a Russian kazotsky, but, like most boat owners, I'm always thinking of something bigger. Drove up to Englewood to see my new friend, Miss Gita Krull. She slept through my kisses, but one must not expect too much of girls at the age of two months.

Mrs. Elinor Sullivan came over for lunch. She's one of the great pioneer pilots and has forgotten more aviation than some of the generals. Down to La Concha with Chief and a chance to look at Atlantic City from a penthouse. A full moon came up in burnt orange over the dark sea and what does my romantic friend say? He says: "Hey, it's going to be warm tomorrow."

Flew up to Boston to the Paulist Center. Flew home the same night in Eastern's Electra, which made it in 39 minutes. In New York at noon to tape a radio show for Howard Barnes and Sandy Sheldon.

Back home in time to shoot pool with my father, who made me welcome by trouncing me with those complicated combination shots. Got even with him by telling him the story of my life—my version. Sent a copy of "The Day Christ Died" to Miss Annie Bayless, celebrating her 91st birthday in Berkeley. Missed a lunch date with Miss Camelon of Second Sight Foundation, made one at the Root Beer and Checkers Club with Roscoe Allen.

Took time out to fit a big sectional couch around the fireplace. This taught me a valuable lesson: manual labor is not for me. Bought some Hawaiian records: "Na Mele of Hawaii," "Hawaiian Strings," "West of Hawaii," Webley Edwards' "Island Paradise" and "Taboo," and made the mistake of playing them in the middle of the day.

All work stopped around the house. Chief Dundas went into a hula. He's 220 pounds and 54 years old. My secretary began to dream out of the window and I said sarcastically: "Having a little trouble working on that check book?" "Working on it?" she said. "I can't even get it open." The housekeeper came into the dining room dancing with a broom. That ends the Hawaiian bit.

Called Nash Aluminum to make a few metal awnings with black-and-white striping. Wrote a column, neglected the new book. Had a date with William Wyler, director of the epic of all epics, "Ben Hur," but he was called to Washington. Made one with Roberto Considine, the living example that nice guys never finish last.

Stopped in to see Ginny and my three grandchildren. One of the twin girls waved bye-bye; wish I knew which one. Little Jim Bishop Frechette is so pleased with the world that he never cries, except when he's hungry, or being bathed. Back to New York to complete the CBS radio program.

Talked to Jayne Mansfield, who, with husband Mickey Hargitay, is off to Rome to make a picture about Hercules. He won't be so strong after the first long look at Miss M. Gave the last of the new shepherd pups away — to Deke DeLoache's boy, to Dwight Junger, Dan Healy, to Pamela Sullivan, and one is a birthday gift to Diane Hunter. Everyone was pleased but the mother.

Walked up Madison Avenue with Dick Rubin of MCA. Almost froze. When he left, I ducked into the first store I saw to get warm. Turned out they sell foundation garments. Asked for one for my purple nose; the clerk didn't think it was funny. In the evening to Jim Corrubia's spaghetti palace for meat sauce and hot Italian bread.

Talked to Ed Holland of the Boston Record long distance. As a TV personality, he lasted longer than Berle. Heard from Bill Scanlon; his frau Amanda had her pretty face remodeled when she was hit by another woman driver. It takes two to tangle.

Call from the shapely Gertrude Parker about a dinner date. The kid was born laughing. Wrote a note to Alan Ladd about a movie I'm writing about Custer. In this Western, my friends, the Indians win. . .

Space ships that will clip along at speeds of two million miles a day are predicted by an Air Force scientist. That'll put an end to that old excuse of two-weeks vacation isn't long enough to go anywhere.

A new Air Force cook's manual, we hear, explains the purpose of knives, forks, spoons, refrigerators, mixing bowls, etc. Now, if someone will just explain to us the purpose of such a manual we'll all be happy.

VFW Sextet Defeats Mason's, 38-36, Squares Series

Miltenberger Goal Wins In Extra Period

Pauline's Layup Decides; Rubber Game Set Tonight

Pauline Miltenberger's field goal, the only score made in a three-minute overtime period, gave the V.F.W. a 38-36 victory over the Mason Jug Gals last night and squared up their series at one-all in the finals of the Women's Gold Medal Basketball Tournament at Fort Hill High School.

The third and deciding game is scheduled for tonight at 7:30 at Fort Hill.

May Smith of the Vets scored the first goal of the contest. Close guarding by both teams kept the scoring opportunities low and the first quarter ended with the V.F.W. on top by the score of 12-7.

In the second period, Mason's came to life and scored six points in succession to put the Jug Gals ahead for the first time before the Vets could marshal their forces and pull ahead on field goals by Smith and Mullaney and two foul shots by Pauline Miltenberger. At halftime the V.F.W. held a 19-15 advantage.

The score was knotted three times in the second half and the pace quickened as each team put all their efforts in controlling the ball.

V. F. W. controlled the ball throughout the overtime period in which Pauline Miltenberger's layup shot settled the issue.

Shoemaker To Ride Restless Wind In Campbell Handicap

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — Jockey Bill Shoemaker, five-time national riding champion, will ride Llangollen Farm's Restless Wind in the $100,000 Campbell Handicap on Saturday, Trainer Charles Whittingham announced Tuesday.

It will be Shoemaker's first appearance at Bowie since Nov. 27, 1950 when he came East from California for a head-to-head duel with Jockey Joe Culmone.

Palmer's $25,100 Leads Fellow Pros

Palmer finished fifth in the St. Petersburg Open this week to increase his earnings by $900.

Jack Fleck, who lost out to George Bayer in the St. Petersburg Open, remained in second with earnings of $13,30—up $1,500 from last week—while Ken Venturi, fourth a week ago, moved into third place ahead of Bob Goalby. Venturi has earned $11,400 and Goalby $10,800.

Fred Hawkins, $10,500; Jay Hebert, $8,700; Dow Finsterwald, $8,300; Don January, $8,300; Billy Maxwell, $8,300; and Doug Ford, $7,700; complete the top 10 in that order.

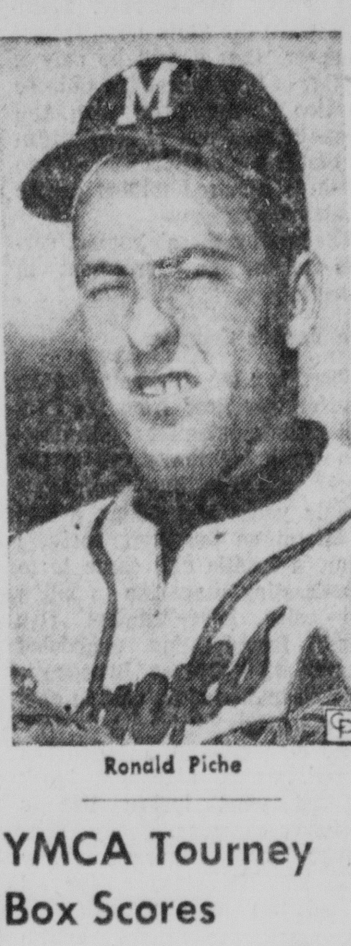
Piche, Milwaukee Rookie, Prefers To Pitch In Relief!



Ronald Piche

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

BRADENTON, Fla. — It may be a big relief for Chuck Dressen this year if Ron Piche makes the club.

For Ron, who has spent five years in the Braves' farm system, not only is a fine relief pitcher, he doesn't want to do anything else but pitch in relief!

Born in Montreal, Ron who has a resemblance in physique to that of Elroy Face, the Pirates' bullpen specialist, likes the relief job "because I think I have a better chance to stick with this club and I can pitch oftener."

Ron's record is a fine one, and he's never had a losing season. Last year, for example, he pitched in 53 games for Louisville's league champs, fanned 131 in 125 innings and gave up only 51 bases on balls.

With Jacksonville in the South Atlantic league the year previous Piche worked 47 games and had an earned-run average of 2.80.

In five seasons in the minors, Ron's record, with some starting assignments, stands at 62 won and 34 lost. He is a strong-armed thrower, although he weighs but 165 pounds, and the sinker is his best pitch. Last year at Fort Worth he pitched three innings in the first game of a doubleheader and was called on in the second and twirled eight innings. Says his arm didn't feel sore, either.

On another occasion, the day before his birthday, he went in the sixth inning and pitched until the game was halted at 1 a.m. — in the 18th inning.

Ron's early baseball around Montreal was on the sandlots because in school hockey was the No. 1 sport. He played only a few games in college at Mt. St. Louis university.

Piche's minor league career started at Lawton, Okla., and moved on up through Eau Claire, Evansville, Jacksonville and Louisville. He may have reached the top now in his first look in the Braves' camp.

Redlegs Win, 7-6; House Belts Pair

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI)—Catcher Frank House hit two home runs and a double Tuesday to pace the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-6 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

House's second homer broke a 6-6 tie in the eighth inning and was the only hit allowed by young Ed Keegan in two innings of relief work. Don Cardwell was tagged for six runs in the first six innings.

The Phils climbed on Orlando Pena for four runs in the third inning and two in the fourth, but young Jay Hook held them to one single in the last five frames.

Flintstone Wins Over Oldtown

Sweeps Basketball In Four Divisions

The Flintstone High School girls triumphed over Oldtown High School in a Winter Sports Day program yesterday by winning in four basketball divisions.

The meet featured games involving the outstanding eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh grade girls from the two schools.

The largest margin of victory came in the opener when the Flintstone 8th graders swamped the Oldtown lassies, 51-4. The Aggiettes followed with victories in the 9-A division, 35-17, the 9-B division, 24-7, tenth grade, 30-25, and eleventh grade, 49-14. Only in the tenth grade did the Oldtowners press the winners but they couldn't quite catch the Aggie sextet.

Outstanding performers for Flintstone were: Eighth grade—Linda Mallow and Bonnie Bennett. Ninth grade — Viola Trail; Peggy Heavner, Shirley Davis and Patty Stokes. Tenth grade—Linda Mauzy, Virginia Heavner and Shirley Morrall. Eleventh grade — Shirley Morgan and Myrtle Haines. For Oldtown: Eighth grade, Rosalie Wolfe and Blanche Bishop. Ninth grade — Betty Mallery and Joyce Platt. Tenth Grade —Donna Porter and Marie Twigg. Eleventh Grade — Kathy McLaughlin and Joan Heresuth.

Pat Meeks and Janet Crabtree officiated the meet which was directed by Robert E. Pence assisted by Mrs. Joan Nicke of Flintstone High and Miss Jeannette Hicks of Oldtown High.

Twilight League Entry Deadline Set For Tonight

Tonight is the deadline for accepting applications for franchises in the Twilight Baseball League as the circuit meets at 7:30 o'clock at the Bowlmor Centre in Barton.

Six teams have been granted franchises, namely, Barton, Franklin, Lonaconing, Zihlman, Westernport and Klondyke, and it is hoped to add two more clubs for the 1960 campaign.

Among teams reported as interested in joining the circuit are Keyser, Midland, Frostburg and Springs, Pa.

Tinkalero Sets Aqueduct Record

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Jack Welch's Tinkalero showed a fondness for the snow-softened going to set a track mark of 1:03 4/5 for five and a half furlongs in winning the featured Searching Purse at Aqueduct Race Track today.

The five-year-old daughter of Bolero-Miss Tinka, well rated by Willie Shoemaker, scored by two and a half lengths over Theodore Fatscher's Allchain, and Bernard V. Sturz's Cashel 2nd, who deadheated for the place. Tinkalero sliced a fifth of a second off the clocking set by Airide last Nov. 21.

Solid choice with the crowd of 12,776 who defied the snow that fell most of the day, Tinkalero returned mutuels of $4.30, $3.00 and $2.80. Allchain returned $4.10 and $5.60 and Cashel 2nd paid $4 40 and $6.00.

Little Rock Obtains Pelicans' Franchise

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Three hundred enthusiastic Little Rock businessmen raised $25,000 in an hour Monday and secured the Southern Assn. baseball franchise given up last week by New Orleans.

League President Charlie Hurth of New Orleans assured the group that it could obtain the franchise, which includes 12 ball players. The rest of the playing personnel will come from other clubs in the major and minor leagues.

The group incorporated itself as the Arkansas Travelers Baseball Co. It elected a steering committee which will rase an additional $25,000 through sale of stock.

WVU Opens Apr. 2

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —The West Virginia University baseball squad, with only three lettermen returning, open the 1960 season April 2, meeting Bridgewater College at Bridgewater, Va.

Action in the Senior Unlimited Division of the 15th annual YMCA-Jaycee Basketball Tournament concluded last night's program at the "Y" where the House of Truly quint took Johnson's Grocery of Cumberland into camp by the score of 47-43.

Fifteen teams were entered in the senior competition in the local tourney and Johnson's was the first to be eliminated.

Game Is Thriller

The Truly-Johnson's game was a thriller throughout and was not decided until late in the final period. The score was knotted at 11-11 in the first period, Truly's led at the half, 21-20, and the teams were tied up again when the third quarter ended, 33-33.

George Lauder and Ed Truly dumped in 12 and 10 tallies to lead the winners in scoring. Ellsworth Lambert's 16 points was the best for Johnson's.

CYO Champs Lose

Ced's Rascals, piloted by Cedric Miller, whipped St. Patrick's champions of the Catholic Youth League, 36-31, and Davis' Dandies whipped St. Michael's of Frostburg, 33-31, in a pair of 115-pound class contests as the second night's program got under way.

Jim Arrowood paced Ced's Rascals with ten tallies while Larry Imes was leading scorer for St. Patrick's with 12 tallies. St. Patrick's led 17-12 at halftime but the Rascals forged ahead in the third period, 24-23.

Harold Hardinger was the top scorer for Davis' Dandies with 13 points to his credit. Dick Delaney and Kenny Pollock with 12 and 11 markers sparked St. Michael's.

Broome Scores 35

Jim Broome, Potomac State College player, racked up 35 points for the Thetas, Ralph Wimer garnered 18 and Kenny Miers collected 13. Tom Bishop and Bob Hershberger paced the losers with 14 and 10 tallies, respectively.

Ramos, Pascual Tame Orioles

Yield Three Hits, Senators Win, 2-1

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Washington's 1-2 Cuban pitching duo of Pedro Ramos and Camily Pascual combined brilliantly on a three-hit effort Tuesday to give the Senators a 2-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The Senators snapped a four-game losing streak at the same time the Birds extended their string of defeats to six in a row. Baltimore won its first three games.

Ramos gave up the lone Baltimore run in the second when Gus Triandos doubled and Willie Tasby singled. Those were the only two hits Ramos allowed.

Pascual was even more impressive in the four innings he worked. The only man to reach base against Pascual was Jackie Brandt, who singled in the ninth.

Athletics Whip Detroit, 5-1

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI)—Norm Siebern's two-run homer off Jim Bunning and three unearned runs at the expense of southpaw Hank Aguirre gave the Kansas City Athletics a 5-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers Tuesday before 1,155 fans.

The tallies scored off Aguirre, following an error by rookie shortstop Frank Kostron, were the first charged to Aguirre in 13 innings this spring.

The Tigers were saved from a shutout by Ray Herbert and John Tsitouris, a couple of their own castoffs, when Johnny Groth connected for a home run off Tsitouris in the eighth inning.

Herbert and Foiles, Bunning, Aguirre 6, and Roarke. Winner—Herbert. Loser—Bunning. HRs—Siebern, Groth.

Barbara McIntire Cops Golf Crown

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Barbara Mcintire won her second North and South Amateur Golf Championship in four years Tuesday, defeating Joanne Goodwin, 5 and 4, in the 18-hole finals.

Miss McIntire, the National Amateur champion, was 3-up at the turn and after losing the 10th hole won three of the next four to close out her rival.

Miss McIntire was 2 over par for the 14 holes the match ran.

Philly Cops Fifth Of Series, 128-107

BOSTON (UPI)—Wilt Chamberlain returned to form with a 50-point production to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 128-107 victory over the Boston Celtics Tuesday night.

Chamberlain, hampered by an injury to his right hand in the past two games, was superb in bringing the Warriors back from a two-game deficit before 12,218 Garden fans. The rookie broke a Garden record with 22 field goals and contributed 35 rebounds while playing all but the last 2½ minutes.

The Warriors wrapped up the game in the first half in which they grabbed a 20 - point lead. Chamberlain was aided the most in the opening two periods by Tom Gola, the two Philadelphia players accounting for 45 points or as many as the entire Boston team could manage in the first half.

Gola had 22 points for the game while Paul Arizin had 20. Bill Russell paced Boston with 22, while Frank Ramsey and Gene Conley each had 15.

It was Boston's poor shooting from the floor and the inability of veterans like Bill Sharman and Tommy Heinsohn to connect that cost the Celtics the game. Sharman netted only five points while Heinsohn totaled 13.

Cubs Lose In 12th

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Joe Amalfitano, perennial rookie, singled home the winning run in the 12th inning Tuesday as the San Francisco Giants scored a wild 9-8 comeback victory over the Chicago Cubs.

It was an uphill battle all the way for the Giants, who trailed the Cubs, 6-3, entering the ninth. Orlando Cepeda then tied the count with a three - run homer. The Cubs got a temporary advantage with two runs in the 11th but this time Eddie Bressoud knocked one over the fence with a man on base to tie the score.

Chicago N 000 103 110 020—8 14 2

Apaches Win Rifle Match

Defeat Sentries, Pioneers Triumph

Apaches and Pioneers clobbered opponents in the Western Maryland Rifle League's winter league championship first shootoff match fired Sunday afternoon at Bowman's Addition and Oakland ranges.

Apaches stopped Sentries by a thin margin of seven points in the standing position. Team totals were tied at 1125 markers each, but Apaches scored higher in the standing stage and copped the win. Leo Ford's 284 headed the winners. Best tally for losers was Earl Boor's 283.

Paced by Norm White's 291, Pioneers routed Scouts, 1135 to 1105. Dave McBride's 284 was best for the losers.

The second shootoff match will be held next Sunday when Apaches and Pioneers will shoot for the league championship. Sentries and Scouts will fire for second division honors.

Pirates Edge Chisox In 9th

Baker's Sacrifice Fly Decides, 9-8

FT. MYERS, Fla. (UPI)—Gene Baker, who was out all last season with a knee injury, hit a pinch sacrifice fly in the ninth on Tuesday to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 9-8 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Baker's fly scored Joe Christopher from third and handed Rodolfo Arias his first defeat since the southpaw came up to the Sox last spring. He had a 2-0 record for the American League champs last year and hadn't been beaten in spring training.

It was the second straight day the Pirates turned back the White Sox and the Bucs ran their winning streak to six in a row.

Cubs Retain Kindall

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) —Manager Charlie Grimm declared Monday that Jerry Kindall, former bonus shortstop from the University of Minnesota, had won a job with the Chicago Cubs as utility infielder.

His defensive skill has saved two games in a row.

"I don't care whether he hits or not," said Grimm. "I told him to forget about his bat. He's terrific with the glove."

Greasy Neale Nominated For Hall Of Fame

Nine To Be Picked From List Of Sixty

By JERRY GOULD

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UPI) — Earle (Greasy) Neale, credited with developing the "naked reverse" and a former Wesleyan College sports great, was nominated Tuesday to the National Football Hall of Fame.

Neale, 68, born and reared here, got his start as a coach at Parkersburg High School. Now retired, Greasy lives in New York City, but he often gets back to this area for visits with some old cronies.

With one of the most varied careers in college and professional sports, Neale would find it hard to pick out the highlight. But there are some that can't be ignored.

Among other things, he was an all-around athlete at Wesleyan: a Cincinnati Red outfielder who led his team in batting during the 1919 World Series with a .357 average; a coach at Wesleyan, Marietta, Washington & Jefferson, Virginia, West Virginia and Yale, and pilot of the Philadelphia Eagles when they took two National Football League Championships before he was realeased in 1950.

A total of 60 former coaches and players were nominated to the Hall of Fame. From that group, nine will be chosen and installed during ceremonies next December.

Greasy also liked to recall that he was coach at Washington & Jefferson when that team went to the Rose Bowl in 1922 and tied California.

Fernandez Fights Dupas In Florida

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Florentino Fernandez, an exciting young knockout artist from Havana, probably will be 7 to 5 favorite when he goes against durable Ralph Dupas of New Orleans in a 10-round welterweight fight here Wednesday night.

Fernandez has won 20 of his 26 fights by knockout and his only loss was a knockout by Rocky Kalingo in Caracas, Venezuela, last year.

Dupas has had 98 fights, winning 65 by decision and 14 by knockout.

The fight is expected to draw some 2,500 ringside fans and will be televised nationally by ABC starting at 10 (EST).

VFW Sextet Defeats Mason's, 38-36, Squares Series

Pauline's Layup Decides; Rubber Game Set Tonight

Pauline Miltenberger's field goal, the only score made in a three-minute overtime period, gave the V.F.W. a 38-36 victory over the Mason Jug Gals last night and squared up their series at one-all in the finals of the Women's Gold Medal Basketball Tournament at Fort Hill High School.

The third and deciding game is scheduled for tonight at 7:30 at Fort Hill.

May Smith of the Vets scored the first goal of the contest. Close guarding by both teams kept the scoring opportunities low and the first quarter ended with the V.F.W. on top by the score of 12-7.

In the second period, Mason's came to life and scored six points in succession to put the Jug Gals ahead for the first time before the Vets could marshal their forces and pull ahead on field goals by Smith and Mullaney and two foul shots by Pauline Miltenberger. At halftime the V.F.W. held a 19-15 advantage.

The score was knotted three times in the second half and the pace quickened as each team put all their efforts in controlling the ball.

V. F. W. controlled the ball throughout the overtime period in which Pauline Miltenberger's layup shot settled the issue.

Shoemaker To Ride Restless Wind In Campbell Handicap

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — Jockey Bill Shoemaker, five-time national riding champion, will ride Llangollen Farm's Restless Wind in the $100,000 Campbell Handicap on Saturday, Trainer Charles Whittingham announced Tuesday.

It will be Shoemaker's first appearance at Bowie since Nov. 27, 1950 when he came East from California for a head-to-head duel with Jockey Joe Culmone.

Palmer's $25,100 Leads Fellow Pros

Palmer finished fifth in the St. Petersburg Open this week to increase his earnings by $900.

Jack Fleck, who lost out to George Bayer in the St. Petersburg Open, remained in second with earnings of $13,30—up $1,500 from last week—while Ken Venturi, fourth a week ago, moved into third place ahead of Bob Goalby. Venturi has earned $11,400 and Goalby $10,800.

Fred Hawkins, $10,500; Jay Hebert, $8,700; Dow Finsterwald, $8,300; Don January, $8,300; Billy Maxwell, $8,300; and Doug Ford, $7,700; complete the top 10 in that order.

Piche, Milwaukee Rookie, Prefers To Pitch In Relief!

Ronald Piche

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

BRADENTON, Fla. — It may be a big relief for Chuck Dressen this year if Ron Piche makes the club.

For Ron, who has spent five years in the Braves' farm system, not only is a fine relief pitcher, he doesn't want to do anything else but pitch in relief!

Born in Montreal, Ron who has a resemblance in physique to that of Elroy Face, the Pirates' bullpen specialist, likes the relief job "because I think I have a better chance to stick with this club and I can pitch oftener."

Ron's record is a fine one, and he's never had a losing season. Last year, for example, he pitched in 53 games for Louisville's league champs, fanned 131 in 125 innings and gave up only 51 bases on balls.

With Jacksonville in the South Atlantic league the year previous Piche worked 47 games and had an earned-run average of 2.80.

In five seasons in the minors, Ron's record, with some starting assignments, stands at 62 won and 34 lost. He is a strong-armed thrower, although he weighs but 165 pounds, and the sinker is his best pitch. Last year at Fort Worth he pitched three innings in the first game of a doubleheader and was called on in the second and twirled eight innings. Says his arm didn't feel sore, either.

On another occasion, the day before his birthday, he went in the sixth inning and pitched until the game was halted at 1 a.m. — in the 18th inning.

Ron's early baseball around Montreal was on the sandlots because in school hockey was the No. 1 sport. He played only a few games in college at Mt. St. Louis university.

Piche's minor league career started at Lawton, Okla., and moved on up through Eau Claire, Evansville, Jacksonville and Louisville. He may have reached the top now in his first look in the Braves' camp.

Redlegs Win, 7-6; House Belts Pair

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI)—Catcher Frank House hit two home runs and a double Tuesday to pace the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-6 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

House's second homer broke a 6-6 tie in the eighth inning and was the only hit allowed by young Ed Keegan in two innings of relief work. Don Cardwell was tagged for six runs in the first six innings.

The Phils climbed on Orlando Pena for four runs in the third inning and two in the fourth, but young Jay Hook held them to one single in the last five frames.

Red Sox Win, 9-5

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox broke loose with five runs in the eighth inning to come from behind and defeat the Cleveland Indians Tuesday, 9-5, to snap a four game losing streak.

Victim of the uprising was Bob Teifenauer. The Bosox made five hits that inning.

Sweeps Basketball In Four Divisions

The Flintstone High School girls triumphed over Oldtown High School in a Winter Sports Day program yesterday by winning in four basketball divisions.

The meet featured games involving the outstanding eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh grade girls from the two schools.

The largest margin of victory came in the opener when the Flintstone 8th graders swamped the Oldtown lassies, 51-4. The Aggiettes followed with victories in the 9-A division, 35-17, the 9-B division, 24-7, tenth grade, 30-25, and eleventh grade, 49-14. Only in the tenth grade did the Oldtowners press the winners but they couldn't quite catch the Aggie sextet.

Outstanding performers for Flintstone were: Eighth grade—Linda Mallow and Bonnie Bennett, Ninth grade — Viola Trail; Peggy Heavner, Shirley Davis and Patty Stokes. Tenth grade—Linda Mauzy, Virginia Heavner and Shirley Morrall. Eleventh grade — Shirley Morgan and Myrtle Haines. For Oldtown: Eighth grade, Rosalie Wolfe and Blanche Bishop. Ninth grade — Betty Mallery and Joyce Platt. Tenth Grade —Donna Porter and Marie Twigg. Eleventh Grade — Kathy McLaughlin and Joan Heresuth.

Pat Meeks and Janet Crabtree officiated the meet which was directed by Robert E. Pence assisted by Mrs. Joan Nicke of Flintstone High and Miss Jeannette Hicks of Oldtown High.

Twilight League Entry Deadline Set For Tonight

Tonight is the deadline for accepting applications for franchises in the Twilight Baseball League as the circuit meets at 7:30 o'clock at the Bowlmor Centre in Barton.

Six teams have been granted franchises, namely, Barton, Franklin, Lonaconing, Zihlman, Westernport and Klondyke, and it is hoped to add two more clubs for the 1960 campaign.

Among teams reported as interested in joining the circuit are Keyser, Midland, Frostburg and Springs, Pa.

Tinkalero Sets Aqueduct Record

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Jack Welch's Tinkalero showed a fondness for the snow-softened going to set a track mark of 1:03 4/5 for five and a half furlongs in winning the featured Searching Purse at Aqueduct Race Track today.

The five-year-old daughter of Bolero-Miss Tinka, well rated by Willie Shoemaker, scored by two and a half lengths over Theodore Fatscher's Allchain, and Bernard V. Sturz's Cashel 2nd, who deadheated for the place. Tinkalero sliced a fifth of a second off the clocking set by Airide last Nov. 21.

Solid choice with the crowd of 12,776 who defied the snow that fell most of the day, Tinkalero returned mutuels of $4.30, $3.00 and $2.80. Allchain returned $4.10 and $5.60 and Cashel 2nd paid $4 40 and $6.00.

Little Rock Obtains Pelicans' Franchise

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Three hundred enthusiastic Little Rock businessmen raised $25,000 in an hour Monday and secured the Southern Assn. baseball franchise given up last week by New Orleans.

League President Charlie Hurth of New Orleans assured the group that it could obtain the franchise, which includes 12 ball players. The rest of the playing personnel will come from other clubs in the major and minor leagues.

The group incorporated itself as the Arkansas Travelers Baseball Co. It elected a steering committee which will rase an additional $25,000 through sale of stock.

WVU Opens Apr. 2

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —The West Virginia University baseball squad, with only three lettermen returning, open the 1960 season April 2, meeting Bridgewater College at Bridgewater, Va.

Action in the Senior Unlimited Division of the 15th annual YMCA-Jaycee Basketball Tournament concluded last night's program at the "Y" where the House of Truly quint took Johnson's Grocery of Cumberland into camp by the score of 47-43.

Fifteen teams were entered in the senior competition in the local tourney and Johnson's was the first to be eliminated.

Game Is Thriller

The Truly-Johnson's game was a thriller throughout and was not decided until late in the final period. The score was knotted at 11-11 in the first period, Truly's led at the half, 21-20, and the teams were tied up again when the third quarter ended, 33-33.

George Lauder and Ed Truly dumped in 12 and 10 tallies to lead the winners in scoring. Ellsworth Lambert's 16 points was the best for Johnson's.

CYO Champs Lose

Ced's Rascals, piloted by Cedric Miller, whipped St. Patrick's champions of the Catholic Youth League, 36-31, and Davis' Dandies whipped St. Michael's of Frostburg, 33-31, in a pair of 115-pound class contests as the second night's program got under way.

Jim Arrowood paced Ced's Rascals with ten tallies while Larry Imes was leading scorer for St. Patrick's with 12 tallies. St. Patrick's led 17-12 at halftime but the Rascals forged ahead in the third period, 24-23.

Harold Hardinger was the top scorer for Davis' Dandies with 13 points to his credit. Dick Delarey and Kenny Pollock with 12 and 11 markers sparked St. Michael's.

Broome Scores 35

Jim Broome, Potomac State College player, racked up 35 points for the Thetas, Ralph Wimer garnered 18 and Kenny Miers collected 13. Tom Bishop and Bob Hershberger paced the losers with 14 and 10 tallies, respectively.

Ramos, Pascual Tame Orioles

Yield Three Hits, Senators Win, 2-1

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Washington's 1-2 Cuban pitching duo of Pedro Ramos and Camily Pascual combined brilliantly on a three-hit effort Tuesday to give the Senators a 2-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The Senators snapped a four-game losing streak at the same time the Birds extended their string of defeats to six in a row. Baltimore won its first three games.

Ramos gave up the lone Baltimore run in the second when Gus Triandos doubled and Willie Tasby singled. Those were the only two hits Ramos allowed.

Pascual was even more impressive in the four innings he worked. The only man to reach base against Pascual was Jackie Brandt, who singled in the ninth.

Athletics Whip Detroit, 5-1

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI)—Norm Siebern's two-run homer off Jim Bunning and three unearned runs at the expense of southpaw Hank Aguirre gave the Kansas City Athletics a 5-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers Tuesday before 1,155 fans.

The tallies scored off Aguirre, following an error by rookie shortstop Frank Kostron, were the first charged to Aguirre in 13 innings this spring.

The Tigers were saved from a shutout by Ray Herbert and John Tsitouris, a couple of their own castoffs, when Johnny Groth connected for a home run off Tsitouris in the eighth inning.

Barbara McIntire Cops Golf Crown

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Barbara McIntire won her second North and South Amateur Golf Championship in four years Tuesday, defeating Joanne Goodwin, 5 and 4, in the 18-hole finals.

Miss McIntire, the National Amateur champion, was 3-up at the turn and after losing the 10th hole won three of the next four to close out her rival.

Miss McIntire was 2 over par for the 14 holes the match ran.

Philly Cops Fifth Of Series, 128-107

BOSTON (UPI)—Wilt Chamberlain returned to form with a 50-point production to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 128-107 victory over the Boston Celtics Tuesday night.

Chamberlain, hampered by an injury to his right hand in the past two games, was superb in bringing the Warriors back from a two-game deficit before 12,218 Garden fans. The rookie broke a Garden record with 22 field goals and contributed 35 rebounds while playing all but the last 2½ minutes.

The Warriors wrapped up the game in the first half in which they grabbed a 20-point lead. Chamberlain was aided the most in the opening two periods by Tom Gola, the two Philadelphia players accounting for 45 points or as many as the entire Boston team could manage in the first half.

Gola had 22 points for the game while Paul Arizin had 20. Bill Russell paced Boston with 22, while Frank Ramsey and Gene Conley each had 15.

It was Boston's poor shooting from the floor and the inability of veterans like Bill Sharman and Tommy Heinsohn to connect that cost the Celtics the game. Sharman netted only five points while Heinsohn totaled 13.

Cubs Lose In 12th

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Joe Amalfitano, perennial rookie, singled home the winning run in the 12th inning Tuesday as the San Francisco Giants scored a wild 9-8 comeback victory over the Chicago Cubs.

It was an uphill battle all the way for the Giants, who trailed the Cubs, 6-3, entering the ninth. Orlando Cepeda then tied the count with a three-run homer. The Cubs got a temporary advantage with two runs in the 11th but this time Eddie Bressoud knocked one over the fence with a man on base to tie the score.

Art Ceccarelli yielded three straight singles — by Don Blasingame, Jose Pagan and Amalfitano — for the decisive run in the 12th.

Apaches Win Rifle Match

Defeat Sentries, Pioneers Triumph

Apaches and Pioneers clobbered opponents in the Western Maryland Rifle League's winter league championship first shootoff match fired Sunday afternoon at Bowman's Addition and Oakland ranges.

Apaches stopped Sentries by a thin margin of seven points in the standing position. Team totals were tied at 1125 markers each, but Apaches scored higher in the standing stage and copped the win. Leo Ford's 284 headed the winners. Best tally for losers was Earl Boor's 283.

Paced by Norm White's 291, Pioneers routed Scouts, 1135 to 1105. Dave McBride's 284 was best for the losers.

The second shootoff match will be held next Sunday when Apaches and Pioneers will shoot for the league championship. Sentries and Scouts will fire for second division honors.

Pirates Edge Chisox In 9th

Baker's Sacrifice Fly Decides, 9-8

FT. MYERS, Fla. (UPI)—Gene Baker, who was out all last season with a knee injury, hit a pinch sacrifice fly in the ninth on Tuesday to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 9-8 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Baker's fly scored Joe Christopher from third and handed Rodolfo Arias his first defeat since the southpaw came up to the Sox last spring. He had a 2-0 record for the American League champs last year and hadn't been beaten in spring training.

It was the second straight day the Pirates turned back the White Sox and the Bucs ran their winning streak to six in a row.

Cubs Retain Kindall

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) —Manager Charlie Grimm declared Monday that Jerry Kindall, former bonus shortstop from the University of Minnesota, had won a job with the Chicago Cubs as utility infielder.

His defensive skill has saved two games in a row.

"I don't care whether he hits or not," said Grimm. "I told him to forget about his bat. He's terrific with the glove."

Greasy Neale Nominated For Hall Of Fame

Nine To Be Picked From List Of Sixty

By JERRY GOULD

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UPI) — Earle (Greasy) Neale, credited with developing the "naked reverse" and a former Wesleyan College sports great, was nominated Tuesday to the National Football Hall of Fame.

Neale, 68, born and reared here, got his start as a coach at Parkersburg High School. Now retired, Greasy lives in New York City, but he often gets back to this area for visits with some old cronies.

With one of the most varied careers in college and professional sports, Neale would find it hard to pick out the highlight. But there are some that can't be ignored.

Among other things, he was an all-around athlete at Wesleyan; a Cincinnati Red outfielder who led his team in batting during the 1919 World Series with a .357 average; a coach at Wesleyan, Marietta, Washington & Jefferson, Virginia, West Virginia and Yale, and pilot of the Philadelphia Eagles when they took two National Football League Championships before he was realeased in 1950.

A total of 60 former coaches and players were nominated to the Hall of Fame. From that group, nine will be chosen and installed during ceremonies next December.

Greasy also liked to recall that he was coach at Washington & Jefferson when that team went to the Rose Bowl in 1922 and tied California.

Fernandez Fights Dupas In Florida

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Florentino Fernandez, an exciting young knockout artist from Havana, probably will be 7 to 5 favorite when he goes against durable Ralph Dupas of New Orleans in a 10-round welterweight fight here Wednesday night.

Fernandez has won 20 of his 26 fights by knockout and his only loss was a knockout by Rocky Kalingo in Caracas, Venezuela, last year.

Dupas has had 98 fights, winning 65 by decision and 14 by knockout.

The fight is expected to draw some 2,500 ringside fans and will be televised nationally by ABC starting at 10 (EST).

Allegany And Fort Hill Basketball Teams Quit CVAL

Local Schools To Remain In Grid Circuit

Seven On All-CVAL Team; Track Meet Scheduled May 27

Withdrawal of Allegany High School and Fort Hill High School from the basketball division of the Cumberland Valley Athletic League, effective with the 1960-61 season, was announced yesterday by Dr. W. Ardell Haines and Victor D. Heisey, principals of the Cumberland schools, at the dinner meeting of the league at Parkview Inn, Berkeley Springs, W.Va.

At the same time it was announced that Westminster High School's Owls, who play in the football league, will become a member of the basketball circuit next season.

Allegany and Fort Hill will continue to play one or two of the C.V.A.L. schools in basketball and plan to remain in the football circuit with North and South Hagerstown, Frederick, Martinsburg, Westminster. The withdrawal of the Cumberland schools leaves five teams in the basketball league. There are seven schools in the grid circuits.

The Campers and Sentinels also will compete in CVAL track meets. The 1960 event is scheduled for Saturday, May 21 at Frederick.

Several Reasons Given

A number of good reasons were given as to why Fort Hill and Allegany were dropping out of the basketball loop. The Cumberland schools contended that five trips each season were too expensive and not good from an educational standpoint as Tuesday games interfered with school work because the players were arriving home too late after road trips. It was pointed out that several CVAL teams lacked drawing power here and the local schools felt there would be more interest in games booked with teams closer to home, preferably Keyser and Piedmont.

With the admission of Westminster to the CVAL cage circuit it meant the addition of two more games to the Fort Hill and Allegany schedules and to keep within the 20-game limit they would have to drop LaSalle or scrap the W.M.I. League schedule and that could not be done.

New Plan Adopted

A new plan for the selection of all-league football and basketball teams, submitted by Doug Cochran, coach at South Hagerstown High School, was adopted.

Martinsburg High School's Bulldogs were declared CVAL basketball champions for the 1959-60 season and the winners received a trophy. Frederick High School won in the junior varsity division.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Steve Lerda, Westminster, president; David Dean, Frederick, vice president, and Dr. W. Ardell Haines, of Allegany High, Cumberland, secretary-treasurer.

Seven players were selected by the league's basketball coaches for the All-CVAL team of the 1959-60 season, as follows:

All-Stars Named

Six basketeers accorded honorable mention were Wayne Shook, Allegany; Tom Hawkins, North Hagerstown; Jerry Stuckey, Martinsburg; Jim Rice and Bill Colbert, Fort Hill, and Jim Smith, South Hagerstown.

Koufax Scores Over Yankees

Hodges, Skowron Homer In 6-5 Battle

By United Press International

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—The pitching of Sandy Koufax and the hitting of Gil Hodges paced the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 6-5 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday before a crowd of 5,916 at Al Lang field.

Koufax, the Dodgers' fireballing left-hander, pitched six innings, more than any other Los Angeles pitcher this spring. He permitted the Yankees only one hit—a two-run homer by Moose Skowron—but was touched for three runs.

Hodges' first home run of the spring, with the bases empty in the fourth, evened the score at 2-2 and the Dodgers went on to score three runs in the sixth off Bob Turley on only two hits and a wild throw by Gil McDougald.

Apprentice Boland Cops Initial Win

Banner Bond Pays $239.80 At Bowie

BOWIE, Md., March 22 (AP)—Apprentice Charles Boland, of Ottawa, Canada, received that thrill of a jockey's lifetime in the Easter Seal Purse, featured seventh race today, when he gained his first victory on James Jackson's Cri De Guerre, a $27.60-for-$2 longshot.

A record win payoff for the meeting was set in the eighth race when Mrs. William A. Zakoor's Banner Bond won for a return of $239.80 straight, $77.00 place and $44.60 to show.

Ridden by Joe Spinale, Banner Bond won by three parts of a length from Grover Delphs Null and Void while Mrs. Julie Miron's Rocketry took third. Banner Road, who had been last in his previous race, ran seven furlongs in 1:26 2/5.

STRONGER BENCH WOULD MAKE GIANTS TOP CONTENDER

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

PHOENIX, Ariz. — A set ball club, a physically sound manager and a little help from the bench should make the San Francisco Giants a top contender in the National league chase again this year and the optimism runs fairly high in the Valley of the Sun.

With the addition of Don Blasingame from the Cards and Bill O'Dell, fine young pitcher from the Orioles, the Giants are lineup set and Manager Bill Rigney's apparent only concern is reserve strength, both in the infield and in the pinch-hitting department.

Rigney, ex-Giant shortstop who had to mumble his words at this time last year as his jaw was wired following a serious auto accident, leads the pep parade this season as he says, "I've got something to say this year—and best of all I can say it!"

Thin On Bench

"Our front line is set," says Bill, "We're a little thin on the bench. I'd say our pitching is deeper with O'Dell and he will give me a chance to rest some of my starters. Our catching is adequate but naturally we'd like to have a Yogi Berra, and Ed Bailey or a Del Crandall but it isn't that easy.

"Everybody here is working hard and serious about it. Everybody feels good about this club and I'd say that I thought last year's race was as good as you'll get and it'll be tough again this year and this league will be tough for years to come."

THE GIANTS, who have won more pennants (15) than any club in the league during the last 60 years, losing in the closing days of the campaign to finish third behind the knotted winners, Los Angeles and Milwaukee, have loads of power, good young ball players and fine pitching. And, they'll be tough to beat.

Has Five Starters

The Giants will carry 10 pitchers and any additional help Rigney can get will come from a group of newcomers including Bud Byerly, who's been around for years; Charley Davis, 15-6 with Springfield; Georges Maranda, 18-6 with Louisville and Verle Tiefenthaler, 10-13 with Corpus Christi.

Monzant was inactive last year but he won eight games for the Giants the year before.

Hobie Landrith and Bob Schmidt are the catchers with Al Stieglitz, who was injured last year and played little in the minors, a possibility.

Willie McCovey, the sensational rookie of 1959, who now is 15 pounds heavier, will be ticketed for first base only with Orlando Cepeda staying in the outer garden. Once again Andre Rodgers, who has shown great potential in the past and spent part of last year with Phoenix, is back and is rapidly catching Rigney's eye at first and could be used at third.

Blasingame will be at second, Eddie Bressoud at short and Jim Davenport at third. A fill-in here could be Joe Amalfitano, a $40,000 bonus beauty back in 1954 who was re-acquired by the Giants via the $25,000 draft price from Toronto late last season.

The outfield is centered by the $80,000 prize, Willie Mays, with Cepeda and Felipe Alou right along side. Alou belted two homers over the left field fence in a game here during our visit, and he has been hitting well all spring.

A future possibility is Alou's brother, Mateo, who is labeled a fine prospect. Rigney said Mateo can throw better than Felipe. Willie Kirkland will do part-time work.

Two other newcomers, rated future hopes, are Bob Perry, up from Sacramento, and John Weekly, from Corpus Christi. Weekly fractured a leg during a training game and he will be out for months but the Giants will give him a real look when he returns.

Hank Sauer, ex-Giant, is now a scout for this club and he is making the rounds in Florida, looking for help which is needed for the bench. If he gets it, the Giants could be the team to beat.

CAPSULE COMMENT
On San Francisco Giants

Finish last year — Third.
Pitching — Very good.
Infield — Improved.
Outfield — Lots of power and Willie Mays.
Catching — Could be better.

NEXT—The Boston Red Sox.

Allegany And Fort Hill Basketball Teams Quit CVAL

Local Schools To Remain In Grid Circuit

Seven On All-CVAL Team; Track Meet Scheduled May 27

Withdrawal of Allegany High School and Fort Hill High School from the basketball division of the Cumberland Valley Athletic League, effective with the 1960-61 season, was announced yesterday by Dr. W. Ardell Haines and Victor D. Heisey, principals of the Cumberland schools, at the dinner meeting of the league at Parkview Inn, Berkeley Springs, W.Va.

At the same time it was announced that Westminster High School's Owls, who play in the football league, will become a member of the basketball circuit next season.

Allegany and Fort Hill will continue to play one or two of the C.V.A.L. schools in basketball and plan to remain in the football circuit with North and South Hagerstown, Frederick, Martinsburg, Westminster. The withdrawal of the Cumberland schools leaves five teams in the basketball league. There are seven schools in the grid circuits.

The Campers and Sentinels also will compete in CVAL track meets. The 1960 event is scheduled for Saturday, May 21 at Frederick.

Several Reasons Given

A number of good reasons were given as to why Fort Hill and Allegany were dropping out of the basketball loop. The Cumberland schools contended that five trips each season were too expensive and not good from an educational standpoint as Tuesday games interfered with school work because the players were arriving home too late after road trips. It was pointed out that several CVAL teams lacked drawing power here and the local schools felt there would be more interest in games booked with teams closer to home, preferably Keyser and Piedmont.

With the admission of Westminster to the CVAL cage circuit it meant the addition of two more games to the Fort Hill and Allegany schedules and to keep within the 20-game limit they would have to drop LaSalle or scrap the W.M.I. League schedule and that could not be done.

New Plan Adopted

A new plan for the selection of all-league football and basketball teams, submitted by Doug Cochran, coach at South Hagerstown High School, was adopted.

Martinsburg High School's Bulldogs were declared CVAL basketball champions for the 1959-60 season and the winners received a trophy. Frederick High School won in the junior varsity division.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Steve Lerda, Westminster, president; David Dean, Frederick, vice president, and Dr. W. Ardell Haines, of Allegany High, Cumberland, secretary-treasurer.

Seven players were selected by the league's basketball coaches for the All-CVAL team of the 1959-60 season, as follows:

All-Stars Named

Koufax Scores Over Yankees

Hodges, Skowron Homer In 6-5 Battle

By United Press International

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—The pitching of Sandy Koufax and the hitting of Gil Hodges paced the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 6-5 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday before a crowd of 5,916 at Al Lang field.

Koufax, the Dodgers' fireballing left-hander, pitched six innings, more than any other Los Angeles pitcher this spring. He permitted the Yankees only one hit—a two-run homer by Moose Skowron—but was touched for three runs.

Hodges' first home run of the spring, with the bases empty in the fourth, evened the score at 2-2 and the Dodgers went on to score three runs in the sixth off Bob Turley on only two hits and a wild throw by Gil McDougald.

Apprentice Boland Cops Initial Win

Banner Bond Pays $239.80 At Bowie

BOWIE, Md., March 22 (AP)—Apprentice Charles Boland, of Ottawa, Canada, received that thrill of a jockey's lifetime in the Easter Seal Purse, featured seventh race today, when he gained his first victory on James Jackson's Cri De Guerre, a $27.60-for-$2 longshot.

Boland, who was aboard his seventh mount, is not related to Jockey Willie Boland, one of the leading stakes riders of the country.

A record win payoff for the meeting was set in the eighth race when Mrs. William A. Zakoor's Banner Bond won for a return of $239.80 straight, $77.00 place and $44.60 to show.

Ridden by Joe Spinale, Banner Bond won by three parts of a length from Grover Delphs Null and Void while Mrs. Julie Miron's Rocketry took third. Banner Road, who had been last in his previous race, ran seven furlongs in 1:26 2/5.

STRONGER BENCH WOULD MAKE GIANTS TOP CONTENDER

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

PHOENIX, Ariz. — A set ball club, a physically sound manager and a little help from the bench should make the San Francisco Giants a top contender in the National league chase again this year and the optimism runs fairly high in the Valley of the Sun.

With the addition of Don Blasingame from the Cards and Bill O'Dell, fine young pitcher from the Orioles, the Giants are line-up set and Manager Bill Rigney's apparent only concern is reserve strength, both in the infield and in the pinch-hitting department.

Rigney, ex-Giant shortstop who had to mumble his words at this time last year as his jaw was wired following a serious auto accident, leads the pep parade this season as he says, "I've got something to say this year—and best of all I can say it!"

Thin On Bench

"Our front line is set," says Bill. "We're a little thin on the bench. I'd say our pitching is deeper with O'Dell and he will give me a chance to rest some of my starters. Our catching is adequate but naturally we'd like to have a Yogi Berra, and Ed Bailey or a Del Crandall but it isn't that easy.

"Everybody here is working hard and serious about it. Everybody feels good about this club and I'd say that I thought last year's race was as good as you'll get and it'll be tough again this year and this league will be tough for years to come."

THE GIANTS, who have won more pennants (15) than any club in the league during the last 60 years, losing in the closing days of the campaign to finish third behind the knotted winners, Los Angeles and Milwaukee, have loads of power, good young ball players and fine pitching. And, they'll be tough to beat.

Has Five Starters

The Giants will carry 10 pitchers and any additional help Rigney can get will come from a group of newcomers including Bud Byerly, who's been around for years; Charley Davis, 15-6 with Springfield; Georges Maranda, 18-6 with Louisville and Verle Tiefenthaler, 10-13 with Corpus Christi.

Monzant was inactive last year but he won eight games for the Giants the year before.

Hobie Landrith and Bob Schmidt are the catchers with Al Stieglitz, who was injured last year and played little in the minors, a possibility.

Willie McCovey, the sensational rookie of 1959, who now is 15 pounds heavier, will be ticketed for first base only with Orlando Cepeda staying in the outer garden. Once again Andre Rodgers, who has shown great potential in the past and spent part of last year with Phoenix, is back and is rapidly catching Rigney's eye at first and could be used at third.

Blasingame will be at second, Eddie Bressoud at short and Jim Davenport at third. A fill-in here could be Joe Amalfitano, a $40,000 bonus beauty back in 1954 who was re-acquired by the Giants via the $25,000 draft price from Toronto late last season.

The outfield is centered by the $80,000 prize, Willie Mays, with Cepeda and Felipe Alou right along side. Alou belted two homers over the left field fence in a game here during our visit, and he has been hitting well all spring.

A future possibility is Alou's brother, Mateo, who is labeled a fine prospect. Rigney said Mateo can throw better than Felipe. Willie Kirkland will do part-time work.

Two other newcomers, rated future hopes, are Bob Perry, up from Sacramento, and John Weekly, from Corpus Christi. Weekly fractured a leg during a training game and he will be out for months but the Giants will give him a real look when he returns.

Hank Sauer, ex-Giant, is now a scout for this club and he is making the rounds in Florida, looking for help which is needed for the bench. If he gets it, the Giants could be the team to beat.

CAPSULE COMMENT
On San Francisco Giants

Finish last year — Third.
Pitching — Very good.
Infield — Improved.
Outfield — Lots of power and Willie Mays.
Catching — Could be better.

Garden Kit Distribution Is Planned

Qualifications Being Studied

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Procedures for screening applicants and distributing garden kits under a jobless relief program authorized by the 1960 Legislature were worked out Tuesday by the State Department of Agriculture and the state agricultural extension service.

Commissioner John T. Johnson and extension director J. O. Knapp said that under the law, garden kits may not be distributed to applicants who are receiving public assistance or other financial aid.

An applicant must have land available for a garden, Johnson said. In the event a qualified applicant has no land, a local committee may study the possibility of leasing land from coal companies to sub-let to the unemployed.

Department and extension service officials will meet at Jackson's Mill March 30 for additional briefings on the garden program. They plan to begin organizing county distribution committees during the first week in April.

Johnson said the department hopes to begin distribution of some $10,000 worth of seed kits during the middle of April and the first of about $5,000 worth of plant kits early in May.

The State Purchasing Department will receive bids on the seed kits next Monday and on the plant kits April 4.

Johnson said he hopes that as many as 5,000 garden kits including both vegetable seeds and plants will be made available.

Seeds and plants will be stored in Beckley and shipped from there at the request of a local committee on behalf of each applicant, Johnson said. The extension service will hold gardening schools in various counties and attendance is recommended but not required by applicants.

W.Va. To Raise More Tobacco

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Federal State Crop Reporting Service Tuesday predicted that West Virginia farmers will raise more tobacco this year than in 1959, but cut corn and oat acreages.

The service said tobacco acreage will be hiked by 4 per cent to 10,600 acres, while corn planting will drop 4 per cent to 148,000 acres. Oats are expected to decline 2 per cent to 50,000 acres.

Acreage for barley, potatoes, soy beans and hay is expected to remain this year at about the same level as in 1959.

Dates Set For Fair In Mineral County

KEYSER—H. L. Bennett, manager of the Mineral County Fair, announced that a meeting of the directors was held a recent evening to map plans for the event August 8-13 at Fort Ashby.

Classes have been added to the cattle department's as well as to the open class domestic exhibits.

Bennett remarked that "the eleventh year of the Mineral County Fair is expected to be the biggest and best yet — with commercial, livestock and domestic exhibits, rides, games and entertainment for the entire week." The grand parade will be held Friday, August 12.

Piedmont Plans To Widen, Pave Fairview St.

Council Airs Routine Items

PIEDMONT—The Mayor and Council Monday decided to widen West Fairview Street between the intersection of Child's Avenue and the B&O Depot, a distance of about a block.

James Bissett, chairman of the street committee, suggested that permission be sought from the railroad to remove the brick pavement in front of its property so the town can blocktop the area.

Permission was granted Mrs. Harold Robinson and Mrs. Joseph Maybury to use the council chamber March 30 from 2 to 3 p. m. and 6 to 7 p. m. to register voters for state and county elections.

Mayor Rodney Baker informed council that when the town contracts with any one to do work the contractor must secure a business occupational certificate.

The mayor read a letter from Donald C. Carnon, state tax commissioner, which provided: "Before the full payment is made to the contractor the amount of the fee for the license must be withheld by the town." There is a fine and jail sentence provided for violation of the stipulation.

Receipts from parking meters and violations the past two weeks amounted to $287.83, Town Clerk Joseph Maybury revealed. He also reported that $952 had been received from the sheriff's office as the town's share of municipal taxes collected by that office.

Mayor Baker called attention to nearby communities improving the lighting of business sections. He suggested similar action for Piedmont.

According to the mayor, John Gentile has no objection to giving the town a right-of-way through his property for the pipe line being proposed in that area from East Hampshire Street down over the hill to Water Street.

A pamphlet from the West Virginia Economic Developing Agency of Charleston was received. Considerable information about the town was requested.

JOHN A. LUKE

John A. Luke Is Elected To Firm's Board

NEW YORK—John A. Luke, manager of the Fine Papers Division of West Virginia Pulp and Paper was elected to the company's board of directors yesterday at the annual stockholder meeting.

He succeeds William G. Luke of Pelham, N. Y., who has reached the mandatory retirement age. Fifteen other members of the board were re-elected at the meeting, where more than 90 per cent of the outstanding stock was represented.

Reporting on the company's progress over the past 10 years, David L. Luke, president, told stockholders:

"We believe that we have built into our structure better opportunities for cost control, better means of distribution and better opportunities for the development of new products. We'll be competitive in old markets and we can count on new products to open new markets."

Luke noted that West Virginia's earnings for the first four months of the current fiscal year, reported previously, were almost 10 per cent ahead of last year and that sales are continuing at a record pace.

A member of the fourth generation of the family which founded the company, John Luke heads one of its major divisions, a four-mill operation making fine papers for commercial printers, publishers and converters. At Luke, Md., where the division is headquartered, $50 million is currently being invested in new facilities designed to give the company one of the most efficient white paper mills in the world.

A native of Tyrone, Pa., Luke joined the personnel department of the company's Charleston, S. C., mill in 1949 after receiving his BA degree from Yale University. He became assistant manager of the Charleston mill in 1953, with responsibility for personnel and commercial administration. He was named manager of the Luke mill in 1955 and became manager of the Fine Papers Division in 1959.

Garden Kit Distribution Is Planned

Qualifications Being Studied

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Procedures for screening applicants and distributing garden kits under a jobless relief program authorized by the 1960 Legislature were worked out Tuesday by the State Department of Agriculture and the state agricultural extension service.

Commissioner John T. Johnson and extension director J. O. Knapp said that under the law, garden kits may not be distributed to applicants who are receiving public assistance or other financial aid.

An applicant must have land available for a garden, Johnson said. In the event a qualified applicant has no land, a local committee may study the possibility of leasing land from coal companies to sub-let to the unemployed.

Department and extension service officials will meet at Jackson's Mill March 30 for additional briefings on the garden program. They plan to begin organizing county distribution committees during the first week in April.

Johnson said the department hopes to begin distribution of some $10,000 worth of seed kits during the middle of April and the first of about $5,000 worth of plant kits early in May.

The State Purchasing Department will receive bids on the seed kits next Monday and on the plant kits April 4.

Johnson said he hopes that as many as 5,000 garden kits including both vegetable seeds and plants will be made available.

Seeds and plants will be stored in Beckley and shipped from there at the request of a local committee on behalf of each applicant, Johnson said. The extension service will hold gardening schools in various counties and attendance is recommended but not required by applicants.

Good shots won't wait
The fleeting smile of a child . . . What could make a more charming picture? But you need a camera that lets you work fast—a Contaflex.
This favorite 35mm single-lens reflex, with the fast f/2.8 lens, is a marvel of speed and simplicity in operation. And it has the optical quality that makes a picture "sing".
Come in for a demonstration.

Driver's Personality Can Cause Smashups

DENVER (UPI) — When a careless or inept driver whacks into a lamppost, a pedestrian or another car, his personality characteristics are more apt to be responsible than inefficiency at the wheel.

This is the theory advanced by Dr. J. J. Conger, head of the Division of Clinical Psychiatry at the University of Colorado Medical Center, after a study of psychological causes of motor mishaps.

Worry about personal problems, work frustrations, anger, tension or even unusual elation, he said, are reasons for accidents — and should be looked for.

Centre Street PTA To Meet Tomorrow

Centre Street Parent-Teacher Association will meet Thursday at the school at 7:30 p. m. with homeroom visitation scheduled at 7 p. m.

Following the business session a skit, "Pierre's Plump Palace," will be presented.

Slides taken on her trip to the Holy Land will be shown by Miss Sandra Roeder, and refreshments will be served by the parents of children in Miss Lee's room.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND NOTICE TO DEALERS OF BUSINESS MACHINES

Sealed bids will be received by the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, until the 12th day of April, 1960, at 10:30 a. m., by its Clerk, the undersigned, whose address is the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, for the purchase and installation of the following equipment in the County Commissioners' office:

ONE (1) ACCOUNTING MACHINE

Specifications for said machine are as follows:

1. Electrically operated accounting machine with electric typing keyboard.
2. Special interchangeable box type, 84 character, typing section with .070 type.
3. Eighteen accumulating registers with keyboard selection of any register.
4. One crossfooter for plus or minus balances.
5. 22" tabulating carriage with electrical control drive in either direction.
6. Single construction, four position control unit with instant change of operational set-up.
7. Special construction for "Automatic Rejection of Incorrect Balance" pickups.

All bids must specify the complete price for the purchase, delivery and installation of said equipment in the County Commissioners' Office and shall indicate the delivery date.

The above bid will include maintenance and service of said machine and component parts thereof for a period of one year following date of complete installation and acceptance.

No bid will be received from any dealer unless the said firm or individual has a service representative competent to service said machine living within the confines of Allegany County.

Dealers submitting bids must furnish a performance bond in the amount of $1,000.00 for installation and delivery of said machine by June 15, 1960.

All bids shall be submitted in sealed envelopes marked, "BID FOR ACCOUNTING MACHINE" on the outside of the envelope.

Following the installation of said equipment, the successful bidder shall be required to instruct selected personnel in the operation and maintenance of said equipment. Said course of instruction shall be furnished without additional cost to the County Commissioners.

The County Commissioners of Allegany County reserve the right to reject any or all bids, and specifically the right to purchase the equipment most suitable for use in the County Commissioners' Office.

What The Census Hopes To Learn This Year

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The nation begins its biggest "nose count" the night of March 31. But unlike the first census in 1790, when it was nothing more than a count, the 1960 version will range over scores of vital areas. In this article, written for United Press International, the director of the Bureau of the Census tells what the bureau hopes to accomplish and how it will do it. He also gives an insight into the monumental task of the enumerator — and how Americans should treat the census taker).

By Dr. ROBERT W. BURGESS
Director, Bureau of the Census
Written for UPI

Its figures, showing some of the Census Bureau's population estimates in flashing lights, tell the viewers there is a birth every 7½ seconds in the nation, a death every 20 seconds, a new immigrant every 90 seconds, a new emigrant every 20 minutes and a net gain in population every 11 seconds.

This clock may be considered a display sample, or a symbol, offering a glimpse at the functioning of the nation's major fact-finding organization — the Census Bureau.

If you are interested in personal statistics, the Census Bureau is ready with answers. We know the number of the old people in the country is increasing rapidly, and how rapidly. The total population of 1950 (figures from our last national census) was only twice that of 1900 whereas the number of aged persons was four times that of 1900.

In 1950, American women for the first time outnumbered men, and this year their lead is expected to approach two million. Also, the 1960 census is expected to find about five single men to ever single woman in Alaska, a fact, which may or may not interest women in the new state!

Facts Are Valuable

The Census Bureau's decennial figures reveal our nation's needs and problems so that something can be done about them. More than that, the facts—provided by you, the citizen — will be made available to government, industry, businesses of all types and sizes, quickly enough and in such comprehensive form to be still useful when they arrive. In years gone by it took years before all of the results of a census could be made public. Now, we have developed procedures intended to cut down the time interval.

How can this be done? How can the billions of facts and figures be read, tabulated, put together and printed so quickly? The answer lies in modern technology.

In 1951, we put to work the first Remington Rand Univac computer, to speed tabulation of the 1950 census.

This year, a more advanced computer — the Univac 1105—will be teamed with equipment of our own devising to speed the job even more. A new device known as FOSDIC (Film Optical Sensing Device for Input to Computers) plus giant Univacs will constitute the data handling equipment at the bureau's Suitland, Md. headquarters.

New factories, schools, supermarkets and hospitals are built because of what the bureau's figures tell about concentration of people. Employment, housing and health reports guide legislation, federal aid to the states and also state assistance to cities and hamlets. And if war should threaten, military and industrial mobilization will depend upon knowing about available people and skills. Census figures light up the story on city slums and rural stagnation and areas of chronic unemployment.

Be Courteous

And, as every schoolboy knows, the population figures determine the number of representatives each state should send to the House of Representatives.

When the 1960 census enumerator rings your bell or knocks at your door in a few weeks, treat him (or her) with courtesy and patience.

Don't begrudge this representative a few minutes of your time even if it means being late with your shopping. Welcome him into your home. Ask him to sit down and take his time so the simple questions asked will get answers that are complete, accurate and satisfactory to his supervisors who make a careful check on all the information brought in.

If you are not home when he calls and you see his note informing you that he will return, perhaps in the evening, try to be there even at the risk of some minor inconvenience. Otherwise he'll have to keep calling because, while he has a lot of homes to visit, his business with you fits into a complicated timetable of nationwide activity, and you can do your part by helping him.

Incidentally, while I've been referring to "him," it is more likely the enumerator who comes to your door will be a woman. In 1950, 64 per cent of the callers were women, this year the percentage will be higher. All of them, men and women, have been given this temporary employment after careful screening for character and capacity.

No one need fear any enumerator or be squeamish about answering any questions. He or she will extend courtesy for courtesy and all bear proper identification cards. Further, all are sworn to hold in confidence all information received and recorded.

Cites Qualms

What you tell the census taker is confidential by law. Not even the President, the FBI or tax collecting agencies can tap census records for their own purposes. Our sole objective is the collection of facts which can subsequently be published and distributed to government, industry and social organizations to make our lives better and safer.

Speaking of qualms, there is a perennial one that confronts Census Bureau enumerators: "What is your age, ma'am?" Well, there is no law that can compel a woman to give her right age, even when she insists she is not much older than her daughter. So our instructions to the enumerator remain the same now as back in 1950: "You'll just have to look at her and write down the figure that you believe is nearest right."

For your convenience and to save time, you will receive by mail an advance form a few days before your visitor arrives. This you are asked to have filled out and ready for him. On this form there will be a few simple questions about your family relationships, date of birth, marital status and so on, and there will be questions about the type of dwelling in which you live.

Tells Of Samples

At every fourth home visited an additional form, a Census Household Questionnaire, will be left for you to fill out and mail to your local bureau headquarters. This form, which we call the "sampler," will require more detailed information about members of the household and dwelling unit. Also information about school attendance, educational attainment, occupation, income, place of work and means of transportation to work, your household appliances, etc. This is a record your government needs. For you it is a simple chore, and will only take a few minutes.

By the end of April virtually all cards and questionnaires will be assembled, and then begins the proper marshaling and tabulating of billions of living facts, an utterly impossible task were it not for modern electronic equipment.

By way of contrast, our nation's first census, the 1790 tally, was simply a nose count taken when our population was under 4,000,000. Now there are 180,000,000 Americans living in 50 states, and we want to know a lot more about them.

The complete 1960 census story will fill 100,000 pages in more than 100 bound volumes.

Rescue Attempt Fails

METTER, Ga. (UPI) — A 17-year-old girl died with her bedridden father early Tuesday in an unsuccessful attempt to save him from flames that destroyed their home.

The Rev. Charles Shaef, 48, had been bedridden for two years and was unable to flee when fire broke out at his home.

His daughter, Cindy, a senior at Candler County High School, had escaped with Mrs. Shaef and the family's two sons. But the girl dashed back into the inferno before she could be stopped in an effort to save her father and the two died together.

Unwed Mothers' Problem Often Fault Of Parents

By PRESTON McGRAW

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. Edna Gladney, who for 50 years has helped girls in trouble, blames parents for much of the woes which beset young people.

The 74-year-old woman runs the Edna Gladney Home, which through the years of helping unwed mothers has put more than 10,000 illegitimate babies out for adoption.

How does she begin rehabilitation of the mothers?

"I tell them," she said, "that society is the cruelest taskmaster in the world . . . that society won't accept their children without a name.

Excludes Unhealthy

"I tell them that the best thing to do is not to see the baby, to make a new life for themselves, to go back to school or to get a new position."

Mrs. Gladney believes so strongly in this theory that she won't accept a girl who insists on keeping her child. Nor will she admit a girl whose baby is not likely to be adopted. This rule excludes a girl who has had syphilis or tuberculosis or one who has not had proper care and might not have a healthy, normal baby. But she will help these by finding a private place for the girl and will help pay for a girl's confinement.

"I like for fathers and mothers to bring their girls in trouble to us," Mrs. Gladney said. "But very few do."

Disgusted With Fathers

"As a matter of fact, I'm pretty well disgusted with many fathers. And the boys responsible won't have anything to do with the girls. They're in school. Or they have small jobs and help their own families.

"So the girls are usually emotionally upset and hurt. Many of them come early. They don't want their friends to know what's wrong with them. The first thing we do is to try to heal them emotionally and one way we do it is keep them busy."

There is room for 70 girls in the home and it is always full. Couples who adopt a baby pay for the mother's confinement.

The home also is helped by private donations and by various auxiliaries. The Edna Gladney Auxiliary of Houston, Tex., for instance, contributes $30,000 to $40,000 a year.

Get New Wardrobe

After a girl has her baby and has spent two weeks in the home's hospital — more if her doctor thinks she needs it — she leaves with a new wardrobe.

If she has to support herself, Mrs. Gladney gives her money enough to keep her until she can find a job and get her first pay check.

Mrs. Gladney is proud of the way the children adopted from the home have developed into responsible citizens.

"They are in every profession you can think of," she said. "We recently went back through our files and didn't find a one who had been in serious trouble."

Twenty years ago, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer made a motion picture about Mrs. Gladney's project. It was called "Blossoms in the Dust" and she still gets letters about it from people who see it abroad or in reruns in the United States.

County Buying Plan Studied

The matter of purchasing and the $1,000 limitation placed on the Board of Allegany County Commissioners was discussed yesterday morning.

Commissioner John J. Rowan pointed out that all purchases over $1,000 must be advertised for bids.

In the event of emergency buying, an awkward situation results due to the time lag between advertisements of bids and the board's action.

During the discussion, one official said the limitation should be raised to $5,000. Another said it should be removed.

It was indicated that the county commissioners will ask some legislation to remedy their problems when the 1961 General Assembly convenes.

James Stevenson, clerk to the board, recalled that until 1947 the commissioners did not have to advertise for bids. That year, a law was passed requiring sealed bids on all items costing $500 or more.

Later, the law was changed by Allegany County legislators to the $1,000 figure.

Finan Appointed To National Post With Democrats

Thomas B. Finan of this city has been appointed to a position with the National Democratic Party.

Finan was informed Monday night by Paul M. Butler, national party chairman, that he has been selected to serve on the national advisory committee on policy organization for the party.

Thirty-three men have been chosen for this election year work.

Finan is chairman of the Maryland Democratic Party in addition to serving as the Maryland secretary of state. He is also chairman of the Allegany County Democratic Central Committee.

Finan, a Cumberland attorney, last week was among the group of party leaders in the state who announced their support of Sen. John Kennedy in the Maryland primary race with Sen. Wayne Morse.

Fewer Jobs For Older Women

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mature women seeking employment will have an increasingly difficult time during the next ten years, says the Institute of Life Insurance.

The statement is based on the Bureau of Labor Statistics' prediction that during the 1960's there will be a large increase in the number of young persons seeking jobs.

"This increase represents the coming-of-age of children born during the 'baby boom' of World War II and of the postwar years," the Institute said.

"In a very real sense, these young persons, just entering what is called the 'job market,' will be competing with mature women re-entering the same market."

The woman who prepares herself for a job ahead of time will be in a better position than others who are unprepared, the Institute said.

"It will also pay today's housewife to alert herself to opportunities in new kinds of jobs."

Null Requests Answer On Job

Delbert Null, Frederick County, president of the State Association of County Commissioners, yesterday wrote the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for a decision on the employment of an executive secretary for the association.

Null stated the assessment on Allegany County for the official will be $483 per year. The cost of the executive secretary will be split between the association and the University of Maryland, which is cooperating in the program.

Commissioner John J. Rowan said the matter will be discussed with Null at the meeting of the county boards of the Western Maryland counties to be held here March 31 at the Cumberland Country Club.

Commissioner John T. Mason said the benefits each county will receive by having an executive secretary will be far greater than the assessment made.

10 Seek Citizenship

A naturalization court will be held next Monday at 2 p. m. at the Court House here with Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris of Circuit Court presiding.

There are 10 residents of Allegany County, including a man and wife and three children, who will be seeking U. S. citizenship.

An examiner of the U.S. Justice Department will be here to question the applicants and also handle the papers necessary in naturalization proceedings.

Driver's Personality Can Cause Smashups

DENVER (UPI) — When a careless or inept driver whacks into a lamppost, a pedestrian or another car, his personality characteristics are more apt to be responsible than inefficiency at the wheel.

This is the theory advanced by Dr. J. J. Conger, head of the Division of Clinical Psychiatry at the University of Colorado Medical Center, after a study of psychological causes of motor mishaps.

Worry about personal problems, work frustrations, anger, tension or even unusual elation, he said, are reasons for accidents — and should be looked for.

Centre Street PTA To Meet Tomorrow

Sealed bids will be received by the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, until the 12th day of April, 1960, at 10:30 a. m., by its Clerk, the undersigned, whose address is the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, for the purchase and installation of the following equipment in the County Commissioners' office:

ONE (1) ACCOUNTING MACHINE

Specifications for said machine are as follows:

1. Electrically operated accounting machine with electric typing keyboard.
2. Special interchangeable box type, 84 character, typing section with .070 type.
3. Eighteen accumulating registers with keyboard selection of any register.
4. One crossfooter for plus or minus balances.
5. 22" tabulating carriage with electrical control drive in either direction.
6. Single construction, four position control unit with instant change of operational set-up.
7. Special construction for "Automatic Rejection of Incorrect Balance" pickups.

All bids must specify the complete price for the purchase, delivery and installation of said equipment in the County Commissioners' Office and shall indicate the delivery date.

The above bid will include maintenance and service of said machine and component parts thereof for a period of one year following date of complete installation and acceptance.

No bid will be received from any dealer unless the said firm or individual has a service representative competent to service said machine living within the confines of Allegany County.

Dealers submitting bids must furnish a performance bond in the amount of $1,000.00 for installation and delivery of said machine by June 15, 1960.

All bids shall be submitted in sealed envelopes marked, "BID FOR ACCOUNTING MACHINE" on the outside of the envelope.

Following the installation of said equipment, the successful bidder shall be required to instruct selected personnel in the operation and maintenance of said equipment. Said course of instruction shall be furnished without additional cost to the County Commissioners.

The County Commissioners of Allegany County reserve the right to reject any or all bids, and specifically the right to purchase the equipment most suitable for use in the County Commissioners' Office.

What The Census Hopes To Learn This Year

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The nation begins its biggest "nose count" the night of March 31. But unlike the first census in 1790, when it was nothing more than a count, the 1960 version will range over scores of vital areas. In this article, written for United Press International, the director of the Bureau of the Census tells what the bureau hopes to accomplish and how it will do it. He also gives an insight into the monumental task of the enumerator — and how Americans should treat the census taker).

By Dr. ROBERT W. BURGESS
Director, Bureau of the Census
Written for UPI

Its figures, showing some of the Census Bureau's population estimates in flashing lights, tell the viewers there is a birth every 7½ seconds in the nation, a death every 20 seconds, a new immigrant every 90 seconds, a new emigrant every 20 minutes and a net gain in population every 11 seconds.

This clock may be considered a display sample, or a symbol, offering a glimpse at the functioning of the nation's major fact-finding organization — the Census Bureau.

If you are interested in personal statistics, the Census Bureau is ready with answers. We know the number of the old people in the country is increasing rapidly, and how rapidly. The total population of 1950 (figures from our last national census) was only twice that of 1900 whereas the number of aged persons was four times that of 1900.

In 1950, American women for the first time outnumbered men, and this year their lead is expected to approach two million. Also, the 1960 census is expected to find about five single men to ever single woman in Alaska, a fact, which may or may not interest women in the new state!

Facts Are Valuable

The Census Bureau's decennial figures reveal our nation's needs and problems so that something can be done about them. More than that, the facts—provided by you, the citizen — will be made available to government, industry, businesses of all types and sizes, quickly enough and in such comprehensive form to be still useful when they arrive. In years gone by it took years before all of the results of a census could be made public. Now, we have developed procedures intended to cut down the time interval.

How can this be done? How can the billions of facts and figures be read, tabulated, put together and printed so quickly? The answer lies in modern technology.

In 1951, we put to work the first Remington Rand Univac computer, to speed tabulation of the 1950 census.

This year, a more advanced computer — the Univac 1105—will be teamed with equipment of our own devising to speed the job even more. A new device known as FOSDIC (Film Optical Sensing Device for Input to Computers) plus giant Univacs will constitute the data handling equipment at the bureau's Suitland, Md. headquarters.

New factories, schools, supermarkets and hospitals are built because of what the bureau's figures tell about concentration of people. Employment, housing and health reports guide legislation, federal aid to the states and also state assistance to cities and hamlets. And if war should threaten, military and industrial mobilization will depend upon knowing about available people and skills. Census figures light up the story on city slums and rural stagnation and areas of chronic unemployment.

Be Courteous

And, as every schoolboy knows, the population figures determine the number of representatives each state should send to the House of Representatives.

When the 1960 census enumerator rings your bell or knocks at your door in a few weeks, treat him (or her) with courtesy and patience.

Don't begrudge this representative a few minutes of your time even if it means being late with your shopping. Welcome him into your home. Ask him to sit down and take his time so the simple questions asked will get answers that are complete, accurate and satisfactory to his supervisors who make a careful check on all the information brought in.

If you are not home when he calls and you see his note informing you that he will return, perhaps in the evening, try to be there even at the risk of some minor inconvenience. Otherwise he'll have to keep calling because, while he has a lot of homes to visit, his business with you fits into a complicated timetable of nationwide activity, and you can do your part by helping him.

Incidentally, while I've been referring to "him," it is more likely the enumerator who comes to your door will be a woman. In 1950, 64 per cent of the callers were women, this year the percentage will be higher. All of them, men and women, have been given this temporary employment after careful screening for character and capacity.

No one need fear any enumerator or be squeamish about answering any questions. He or she will extend courtesy for courtesy and all bear proper identification cards. Further, all are sworn to hold in confidence all information received and recorded.

Cites Qualms

What you tell the census taker is confidential by law. Not even the President, the FBI or tax collecting agencies can tap census records for their own purposes. Our sole objective is the collection of facts which can subsequently be published and distributed to government, industry and social organizations to make our lives better and safer.

Speaking of qualms, there is a perennial one that confronts Census Bureau enumerators: "What is your age, ma'am?" Well, there is no law that can compel a woman to give her right age, even when she insists she is not much older than her daughter. So our instructions to the enumerator remain the same now as back in 1950: "You'll just have to look at her and write down the figure that you believe is nearest right."

For your convenience and to save time, you will receive by mail an advance form a few days before your visitor arrives. This you are asked to have filled out and ready for him. On this form there will be a few simple questions about your family relationships, date of birth, marital status and so on, and there will be questions about the type of dwelling in which you live.

Tells Of Samples

At every fourth home visited an additional form, a Census Household Questionnaire, will be left for you to fill out and mail to your local bureau headquarters. This form, which we call the "sampler," will require more detailed information about members of the household and dwelling unit. Also information about school attendance, educational attainment, occupation, income, place of work and means of transportation to work, your household appliances, etc. This is a record your government needs. For you it is a simple chore, and will only take a few minutes.

By the end of April virtually all cards and questionnaires will be assembled, and then begins the proper marshaling and tabulating of billions of living facts, an utterly impossible task were it not for modern electronic equipment.

By way of contrast, our nation's first census, the 1790 tally, was simply a nose count taken when our population was under 4,000,000. Now there are 180,000,000 Americans living in 50 states, and we want to know a lot more about them.

The complete 1960 census story will fill 100,000 pages in more than 100 bound volumes.

Rescue Attempt Fails

METTER, Ga. (UPI) — A 17-year-old girl died with her bedridden father early Tuesday in an unsuccessful attempt to save him from flames that destroyed their home.

The Rev. Charles Shaef, 48, had been bedridden for two years and was unable to flee when fire broke out at his home.

His daughter, Cindy, a senior at Candler County High School, had escaped with Mrs. Shaef and the family's two sons. But the girl dashed back into the inferno before she could be stopped in an effort to save her father and the two died together.

Unwed Mothers' Problem Often Fault Of Parents

By PRESTON McGRAW

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. Edna Gladney, who for 50 years has helped girls in trouble, blames parents for much of the woes which beset young people.

The 74-year-old woman runs the Edna Gladney Home, which through the years of helping unwed mothers has put more than 10,000 illegitimate babies out for adoption.

How does she begin rehabilitation of the mothers?

"I tell them," she said, "that society is the cruelest taskmaster in the world . . . that society won't accept their children without a name.

Excludes Unhealthy

"I tell them that the best thing to do is not to see the baby, to make a new life for themselves, to go back to school or to get a new position."

Mrs. Gladney believes so strongly in this theory that she won't accept a girl who insists on keeping her child. Nor will she admit a girl whose baby is not likely to be adopted. This rule excludes a girl who has had syphilis or tuberculosis or one who has not had proper care and might not have a healthy, normal baby. But she will help these by finding a private place for the girl and will help pay for a girl's confinement.

"I like for fathers and mothers to bring their girls in trouble to us," Mrs. Gladney said. "But very few do."

Disgusted With Fathers

"As a matter of fact, I'm pretty well disgusted with many fathers. And the boys responsible won't have anything to do with the girls. They're in school. Or they have small jobs and help their own families.

"So the girls are usually emotionally upset and hurt. Many of them come early. They don't want their friends to know what's wrong with them. The first thing we do is to try to heal them emotionally and one way we do it is keep them busy."

There is room for 70 girls in the home and it is always full. Couples who adopt a baby pay for the mother's confinement.

The home also is helped by private donations and by various auxiliaries. The Edna Gladney Auxiliary of Houston, Tex., for instance, contributes $30,000 to $40,000 a year.

Get New Wardrobe

After a girl has her baby and has spent two weeks in the home's hospital — more if her doctor thinks she needs it — she leaves with a new wardrobe.

If she has to support herself, Mrs. Gladney gives her money enough to keep her until she can find a job and get her first pay check.

Mrs. Gladney is proud of the way the children adopted from the home have developed into responsible citizens.

"They are in every profession you can think of," she said. "We recently went back through our files and didn't find a one who had been in serious trouble."

Twenty years ago, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer made a motion picture about Mrs. Gladney's project. It was called "Blossoms in the Dust" and she still gets letters about it from people who see it abroad or in reruns in the United States.

County Buying Plan Studied

The matter of purchasing and the $1,000 limitation placed on the Board of Allegany County Commissioners was discussed yesterday morning.

Commissioner John J. Rowan pointed out that all purchases over $1,000 must be advertised for bids.

In the event of emergency buying, an awkward situation results due to the time lag between advertisements of bids and the board's action.

During the discussion, one official said the limitation should be raised to $5,000. Another said it should be removed.

It was indicated that the county commissioners will ask some legislation to remedy their problems when the 1961 General Assembly convenes.

James Stevenson, clerk to the board, recalled that until 1947 the commissioners did not have to advertise for bids. That year, a law was passed requiring sealed bids on all items costing $500 or more.

Later, the law was changed by Allegany County legislators to the $1,000 figure.

Finan Appointed To National Post With Democrats

Thomas B. Finan of this city has been appointed to a position with the National Democratic Party.

Finan was informed Monday night by Paul M. Butler, national party chairman, that he has been selected to serve on the national advisory committee on policy organization for the party.

Thirty-three men have been chosen for this election year work.

Finan is chairman of the Maryland Democratic Party in addition to serving as the Maryland secretary of state. He is also chairman of the Allegany County Democratic Central Committee.

Finan, a Cumberland attorney, last week was among the group of party leaders in the state who announced their support of Sen. John Kennedy in the Maryland primary race with Sen. Wayne Morse.

Fewer Jobs For Older Women

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mature women seeking employment will have an increasingly difficult time during the next ten years, says the Institute of Life Insurance.

The statement is based on the Bureau of Labor Statistics' prediction that during the 1960's there will be a large increase in the number of young persons seeking jobs.

"This increase represents the coming-of-age of children born during the 'baby boom' of World War II and of the postwar years," the Institute said.

"In a very real sense, these young persons, just entering what is called the 'job market,' will be competing with mature women re-entering the same market."

The woman who prepares herself for a job ahead of time will be in a better position than others who are unprepared, the Institute said.

Null Requests Answer On Job

Delbert Null, Frederick County, president of the State Association of County Commissioners, yesterday wrote the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for a decision on the employment of an executive secretary for the association.

Null stated the assessment on Allegany County for the official will be $483 per year. The cost of the executive secretary will be split between the association and the University of Maryland, which is cooperating in the program.

Commissioner John J. Rowan said the matter will be discussed with Null at the meeting of the county boards of the Western Maryland counties to be held here March 31 at the Cumberland Country Club.

Commissioner John T. Mason said the benefits each county will receive by having an executive secretary will be far greater than the assessment made.

10 Seek Citizenship

A naturalization court will be held next Monday at 2 p. m. at the Court House here with Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris of Circuit Court presiding.

There are 10 residents of Allegany County, including a man and wife and three children, who will be seeking U. S. citizenship.

An examiner of the U.S. Justice Department will be here to question the applicants and also handle the papers necessary in naturalization proceedings.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Tape a package of paper handkerchiefs to the side of your baby carriage, so you'll be sure to have some handy on every trip.

Market Scores Moderate Rise In Routine Trading

Gains running to more than 4 points in pivotal steel and electronic issues helped the market score its seventh rise in the last 10 sessions.

Rails managed to recover a good part of Monday's decline with a gain of 0.57 to 144.55 in their average. The advance came chiefly on gains of 2½ in Norfolk & Western and nearly 2 in Nickel Plate. Both these carriers are involved in merger talks.

Steels featured gains of 5 in Youngstown and more than a point in Armco. Youngstown rose apparently on plans of the company to increase the authorized shares for a stock split. U.S. Steel tacked on a solid fraction. Lukens added nearly a point, helped by a prediction that sales would reach near-record levels this year.

Cities Service advanced a point in the oils in a report that profits increased sharply last year despite a decline in gross operating income and generally depressed conditions in the oil industry.

International Business Machines added 6 points to close at 431 in the electronics where General Time rose more than 5 and Zenith more than 4. American home products advanced 4 in the drugs and Reynolds Metals nearly 2 in the metals.

Turns To Yanks

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Roy Marcato, Alabama State publicity and information director, said he tried all over the South to get a Jefferson Davis costume to wear at a recent travel show—but he couldn't find one.

"Finally I had to get the costume from a Yankee firm in New York," he said.

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

W M S G U L O P W W B Q B X Z Q Q G S—

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: THERE IS NO GREATER BUGBEAR THAN A STRONG-WILLED RELATIVE — HAWTHORNE.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) —Grain futures were widely irregular Tuesday as traders evened up prior to expiration of March contracts.

At the final bell wheat was up ¼ to 2½; corn off ¼ to up ⅜; oats off ⅞ to up 1¼; rye off ¾ to 3¼ and soybeans unchanged to off ¾.

May wheat rose to a new high for the season, and other wheat months were firm. The advance attracted liberal selling. Commission houses bought on the belief that local stocks of red wheat will be considerably reduced by recent export sales.

Trading in corn was light, with prices mixed. Some export houses bought the May, and there was further scattered buying with little selling pressure. Receipts were small.

Oats also were mixed. Buying in the distant months was encouraged by continued winter weather. Commission houses were on both sides of the market, and prices were mostly firm.

Soybeans firmed early, as meals and oils moved higher. Commission houses and local traders bought. An announcement that the CCC will continue to sell government-owned beans at 20 cents above federal price supports encouraged traders.

Outside markets were mostly steady.

Market Scores Moderate Rise In Routine Trading

Gains running to more than 4 points in pivotal steel and electronic issues helped the market score its seventh rise in the last 10 sessions.

Rails managed to recover a good part of Monday's decline with a gain of 0.57 to 144.55 in their average. The advance came chiefly on gains of 2½ in Norfolk & Western and nearly 2 in Nickel Plate. Both these carriers are involved in merger talks.

Steels featured gains of 5 in Youngstown and more than a point in Armco. Youngstown rose apparently on plans of the company to increase the authorized shares for a stock split. U.S. Steel tacked on a solid fraction. Lukens added nearly a point, helped by a prediction that sales would reach near-record levels this year.

Cities Service advanced a point in the oils in a report that profits increased sharply last year despite a decline in gross operating income and generally depressed conditions in the oil industry.

International Business Machines added 6 points to close at 431 in the electronics where General Time rose more than 5 and Zenith more than 4. American home products advanced 4 in the drugs and Reynolds Metals nearly 2 in the metals.

Turns To Yanks

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Roy Marcato, Alabama State publicity and information director, said he tried all over the South to get a Jefferson Davis costume to wear at a recent travel show—but he couldn't find one.

"Finally I had to get the costume from a Yankee firm in New York," he said.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) —Grain futures were widely irregular Tuesday as traders evened up prior to expiration of March contracts.

At the final bell wheat was up ¼ to 2½; corn off ¼ to up ⅜; oats off ⅞ to up 1¼; rye off ¾ to 3¼ and soybeans unchanged to off ¾.

Last-minute liquidation in rye and soybeans dropped prices from early firm levels. But the March wheat contract advanced 2½ cents a bushel.

May wheat rose to a new high for the season, and other wheat months were firm. The advance attracted liberal selling. Commission houses bought on the belief that local stocks of red wheat will be considerably reduced by recent export sales.

Trading in corn was light, with prices mixed. Some export houses bought the May, and there was further scattered buying with little selling pressure. Receipts were small.

Oats also were mixed. Buying in the distant months was encouraged by continued winter weather. Commission houses were on both sides of the market, and prices were mostly firm.

Soybeans firmed early, as meals and oils moved higher. Commission houses and local traders bought. An announcement that the CCC will continue to sell government-owned beans at 20 cents above federal price supports encouraged traders.

Outside markets were mostly steady.

Gusty Winds, Heavy Snow Plague Area

Garrett Schools May Resume Tomorrow

Winds, with gusts up to 45 miles per hour, combined with heavy snowfall yesterday to plague most of the tri-state area with a full-scale blizzard in the first days of spring.

The high winds caused drifting that blocked many highways in Garrett County and parts of West Virginia and Pennsylvania, and closed nearly all secondary roads throughout Western Maryland.

State Police reported highways west of Frostburg "very hazardous" with drifting snow and near zero visibility. Chains were recommended, but police urged motorists to travel only in extreme emergencies.

State Roads Commission and Garrett County road crews were out in force with all available equipment, fighting the drifting waves of snow which were whipped into blinding fog by the wind.

Snow Closes Schools

Over three inches of new snow fell yesterday in Garrett County before the storm began to abate about 10 p. m. This brought the total snowfall to nine inches in the past three days in Garrett and residents once more are faced with the task of digging out of snow which is three to four feet deep.

Willard Hawkins, superintendent of Garrett County schools, said the schools will be closed again today, but added he hopes to resume classes on Thursday. Too many small country roads which school buses use are closed.

Frostburg got its share of snow, with the SRC estimating at least four inches, which created bad visibility and drifting conditions.

Temperatures in Garrett County ranged from a low of 18 to a high of 24 degrees yesterday. At nightfall the mercury registered 22 degrees and was falling.

Are Hard Hit

Cumberland had sunshine most of the day with heavy snow flurries. R. R. Golden, weather observer reported that .06 of an inch of snow was recorded in the city during the day, with gusts of wind up to 45 miles per hour. Temperatures rose from a low of 25 degrees to a high of 33. At 6 o'clock last night the mercury registered 29 degrees.

The snowstorm dumped up to eight inches on Preston and Tucker counties in West Virginia, with many secondary roads in higher elevations closed. Conditions were reported bad on U. S. 50 on Allegheny Front. Four inches of new snow fell yesterday at Skyline on Allegheny Front and three inches were reported at Mt. Storm.

The Western Maryland Railway said 10 inches of snow fell at Thomas, W. Va., bringing to 30 inches the accumulation on the ground there.

City's Planning Program Will Be Discussed

Cumberland's planning program will be discussed at a meeting of the Mayor and Council and officials of the State Planning Department here tomorrow at 3 p.m.

The meeting was arranged by James J. O'Donnell, director of the department, at the request of Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

Some time ago, Mayor Keech advised Mr. O'Donnell that the City of Cumberland was interested in the possibility of securing an Urban Planning Assistance grant, and later extended an invitation to department officials to discuss with the City Council the city's planning program.

Mr. O'Donnell has advised that Frank J. Vidor, director of the Baltimore Regional Planning Council, and Martin E. Casey, of the State Planning Department staff, will be here Thursday at 7:30 p.m. to meet with the newly organized Allegany County Planning Commission and can meet that afternoon with city officials.

He said he was unable to attend due to a commitment in Washington that day, but assured Mayor Keech that Mr. Vidor and Mr. Casey can provide the assistance and guidance the city requires in its planning program.

Escapees Captured

Two escapees from the Maryland Training School for Boys who fled from the school Monday were recaptured late Monday night by State Police and were returned to the school. They were identified as Jerry Burkett, 14, of Reisterstown, and John Beeman, 15, of Lonaconing.

Room For The Snow Water

The lake backed up by the Savage River Dam is seen here at the lowest mark it has been permitted to reach since it was placed in service in 1952. The level of the dam has been dropped about 15 feet below normal level for late March to make room for the water which will pour down when the 14-18 inches of packed snow in the 105 square mile watershed melts. The timberline, which can be seen above the level of the lake, is the normal high water mark for the spring and summer seasons. The snow on the watershed will not create a flood hazard, as it can all be stored in the reservoir.

Letter Appeals Used To Spur Plant Campaign

Leaders Cite Job, Payroll Picture

Letter appeals have been mailed to some 100 business and professional people of this area urging participation in a plan to help finance the construction of a proposed shoe factory in Hyndman.

The appeals were made by Garland L. Johnston, chairman of the industrial promotion committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, and were sent only to people whom solicitors were unable to contact personally.

Means 450 Jobs

He stressed that if the Cumberland area is fortunate enough to secure the plant, it will put 450 people to work.

This, he said, would mean a $1,500,000 payroll which, turning over seven times a year, would mean about $10,000,000 of new money to be spent here.

The problem right now, Mr. Johnston said, is to raise $30,000 of "equity" money needed to complete financing of a $350,000 factory building.

Team captains for the fund drive have been working for about 10 days and are doing well, according to Robert C. Peterson, manager of the Chamber.

Team captains for retail and attorney drives, he said, have submitted good reports. Plans call for wrapping up the campaign Friday.

Deadline Is Near

The job must be done soon, Mr. Johnston stresses, as the firm which is considering locating in this area hopes to break ground for the building by April 1.

Officials said solicitors have been asked why Cumberland area people should help put up a plant in Hyndman, which is located in Pennsylvania about 14 miles from here.

The solicitors have been explaining that jobs will be available to Allegany County people and that industrial leaders believe that about half of the 450 jobs will be filled by Allegany County people.

B&O Runs Tests On Oil Separation System Here

Progress on the project was reported when Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum witnessed running tests of the facility which has been built in the yards back of the B&O Round House.

The installation will remove oil from wastes and, when completed, will permit the B&O to route its industrial wastes to the city sewage treatment plant.

Wastes from the plant cannot be treated by the city, at present, since any oil in the lines would slow down the digestion of sludge.

School Board Grants Use Of Facilities

The Allegany County Board of Education has approved the use of certain school facilities by outside groups, according to Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

Permission was given the Girl Scout Council for use of the Cresaptown Junior High School auditorium on Wednesday, March 30. Approval also was granted for use of the Beall High School baseball diamond by the Frostburg Merchants baseball team next summer.

18 Give Blood For County Boy's Heart Operation

The 3½-year-old stepson of a Kelly-Springfield Tire Company worker underwent delicate open heart surgery yesterday at University Hospital in Baltimore and 18 donors from the Cumberland area gave blood to the youngster in a spontaneous contribution to help the boy regain his health.

Ricky Troutman, son of Richard L. Troutman, Cumberland, and Mrs. Charles Cole, Flintstone, was born with a "hole" in his heart. Sunday, he was taken to Baltimore to undergo the surgery required to repair the opening.

His stepfather, Charles Cole, a Kelly worker, appealed to the Health Research and Services Foundation of County United Fund for assistance to care for the youngster.

Through efforts of the foundation and members of the family, the tire company, the Celanese Corporation of America, and Local 26, United Rubber Workers of America and others, a group of citizens was recruited to donate blood for the youngster during the operation.

The Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and the Rubber Workers Union decided to share expenses of transportation for the group which went to Baltimore yesterday, leaving Cumberland at 4 a. m. by automobile, to supply the much-needed fresh blood for young Ricky.

The blood donors included Alva C. Lewis, president of the rubber workers union, Clyde O'Baker, Walter Durbin, George Holler, James Shanholtz, Gerald Young, Ellis Garlitz from the Kelly and the boy's stepfather.

From the Amcelle plant where the child's grandmother works came John Rorick and Mary Best. Members of a group from the Flintstone area included Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Heckert, Edward Hansrote, Miss Elsie Henry, Mrs. Grace Roberts, Homer Deneen, Damon Wright, and completing the group was Joseph O'Neal from Cumberland.

Hospital attendants last night said the lad is "holding his own," although he will be on the critical list for the next 72 hours.

Serviceman Sends Anonymous Gift To United Fund

A check for five dollars, contributed to County United Fund by an unnamed serviceman somewhere in the world, was received yesterday at CUF headquarters, Col. Randolph Millholland, area chairman of the USO, a CUF participating service, said last night.

Col. Millholland pointed out that over 1,000 area GIs receive the benefit of CUF at USO installations throughout the world.

"Many parents of service men have USO in mind when they make their annual contributions to CUF," he said, "and apparently this GI, wherever he is, decided to show his own appreciation to the folks at home by designating that his gift to the Navy's 1960 United Fund Campaign be sent to County United Fund."

The check was sent here by Commander R. P. Spence, SC, USNR, area treasurer, 1960 United Fund Campaign, Naval Activities, Norfolk, Va., who said only that it came from "naval activities and fleet units."

Col. Millholland said that April has again been designated as USO month throughout the United States.

Legion Plans Meeting On Pension Law

An open meeting will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion home, Harrison Street, in the interest of veterans and their survivors.

Fred H. Anderson, commander, said the meeting is being called to discuss the new Veterans and Veterans Widows Pension Act which becomes effective July 1.

Samuel Weston, local VA officer, will answer questions on provisions of the law. He will also distribute literature on the new law.

Mr. Anderson said all widows of World War I and II and the Korean war who have not applied for benefits should attend, along with area members and veterans.

Differences between the old and new pension laws will be outlined.

The new pension program, officials said, applies particularly to veterans of World War II and Korea.

Bruce Picture Added To Group

A photograph of the late Oliver H. Bruce Jr., who was an associate judge in Allegany County Circuit Court from September 14, 1948, until December 2, 1950, has been added to the collection in the second floor corridor at the Court House here.

Judge Bruce was appointed by then Governor William Preston Lane and served until present Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris qualified on December 2, 1950, following his election the previous month to a 15-year term.

Treated For Injuries

Tawes Favors College Plan 'In Principle'

FSTC Would Become University Branch

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes said Tuesday he endorses "in principle" a recommendation that Frostburg, Salisbury and Towson State Teachers colleges be converted into branches of the University of Maryland.

He said he is asking university authorities to draw up plans for the conversion for possible submission to the 1961 General Assembly.

The recommendation was made recently by a study commission on higher education appointed by the governor at the request of the General Assembly. The 12-member commission was headed by Edwin Warfield III, Howard County farmer and publisher.

It proposed that the three teachers colleges become "centers" of the state university "with continued emphasis on the preparation of elementary school teachers and with the addition of course offerings leading to the bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees."

As a second phase, the commission recommended establishment of university centers for commuting students from each of the following areas: Washington and Frederick counties, Central Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland.

Opposes Big State Board

Department of Education officials opposed the proposal that three of the five teacher colleges now under the department's jurisdiction be taken over by the university. They expressed fear it would cripple the state's present teacher-training program.

Advised of the governor's statement endorsing the Warfield Commission recommendations, State School Superintendent Thomas G. Pullen Jr. said the recommendations still were under analysis by department officials. The analysis will be followed by a report to the Board of Education, he said.

"The governor wrote me he would be glad to discuss this with me when our report is finished," said Pullen, adding that further comment would be withheld until that time.

Bowie and Coppin State Teachers colleges are not involved in the proposal.

Explains Views

Gov. Tawes, in his statement endorsing the Warfield Commission report, said:

"The commission became convinced that the number of Maryland students enrolled as full-time undergraduates will double

After a talk with Ambassador Wang Ping Nan of Red China, Beam issued a statement saying he had told the Chinese diplomat that "The government and people of the United States felt deep revulsion and indignation at this inexcusable act."

Beam told Wang China's charges accusing the bishop of spying for the United States government were completely false.

Bishop Walsh, of Cumberland, Md., who headed a Maryknoll Mission in Shanghai, was sentenced last week to 20 years in prison as a spy and conspirator against the Communist regime in China.

The embassy statement said Wang "attempted to defend the Chinese Communist action by repeating the charges of espionage which had already been broadcast by the Chinese Communist radio."

Beam described these charges as a "tissue of lies" and accused the Chinese Communists of "complete indifference to humanitarian principles and callous disregard of universally accepted standards of international law and behavior among civilized nations."

He noted that for 17 months Bishop Walsh had been held incommunicado and that repeated requests about his health and the charges against him had remained unanswered in the U. S.-Chinese talks in Warsaw.

The Warsaw talks between the two ambassadors are the only official contacts between the United States and Red China, who have no diplomatic relations. The meetings began here in September, 1958, during a shooting crisis over the island of Quemoy. They are successors to a previous series of U.S.-Chinese talks in Geneva dealing with Americans imprisoned in Red China.

Tuesday's session was scheduled a month ago, well before last week's announcement from Peiping that Bishop Walsh had been sentenced to 20 years in prison at Shanghai. He was accused of spying against the Communist regime.

Commissioners Approve More County Budgets

Defense, Assessment Gain Sanction

Three more departmental budget hearings were conducted yesterday afternoon by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and two budgets were approved by the commissioners after certain figures were reduced.

First budget approved yesterday afternoon was the Civil Defense budget, following a discussion with Director William G. Barger. The result was a $1,500 reduction in Mr. Barger's requests from $7,825 to $6,325. The approved total, $275 more than for the current fiscal year, was reached by reducing matching funds in the budget from $3,500 to $2,000.

This reduced budget was approved by the three commissioners with the understanding that Mr. Barger may appear before the board in the future for any supplementary funds considered necessary. This is the first time in six years that the Civil Defense budget has tended upward. In 1955-56 it was $13,247, exactly what Mr. Barger sought. In subsequent years the budget has been $11,200, 1956-57; $9,000, 1957-58, both exactly what was asked; 1958-59, $6,310, some $2,000 less than was sought, and 1959-60, $6,050, exactly what was sought.

Transfer Affects Costs

Approval was given by Commissioners John J. Rowan, John T. Mason and William A. Wilson to an assessment department budget of $47,082.10, which was $5,442 less than had been sought by Supervisor of Assessments Somerville Nicholson. However, $3,000 of the decrease was the result of the transfer of Mrs. Anne Perdew's salary to the tax collector. Mrs. Perdew was hired last spring as an employe in the office of Tax Collector William B. Orndorff but has been working in the assessment department's addressing division since the tax payment rush subsided last summer.

A decision on raises proposed by Mr. Nicholson for employes in his department was deferred. The assessment department budget for 1959-60 is $39,016.82.

Considerable paring in the proposed budget of Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein also was done but no final figure for his budget was agreed upon. There appeared to be two principal uncertainties. For one thing, no one appeared to know how much a new furnace for the jail would cost. For another, the commissioners appeared to like the idea of creating a new position of clerk at the jail, thereby freeing the deputies of Sheriff Haberlein for more patrol duties around the county.

Sought Big Increase

Sheriff Haberlein had requested $66,183 for 1960-61, which is $23,984 more than the $42,199 available during the current fiscal year. The last figure discussed yesterday afternoon by Commissioner Mason for the sheriff's budget was $53,933 but that was not approved.

Commissioner Wilson, the lone Republican, pointed out that Sheriff Haberlein is operating within his budget this year. Figures prepared by Mrs. Johanna N. Sills, county auditor, showed that he had spent $25,037.09 through March 1 or about $800 less than par for two-thirds of the fiscal year. The sheriff said that one help has been a reduction in the number of prisoners. He had estimated an average jail population of 30 prisoners in figuring the budget last year but it has been about 21.

Approval also was given to the $20,100 budget of the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners. This budget does not figure in the county levy because this department is more than self-sustaining. No direct tax money is used for its finances. They come out of the liquor license fees which average about $40,000 a year.

Man Is Missing

Elmer Seiler, 57, of 211 Oak Street, has been reported missing from his home since March 10, city police said yesterday. The man is 5 feet, 10½ inches tall, has black hair and blue eyes. He was wearing black trousers, dark glasses, and a dark jacket. He was reported missing by his daughter, Mrs. Richard Brown, 202 Laing Avenue.

City Drops 2,219 From Voting Rolls

Five-Year Ballot Review Completed

A total of 2,219 citizens have been dropped from the voting rolls of the City of Cumberland this month for failure to vote during the last five years.

Mrs. Ruth Mangus, registration clerk, said this leaves 9,349 registered voters—the smallest number since the city instituted its continuous registration system in 1951.

Notices to all of those who were removed from the books were mailed late last week. They say that in accordance with the city's Continuous Registration law "your name has been removed from the file of registered voters and your eligibility to vote has been cancelled for failure to vote for five calendar years."

The notices add that such persons must re-register before they are eligible to vote in city elections.

No Record Found

The more than 2,000 names were taken from the books after no record could be found that they voted in the special election held in 1957 on a proposal to raise the city's tax limit from $1.25 to $1.50 or in the primary or general elections of 1958, when the present Mayor and Council was elected.

The voting rolls have been dropping steadily since the registration plan was adopted.

In 1951, city voting books contained the names of over 21,000 voters. During that year, the number dropped to about 15,000 as election officials eliminated the names of those who had not voted for five years.

Since then, thousands of other names have been removed as official lists of deaths are furnished to the department and as the five-year voting check is made each year.

Judge Marks

Registration office staffers have been busy this week as citizens call concerning the action or come in to get back on the books.

Some of those dropped report that they voted, but it is usually found, during the discussion, that the ballots were cast in a county election.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery said that if voters watch election judges make notations on their records they might eliminate the question of whether or not they voted.

He said the voter should make sure that the election judge marks a "V" in a block on the voter's record to indicate that the person has voted.

The only records the city has are on the binder which comes from the polling place, the poll book in which the voter's name is written and the machine card bearing his name which must go on voting machines before a vote can be cast.

All of the cards come back to the City Registration Office, which checks the machine card and poll book against binders before transferring a vote to the station's permanent record.

Clothing Class Starts Today At East Side

A six-week course on clothing construction and fitting problems will begin at 1 p. m. today at East Side School under the direction of Mrs. Marie Farrell.

Miss Ruth C. McColly, supervisor of home economics in the Allegany County public schools, said that the class primarily for women in the East Side School area originally was scheduled to begin last Wednesday but the heavy snowfall resulted in a postponement.

As a result of last week's postponement, the sixth and final session will not be held until April 27. This is the last of the once-a-week sessions planned for the current school year. Mrs. Farrell also is operating a class at Eckhart School.

Man Pleads Guilty To Petty Larceny

Donald R. Warnick, 20, of Barton, pleaded guilty to petty larceny yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court and received a six-months sentence to the Maryland House of Correction.

Magistrate Paul Barnett suspended the sentence and placed Warnick on probation for two years. One of the magistrate's stipulations for probation was that Warnick get a haircut, shave and get cleaned up and appear before the court again on Monday.

The youth was involved in a series of thefts in the Lonaconing area in which six other youths are being held for grand jury action. Warnick pleaded guilty to the theft of a battery and some wrenches valued at about $50.

Fractures Arm

PPG Plans To Rebuild Glass Tank

Furnace Will Be Shut Down Today

At 6 a.m. today, the Cumberland plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company will shut down its glass making furnace and grinding and polishing departments for the first major repair since beginning operations in 1956.

The cold repair, during which time the glass tank and associated machinery will be rebuilt, will take an estimated six weeks. The majority of the plant's 553 hourly employes will be used throughout this period to assist with the repair work.

The first glass was rolled from the local factory on September 8, 1956 and except for the strike period last year, has operated continuously for over three and a half years. The shut down will require about five days to complete and consists of draining out the molten glass and cooling the furnace down.

After rebuilding, it will take about three weeks to bring the furnace back up to operating temperatures. Production will commence again early in May.

The wareroom department will operate at reduced capacity through most of this period, only shutting down for major repairs during the last few weeks, according to J. B. White, plant manager.

City officials were advised of the rebuilding program yesterday, since it will affect the amount of city water used by the plant.

The plant is now using over 2,000,000 gallons of city water daily, and water consumption will be reduced to about a third of the usual amount until early in May.

Dutch Kitchen Theft Trial Set Today

William L. Edwards, former Cumberland man who has been residing in Baltimore, will be tried at 2 p. m. today in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of petty larceny, the state's attorney's office said yesterday. Several motor vehicle charges also face the man.

Edwards was arrested early Sunday morning as he was allegedly taking money from a coin machine in the Dutch Kitchen, 20 South Lee Street. He was caught in the establishment by J. C. Kenny, LaVale, a bartender.

City Police investigated the case and reported that Edwards had $16.75 in quarters in a paper sack in his pocket when he was taken into custody by Sgt. E. Gordon Hite and Officers Wayne S. Swauger, Joseph Harvey and Joseph P. Nelson.

Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator, said Edwards denied breaking into the establishment, stating he had fallen asleep in a booth and was locked in the place.

A battered coin machine from which the quarters apparently were taken was confiscated by police. Mr. Lilya stated that police officers could find no visible signs of a forced entry.

Authorities said the bartender reported Edwards tried to get away when he was caught in the building and that the bartender struck him over the head with a tire tool which the intruder apparently had used to pry open the coin machine.

Warrants dated April 14, 1958 also charge Edwards with failure to obey a summons issued in a motor vehicle case and with operating a motor vehicle on a revoked or suspended license, police said.

Edwards is being held in City Jail.

Suspended Sentence

Elwood Hardman, 108 Shaw Place, yesterday was found guilty of assault upon his wife, at a hearing in Trial Magistrates Court. Magistrate Paul Barnett sentenced the man to 60 days in Allegany County Jail but suspended the sentence and placed him on probation for one year.

False Alarm

Births

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Venson E. Self, 512 B Street, LaVale, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dever, 213 West Second Street, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Kirby, Bedford Road, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Mellon, 722 Boorkfield Avenue, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Parker, 174 Baltimore Street, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Willison, 171 West Mechanic Street, Frostburg, a daughter Monday night.

Gusty Winds, Heavy Snow Plague Area

Garrett Schools May Resume Tomorrow

Winds, with gusts up to 45 miles per hour, combined with heavy snowfall yesterday to plague most of the tri-state area with a full-scale blizzard in the first days of spring.

The high winds caused drifting that blocked many highways in Garrett County and parts of West Virginia and Pennsylvania, and closed nearly all secondary roads throughout Western Maryland.

State Police reported highways west of Frostburg "very hazardous" with drifting snow and near zero visibility. Chains were recommended, but police urged motorists to travel only in extreme emergencies.

State Roads Commission and Garrett County road crews were out in force with all available equipment, fighting the drifting waves of snow which were whipped into blinding fog by the wind.

Snow Closes Schools

Over three inches of new snow fell yesterday in Garrett County before the storm began to abate about 10 p. m. This brought the total snowfall to nine inches in the past three days in Garrett and residents once more are faced with the task of digging out of snow which is three to four feet deep.

Willard Hawkins, superintendent of Garrett County schools, said the schools will be closed again today, but added he hopes to resume classes on Thursday. Too many small country roads which school buses use are closed.

Frostburg got its share of snow, with the SRC estimating at least four inches, which created bad visibility and drifting conditions.

Temperatures in Garrett County ranged from a low of 18 to a high of 24 degrees yesterday. At nightfall the mercury registered 22 degrees and was falling.

Are Hard Hit

Cumberland had sunshine most of the day with heavy snow flurries. R. R. Golden, weather observer, reported that .06 of an inch of snow was recorded in the city during the day, with gusts of wind up to 45 miles per hour. Temperatures rose from a low of 25 degrees to a high of 33. At 6 o'clock last night the mercury registered 29 degrees.

The snowstorm dumped up to eight inches on Preston and Tucker counties in West Virginia, with many secondary roads in higher elevations closed. Conditions were reported bad on U. S. 50 on Allegheny Front. Four inches of new snow fell yesterday at Skyline on Allegheny Front and three inches were reported at Mt. Storm.

The Western Maryland Railway said 10 inches of snow fell at Thomas, W. Va., bringing to 30 inches the accumulation on the ground there.

City's Planning Program Will Be Discussed

Cumberland's planning program will be discussed at a meeting of the Mayor and Council and officials of the State Planning Department here tomorrow at 3 p.m.

The meeting was arranged by James J. O'Donnell, director of the department, at the request of Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

Some time ago, Mayor Keech advised Mr. O'Donnell that the City of Cumberland was interested in the possibility of securing an Urban Planning Assistance grant, and later extended an invitation to department officials to discuss with the City Council the city's planning program.

Mr. O'Donnell has advised that Frank J. Vidor, director of the Baltimore Regional Planning Council, and Martin E. Casey, of the State Planning Department staff, will be here Thursday at 7:30 p.m. to meet with the newly organized Allegany County Planning Commission and can meet that afternoon with city officials.

He said he was unable to attend due to a commitment in Washington that day, but assured Mayor Keech that Mr. Vidor and Mr. Casey can provide the assistance and guidance the city requires in its planning program.

Escapees Captured

Two escapees from the Maryland Training School for Boys who fled from the school Monday were recaptured late Monday night by State Police and were returned to the school. They were identified as Jerry Burkett, 14, of Reisterstown, and John Beeman, 15, of Lonaconing.

Deaths

Appling, Mrs. Earl, 64, Hyndman, Pa.

Trimble, Minnie L., 51, of 309 Maryland Avenue.

Room For The Snow Water

The lake backed up by the Savage River Dam is seen here at the lowest mark it has been permitted to reach since it was placed in service in 1952. The level of the dam has been dropped about 15 feet below normal level for late March to make room for the water which will pour down when the 14-18 inches of packed snow in the 105 square mile watershed melts. The timberline, which can be seen above the level of the lake, is the normal high water mark for the spring and summer seasons. The snow on the watershed will not create a flood hazard, as it can all be stored in the reservoir.

Letter Appeals Used To Spur Plant Campaign

Leaders Cite Job, Payroll Picture

Letter appeals have been mailed to some 100 business and professional people of this area urging participation in a plan to help finance the construction of a proposed shoe factory in Hyndman.

The appeals were made by Garland L. Johnston, chairman of the industrial promotion committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, and were sent only to people whom solicitors were unable to contact personally.

Means 450 Jobs

He stressed that if the Cumberland area is fortunate enough to secure the plant, it will put 450 people to work.

This, he said, would mean a $1,500,000 payroll which, turning over seven times a year, would mean about $10,000,000 of new money to be spent here.

The problem right now, Mr. Johnston said, is to raise $30,000 of "equity" money needed to complete financing of a $350,000 factory building.

Team captains for the fund drive have been working for about 10 days and are doing well, according to Robert C. Peterson, manager of the Chamber.

Team captains for retail and attorney drives, he said, have submitted good reports. Plans call for wrapping up the campaign Friday.

Deadline Is Near

The job must be done soon, Mr. Johnston stresses, as the firm which is considering locating in this area hopes to break ground for the building by April 1.

Officials said solicitors have been asked why Cumberland area people should help put up a plant in Hyndman, which is located in Pennsylvania about 14 miles from here.

The solicitors have been explaining that jobs will be available to Allegany County people and that industrial leaders believe that about half of the 450 jobs will be filled by Allegany County people.

B&O Runs Tests On Oil Separation System Here

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is expected to place its oil separation facilities into service here soon.

Progress on the project was reported when Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum witnessed running tests of the facility which has been built in the yards back of the B&O Round House.

The installation will remove oil from wastes and, when completed, will permit the B&O to route its industrial wastes to the city sewage treatment plant.

Wastes from the plant cannot be treated by the city, at present, since any oil in the lines would slow down the digestion of sludge.

School Board Grants Use Of Facilities

The Allegany County Board of Education has approved the use of certain school facilities by outside groups, according to Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

Permission was given the Girl Scout Council for use of the Cresaptown Junior High School auditorium on Wednesday, March 30. Approval also was granted for use of the Beall High School baseball diamond by the Frostburg Merchants baseball team next summer.

18 Give Blood For County Boy's Heart Operation

The 3½-year-old stepson of a Kelly-Springfield Tire Company worker underwent delicate open heart surgery yesterday at University Hospital in Baltimore and 18 donors from the Cumberland area gave blood to the youngster in a spontaneous contribution to help the boy regain his health.

Ricky Troutman, son of Richard L. Troutman, Cumberland, and Mrs. Charles Cole, Flintstone, was born with a "hole" in his heart. Sunday, he was taken to Baltimore to undergo the surgery required to repair the opening.

His stepfather, Charles Cole, a Kelly worker, appealed to the Health Research and Services Foundation of County United Fund for assistance to care for the youngster.

Through efforts of the foundation and members of the family, the tire company, the Celanese Corporation of America, and Local 26, United Rubber Workers of America and others, a group of citizens was recruited to donate blood for the youngster during the operation.

The Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and the Rubber Workers Union decided to share expenses of transportation for the group which went to Baltimore yesterday, leaving Cumberland at 4 a. m. by automobile, to supply the much-needed fresh blood for young Ricky.

The blood donors included Alva C. Lewis, president of the rubber workers union, Clyde O'Baker, Walter Durbin, George Holler, James Shanholtz, Gerald Young, Ellis Garlitz from the Kelly and the boy's stepfather.

From the Amcelle plant where the child's grandmother works came John Rorick and Mary Best. Members of a group from the Flintstone area included Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Heckert, Edward Hansrote, Miss Elsie Henry, Mrs. Grace Roberts, Homer Deneen, Damon Wright, and completing the group was Joseph O'Neal from Cumberland.

In addition to the Cumberland group two Baltimore donors gave blood to the youngster yesterday.

Hospital attendants last night said the lad is "holding his own," although he will be on the critical list for the next 72 hours.

Serviceman Sends Anonymous Gift To United Fund

A check for five dollars, contributed to County United Fund by an unnamed serviceman somewhere in the world, was received yesterday at CUF headquarters, Col. Randolph Millholland, area chairman of the USO, a CUF participating service, said last night.

Col. Millholland pointed out that over 1,000 area GIs receive the benefit of CUF at USO installations throughout the world.

"Many parents of service men have USO in mind when they make their annual contributions to CUF," he said, "and apparently this GI, wherever he is, decided to show his own appreciation to the folks at home by designating that his gift to the Navy's 1960 United Fund Campaign be sent to County United Fund."

The check was sent here by Commander R. P. Spence, SC, USNR, area treasurer, 1960 United Fund Campaign, Naval Activities, Norfolk, Va., who said only that it came from "naval activities and fleet units."

Col. Millholland said that April has again been designated as USO month throughout the United States.

Legion Plans Meeting On Pension Law

An open meeting will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion home, Harrison Street, in the interest of veterans and their survivors.

Fred H. Anderson, commander, said the meeting is being called to discuss the new Veterans and Veterans Widows Pension Act which becomes effective July 1.

Samuel Weston, local VA officer, will answer questions on provisions of the law. He will also distribute literature on the new law.

Mr. Anderson said all widows of World War I and II and the Korean war who have not applied for benefits should attend, along with area members and veterans.

Differences between the old and new pension laws will be outlined.

The new pension program, officials said, applies particularly to veterans of World War II and Korea.

Bruce Picture Added To Group

A photograph of the late Oliver H. Bruce Jr., who was an associate judge in Allegany County Circuit Court from September 14, 1948, until December 2, 1950, has been added to the collection in the second floor corridor at the Court House here.

This reduced budget was approved by the three commissioners with the understanding that Mr. Barger may appear before the board in the future for any supplementary funds considered necessary. This is the first time in six years that the Civil Defense budget has tended upward. In 1955-56 it was $13,247, exactly what Mr. Barger sought. In subsequent years the budget has been $11,200, 1956-57; $9,000, 1957-58, both exactly what was asked; 1958-59, $6,310, some $2,000 less than was sought, and 1959-60, $6,050, exactly what was sought.

Transfer Affects Costs

Approval was given by Commissioners John J. Rowan, John T. Mason and William A. Wilson to an assessment department budget of $47,082.10, which was $5,442 less than had been sought by Supervisor of Assessments Somerville Nicholson. However, $3,000 of the decrease was the result of the transfer of Mrs. Anne Perdew's salary to the tax collector. Mrs. Perdew was hired last spring as an employe in the office of Tax Collector William B. Orndorff but has been working in the assessment department's addressing division since the tax payment rush subsided last summer.

A decision on raises proposed by Mr. Nicholson for employes in his department was deferred. The assessment department budget for 1959-60 is $39,016.82.

Considerable paring in the proposed budget of Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein also was done but no final figure for his budget was agreed upon. There appeared to be two principal uncertainties. For one thing, no one appeared to know how much a new furnace for the jail would cost. For another, the commissioners appeared to like the idea of creating a new position of clerk at the jail, thereby freeing the deputies of Sheriff Haberlein for more patrol duties around the county.

Sought Big Increase

Sheriff Haberlein had requested $66,183 for 1960-61, which is $23,984 more than the $42,199 available during the current fiscal year. The last figure discussed yesterday afternoon by Commissioner Mason for the sheriff's budget was $53,933 but that was not approved.

Commissioner Wilson, the lone Republican, pointed out that Sheriff Haberlein is operating within his budget this year. Figures prepared by Mrs. Johanna N. Sills, county auditor, showed that he had spent $25,037.09 through March 1 or about $800 less than par for two-thirds of the fiscal year. The sheriff said that one help has been a reduction in the number of prisoners. He had estimated an average jail population of 30 prisoners in figuring the budget last year but it has been about 21.

Approval also was given to the $20,100 budget of the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners. This budget does not figure in the county levy because this department is more than self-sustaining. No direct tax money is used for its finances. They come out of the liquor license fees which average about $40,000 a year.

Man Is Missing

Elmer Seiler, 57, of 211 Oak Street, has been reported missing from his home since March 10, city police said yesterday. The man is 5 feet, 10½ inches tall, has black hair and blue eyes. He was wearing black trousers, dark glasses, and a dark jacket. He was reported missing by his daughter, Mrs. Richard Brown, 202 Laing Avenue.

U.S. Lodges Strong Protest With China Over Trial, Sentencing Of Bishop Walsh

After a talk with Ambassador Wang Ping Nan of Red China, Beam issued a statement saying he had told the Chinese diplomat that "The government and people of the United States felt deep revulsion and indignation at this inexcusable act."

Beam told Wang China's charges accusing the bishop of spying for the United States government were completely false.

Bishop Walsh, of Cumberland, Md., who headed a Maryknoll Mission in Shanghai, was sentenced last week to 20 years in prison as a spy and conspirator against the Communist regime in China.

The embassy statement said Wang "attempted to defend the Chinese Communist action by repeating the charges of espionage which had already been broadcast by the Chinese Communist radio."

Beam described these charges as a "tissue of lies" and accused the Chinese Communists of "complete indifference to humanitarian principles and callous disregard of universally accepted standards of international law and behavior among civilized nations."

He noted that for 17 months Bishop Walsh had been held incommunicado and that repeated requests about his health and the charges against him had remained unanswered in the U. S.-Chinese talks in Warsaw.

The Warsaw talks between the two ambassadors are the only official contacts between the United States and Red China, who have no diplomatic relations. The meetings began here in September, 1958, during a shooting crisis over the island of Quemoy. They are successors to a previous series of U.S.-Chinese talks in Geneva dealing with Americans imprisoned in Red China.

Tuesday's session was scheduled a month ago, well before last week's announcement from Peiping that Bishop Walsh had been sentenced to 20 years in prison at Shanghai. He was accused of spying against the Communist regime.

City Drops 2,219 From Voting Rolls

Five-Year Ballot Review Completed

A total of 2,219 citizens have been dropped from the voting rolls of the City of Cumberland this month for failure to vote during the last five years.

Mrs. Ruth Mangus, registration clerk, said this leaves 9,349 registered voters—the smallest number since the city instituted its continuous registration system in 1951.

Notices to all of those who were removed from the books were mailed late last week. They say that in accordance with the city's Continuous Registration law "your name has been removed from the file of registered voters and your eligibility to vote has been cancelled for failure to vote for five calendar years."

The notices add that such persons must re-register before they are eligible to vote in city elections.

No Record Found

The more than 2,000 names were taken from the books after no record could be found that they voted in the special election held in 1957 on a proposal to raise the city's tax limit from $1.25 to $1.50 or in the primary or general elections of 1958, when the present Mayor and Council was elected.

The voting rolls have been dropping steadily since the registration plan was adopted.

In 1951, city voting books contained the names of over 21,000 voters. During that year, the number dropped to about 15,000 as election officials eliminated the names of those who had not voted for five years.

Since then, thousands of other names have been removed as official lists of deaths are furnished to the department and as the five-year voting check is made each year.

Judge Marks

Registration office staffers have been busy this week as citizens call concerning the action or come in to get back on the books.

Some of those dropped report that they voted, but it is usually found, during the discussion, that the ballots were cast in a county election.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery said that if voters watch election judges make notations on their records they might eliminate the question of whether or not they voted.

He said the voter should make sure that the election judge marks a "V" in a block on the voter's record to indicate that the person has voted.

The only records the city has are on the binder which comes from the polling place, the poll book in which the voter's name is written and the machine card bearing his name which must go on voting machines before a vote can be cast.

All of the cards come back to the City Registration Office, which checks the machine card and poll book against binders before transferring a vote to the station's permanent record.

Clothing Class Starts Today At East Side

A six-week course on clothing construction and fitting problems will begin at 1 p. m. today at East Side School under the direction of Mrs. Marie Farrell.

Miss Ruth C. McColly, supervisor of home economics in the Allegany County public schools, said that the class primarily for women in the East Side School area originally was scheduled to begin last Wednesday but the heavy snowfall resulted in a postponement.

As a result of last week's postponement, the sixth and final session will not be held until April 27. This is the last of the once-a-week sessions planned for the current school year. Mrs. Farrell also is operating a class at Eckhart School.

Man Pleads Guilty To Petty Larceny

Donald R. Warnick, 20, of Barton, pleaded guilty to petty larceny yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court and received a six-months sentence to the Maryland House of Correction.

Magistrate Paul Barnett suspended the sentence and placed Warnick on probation for two years. One of the magistrate's stipulations for probation was that Warnick get a haircut, shave and get cleaned up and appear before the court again on Monday.

The youth was involved in a series of thefts in the Lonaconing area in which six other youths are being held for grand jury action. Warnick pleaded guilty to the theft of a battery and some wrenches valued at about $50.

Fractures Arm

PPG Plans To Rebuild Glass Tank

Furnace Will Be Shut Down Today

At 6 a.m. today, the Cumberland plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company will shut down its glass making furnace and grinding and polishing departments for the first major repair since beginning operations in 1956.

The cold repair, during which time the glass tank and associated machinery will be rebuilt, will take an estimated six weeks. The majority of the plant's 553 hourly employes will be used throughout this period to assist with the repair work.

The first glass was rolled from the local factory on September 8, 1956 and except for the strike period last year, has operated continuously for over three and a half years. The shut down will require about five days to complete and consists of draining out the molten glass and cooling the furnace down.

After rebuilding, it will take about three weeks to bring the furnace back up to operating temperatures. Production will commence again early in May.

The wareroom department will operate at reduced capacity through most of this period, only shutting down for major repairs during the last few weeks, according to J. B. White, plant manager.

City officials were advised of the rebuilding program yesterday, since it will affect the amount of city water used by the plant.

The plant is now using over 2,000,000 gallons of city water daily, and water consumption will be reduced to about a third of the usual amount until early in May.

Dutch Kitchen Theft Trial Set Today

William L. Edwards, former Cumberland man who has been residing in Baltimore, will be tried at 2 p. m. today in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of petty larceny, the state's attorney's office said yesterday. Several motor vehicle charges also face the man.

Edwards was arrested early Sunday morning as he was allegedly taking money from a coin machine in the Dutch Kitchen, 20 South Lee Street. He was caught in the establishment by J. C. Kenny, LaVale, a bartender.

City Police investigated the case and reported that Edwards had $16.75 in quarters in a paper sack in his pocket when he was taken into custody by Sgt. E. Gordon Hite and Officers Wayne S. Swauger, Joseph Harvey and Joseph P. Nelson.

Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator, said Edwards denied breaking into the establishment, stating he had fallen asleep in a booth and was locked in the place.

A battered coin machine from which the quarters apparently were taken was confiscated by police. Mr. Lilya stated that police officers could find no visible signs of a forced entry.

Authorities said the bartender reported Edwards tried to get away when he was caught in the building and that the bartender struck him over the head with a tire tool which the intruder apparently had used to pry open the coin machine.

Warrants dated April 14, 1958 also charge Edwards with failure to obey a summons issued in a motor vehicle case and with operating a motor vehicle on a revoked or suspended license, police said.

Edwards is being held in City Jail.

Suspended Sentence

Elwood Hardman, 108 Shaw Place, yesterday was found guilty of assault upon his wife, at a hearing in Trial Magistrates Court. Magistrate Paul Barnett sentenced the man to 60 days in Allegany County Jail but suspended the sentence and placed him on probation for one year.

False Alarm

South End Fire Company answered a false alarm at 1119 Virginia Avenue at 5:12 p.m. yesterday.
